

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE OF NEW YORK.

No. 11.

IN SENATE,

JANUARY 7, 1902.

RESOLUTION

BY ALEXANDER HAMILTON POST No. 182, G. A. R., RELATIVE TO PRESIDENT McKINLEY.

HEADQUARTERS ALEXANDER HAMILTON POST No. 182,
DEPARTMENT OF NEW YORK, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, September 19, 1901.

To the Honorable Senate and Assembly of the State of New York:

Whereas, The world-renowned and world-honored statesman and hero, William McKinley, the late President of the United States, our revered chieftain, was stricken down by the hands of an assassin on the sixth day of September, 1901, at the time when he was extending the hand of friendly greeting to the American people, whom he loved and had devotedly served, and,

Whereas, While the prayers of all civilization ascended to the Supreme Ruler of the world that the life so foully and so mercilessly assailed might be spared, Providence overruled human desire, and on September 14th the life of William McKinley ebbed away, while the noble victim of ignorant malice breathed the divinely inspired sentiment uttered by that other immortal, the venerated Lincoln: "Charity for all."

Resolved, That the members of Alexander Hamilton Post unite in expressing the love and veneration they entertain for the memory of him who first won their esteem and confidence on the red field of battle, and ever after commanded their respect and faith by his nobility of character, steadfastness of purpose, and kindliness of disposition.

Resolved, That we denounce the foul crime and the wretched criminal which have deprived seventy-five millions of free people of their executive whom, by a solemn declaration recorded at the ballot-box, they had chosen to guide their national affairs for a second term of four years.

Resolved, That we denounce those conditions which inspired an irresponsible degenerate to the performance of the most dastardly deed which ever blackened the pages of history, and which conditions we declare to be:

The abuse of free speech;

Excesses of a licentious press;

Undesirable immigration, and

A dormant patriotism.

Resolved, That we appeal to the Legislature of the State of New York, the first State whose soil has been stained by the blood of a martyred President, to pass such laws as will make it possible to prosecute and punish the owners and editors of papers prostituted to the villification and abuse of public officials, and that will stop the publication of newspapers reeking with defamation of public and private individuals, of which class of papers the "Journal" of this city is the disgraced and degraded exemplar.

Further, That the Legislature make and declare unlawful all gatherings, addresses, publications, etc., for the dissemination of the doctrines of anarchy and provide ample penalties for violations.

Further, That the Legislature take into consideration plans for arousing, stimulating and perpetuating in the youth of the State an exalted patriotic sentiment. In the education of the youth and the development in them of a deep-rooted love of country and of liberty lies the future preservation of our institutions. In the light of an intelligent patriotism, illuminating the remotest corners of our fair land, the noxious, poisonous weed of anarchy must wither and die.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Honorable Senate and Assembly of the State of New York.

PETER TWOMLEY,
Secretary.

THOMAS T. W. MINER,
EDWIN A. HARTSHORN,
PHILIP B. LOW,

Committee of the Post.

STATE OF NEW YORK

No. 16.

IN SENATE,

JANUARY 21, 1902.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

RELATIVE TO

Trial Calendar in the City of New York.

STATE OF NEW YORK—EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,

ALBANY, January 21, 1902.

To the Legislature:

In my last message I made a suggestion for your consideration in relation to the exceedingly important matter of the speedy disposition of the large trial calendar in the city of New York, which now operates as a denial of justice in many cases. It was as follows:

“Your attention is also called to the overcrowded condition of the calendars in the First and Second Judicial Departments, and action by the Legislature to remedy the same should be taken. Perhaps the solution of the problem might be through a constitutional amendment providing for the temporary designation of county judges to trial terms, either within or without their own judicial department, until such calendars shall have been cleared."

My reasons for suggesting a temporary rather than a permanent addition to the working force of the Supreme Court were founded upon information leading me to believe it likely that the volume of litigation is to decrease rather than increase in the near future. That aside from actions for personal injuries, that are said to engross more than one-half of the time of the trial courts, the trial work in most of the counties of the State has diminished. Indeed, it is said that actions of that character are solely responsible for the choked condition of the calendars in the great cities. Recently the parties affected have wisely manifested a disposition to agree upon the compensation to be awarded those actually wronged rather than leave it to a jury to assess the damages. Already some important railroad interests have adopted the policy of settling at once whenever their legal advisers are able to give assurance that the claimant will probably succeed upon a trial. It is said by some who have tried the experiment that such a policy inures to the benefit of a railroad or other corporation before a jury in the disgracefully frequent contests with fraudulent claimants, and the prediction has been made by careful and experienced men that the results promised by experiments now under way will soon lead all corporations to adopt this policy. If that prophecy be verified, our present judicial force will soon be able to do all the work there will be to do with ease. And any permanent additions to the number of judges would unnecessarily add to the public burdens and damage the quality of the judiciary, for it is the hardworking judge that becomes the best and most useful judge.

The recent and successful experiment of adding to the working force of the Court of Appeals by authorizing the Governor to designate Supreme Court justices to sit in that court until the calendar be reduced to 200 cases (a condition that I am informed will be reached during the present year) suggested to my mind the idea of recruiting temporarily the trial force of the Supreme Court in the same way, viz.: By designation by the Governor of judges from the next lower round of the judicial ladder, just as the designation of Supreme Court judges to serve in the Court of Appeals was from the next lower round of the judicial ladder. It did not occur to me that all county judges were qualified for that work any more than it ever seemed to any one else that all Supreme Court judges are fitted for work in the Court of Appeals, but there are some county judges in this State prepared both by education and experience to sit in the Supreme Court, just as there are some Supreme Court judges prepared by education and training in the Appellate Division to do good work in the Court of Appeals. And it seems to me that any man whom the people of this State should honor with an election to the office of Governor, would select from the best—not from the least efficient of the county judges. The history of the past justifies such an assumption. .

In case of vacancy in the Court of Appeals, the Supreme Court or other courts, the executive appoints until the people can elect a successor. . When the Appellate Divisions were created, the Governor designated which of the Supreme Court judges should serve in those courts, and whenever a vacancy occurs, upon him devolves the duty of designating a successor. The people a few years ago so amended the Constitution as to authorize the Governor to create a second division of the Court of Appeals, and the executive upon whom that duty devolved created a court with seven members, four of whom belonged to the party opposed to him, and three to his own party, although he might have created the court from members of his own party had his sense of duty permitted it; and quite recently an executive redesignated a member of the Appellate Division who belonged to the opposite party when a selection could have been made which would have made a majority of the court of like political faith with himself.

Mistakes have been made in the past and will be in the future in the designation of judges, but they have been comparatively so few as to justify the confidence the people have reposed in the Governor in respect to the judiciary. And as the power to appoint judges in all cases of vacancy, and the power to designate them under certain conditions to sit in courts other than their own, has in all instances been conferred upon the Governor, it would seem to be in accord with the will of the people that the executive should exercise that power in the event that some members of the county court bench should be temporarily assigned to duty in the trial branch of the Supreme Court.

These reasons prompted that feature of my message with which this paper opens, and it seemed to me to suggest the only avenue for temporary relief (which is quite likely to turn out to be all the relief needed).

But a still better method has been pointed out by the press, viz.: That the remedy is in the hands of the jury trial judges of New York city, that they have only to increase their working hours to cause the calendar to rapidly melt away until they shall be abreast of their work. Attention is called to the fact that the jury trial judges of the borough of Manhattan only hold court $4\frac{1}{2}$ hours a day for five days in a week, which certainly suggests that it would not be a very severe strain upon them either mentally or physically to increase their court hours 25 per cent. until the calendar shall have been greatly reduced. So I invite your attention to this most recently proposed remedy in the hope that some way may be found to put it into effective operation, either through the voluntary action of the judges themselves or through some plan devised by you, in the event of which it would seem wiser to substitute such plan for the one originally proposed by me.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Women at Hudson, N. Y.

HUDSON, N. Y., October 1, 1901.

To the Legislature of the State of New York:

The Board of Managers of the House of Refuge for Women herewith submit their report for the year ending September 30, 1901, it being the fourteenth in order.

There have been no changes in the Board of Managers nor among the important officers during the year. All the managers have been regular in their attendance at the monthly meetings of the Board. In July the entire Board gave two whole days to a thorough investigation of all sides of the institution work. Individual members, and particularly the local members, have given much time to the direct management of the institution business.

The work of the institution has gone forward steadily and quietly. So far as we can learn, this House of Refuge has never been in as good a condition, and it is the general testimony of those long familiar with it that there has never been among the inmates so encouraging and hopeful a spirit. This right attitude and earnest desire on their part to do well is the essential basis of any reformatory work. Managers and officers have steadily and definitely worked to secure this end, and it is a source of great satisfaction that decided improvement has been shown.

Late in the year 1900 the appointment of a parole agent was made. She has visited paroled girls at their homes and those employed at service; has visited places to which it was designed to parole girls; has brought the work and purpose of the institution to the attention of committing magistrates; has supervised the correspondence and reports of paroled girls, and has made preliminary arrangements for an investigation of the present condition and character of all former inmates. The work in this direction is of the greatest importance to the success of the institution. The period of parole has the greatest effect in shaping the future life of the discharged woman, and during its continuance she needs constant encouragement, supervision and advice; while frequently information secured about the home in which she is located makes it apparent that a transfer to more favorable conditions is essential.

In this connection it may be said that during the year we have been even more careful than formerly in granting parole to be certain that the candidate was prepared for release and that the proposed home was suitable.

The work of grading and classifying inmates has been entirely completed. Every inmate is now in a certain grade, and each cottage contains only those of a certain grade. Promotions are made according to regular, impartial rules. Each young woman knows that release depends upon her own conduct.

The cooking, sewing, dressmaking and laundry schools have gone on steadily and satisfactorily. The institutional history of the candidates for parole shows a remarkable increase in the number of those who have had the practical advantages of all or nearly all of these classes, and we trust that soon it may be said that every girl released has had a complete course of training in these useful occupations. The common schools, in which instruction in the English branches is given, are not in a satisfactory condition and are open to much improvement. Our attempts in this direction have been unsuccessful because of the difficulty of securing competent teachers. The positions, compared with those in the public schools, are very unattractive.

The greatest advance in the line of instruction has been the commencement of the classes in physical exercise. Among physicians and experts in reformatory methods there is practical unanimity in emphasizing the value of regular gymnastic training as a part of reformatory treatment. The hard work in domestic occupations and gardening, which makes an important part of the life of our inmates, does not meet the need of the more stimulating and all around training of the gymnastic class. All inmates who are physically capable now receive such instruction regularly. We are, however, much hampered in this work by the lack of a proper gymnasium.

We have completed the work of returning to their mothers, or the proper local poor relief officers, the children formerly kept in the orphan asylums at our expense after the mother's discharge. This expense had, until the present Board abolished it, been an improper charge upon the institution from the early days of its history, and had been growing in amount as the number of children left upon its hands increased. Although the change has been in operation only a part of the year our payments for the board of children decreased by the sum of $1,516. In the year ending September 30, 1900, the total expense under this item was $2,696.54. For the year ending September 30, 1901, the expense was $1,180.59, but the greater part of this latter sum was incurred during the first four months of the fiscal year before the change had been made. The expense for the care of children during the last eight months of the year ending September 30, 1901, making deduction of one bill that should have been presented earlier, was $232.09. If we had, then, been able to make this change at the beginning of the fiscal year, our expenditures for the care of children in orphan asylums would have been about $350 for the entire year, as contrasted with $2,696.54 of the previous year, being a saving of about 87 per cent.

During the year the superintendent, with the aid of the resident physician and the teacher of cooking, has arranged and put into effect a classified dietary. During the period in which this dietary has been in use the cost of the food per capita has been kept at about the same point as in the previous year in spite of the increased cost of provisions. Furthermore, there is no doubt that this dietary provides a larger amount of nourishment than was formerly given.

The discipline of the institution has been excellent during the year. The number of serious offenses has decreased as the time and thoughts of the young women have been occupied very fully with housework, gardening, industrial and day schools, and physical training. The number of punishments has decreased correspondingly. The better condition in this respect has rendered possible a decrease in the severity of the punishments inflicted. The year's progress has proven conclusively that not only is it possible to manage such an institution without corporal punishment, but that the abolition of the strap helps to create a different spirit among officers and inmates.

Among the minor improvements may be noted the formation of a cooking class, under the instruction of the teacher of cooking, among the officers who have charge of the cooking in the different residence buildings. It is hoped that this will result in securing a better degree of efficiency in their work.

The work of the physical renovation of the plant has gone on slowly but steadily. The grading and drainage of the grounds has been completed. Extensive and much needed repairs have been made to the heating and lighting system. The equipment for fire protection has been made reasonably complete, with the exception of the provision of fire-escapes upon the administration building. In the cottages the renewal of the plumbing and erection of steel ceilings and the repairs of plastering are overcoming the generally dilapidated appearance of the buildings, due to the original bad construction. The guard house for punishment cases is, at the date of this report, October 1st, not completed. In some respects the work has not been satisfactory, and the contractor has been ordered to make changes to conform to the specifications. Although possibly the attempt to construct the building with a somewhat inadequate sum of money may make it less useful than it otherwise would have been, we expect that it will prove a decided addition to the institution equipment.

During the year there has been a decided decrease in the population of the institution. This has been due partly to the opening of the third woman's reformatory in the State at Bedford; partly to the decrease in the maximum term of sentence under an amendment made to the law in 1899; partly to some falling off in the commitments made by the justices within this district, and partly to the discharge of certain inmates, who, committed under an older law, had been here more than three years—the maximum provided by the amendment of 1899. In these cases there seemed to be little hope of improvement from the reformatory work, and it seemed unfair to retain them for purely punitive reasons for the full term possible. With the approval of the State Board of Charities the Board has released those inmates committed under this long term provision as rapidly as suitable homes could be found for them. The result of these causes has been a decrease in the average population from two hundred and seventy-nine for the year ending September 30, 1900, to an average population of two hundred and forty-three for the year just ended. The average population for the coming year will be lower still. The effect of this decided decrease is to increase considerably the expense per capita for the maintenance of the institution, and leaves unoccupied some of the accommodations provided.

The per capita expense of this institution, like that of other similar institutions, is high for several reasons. In the first place, each of the three women's reformatories is small in population. This necessarily means a much larger per capita expense, since certain salaries and expenses are much the same whether there are a score or several hundred inmates. In the next place, reformatory treatment is much more expensive than purely custodial treatment. The educational work costs considerable. It is also essential that the women officers directly in contact with these young women should be women of intelligence and character. Their influence is perhaps the most important and direct that can be brought to bear upon those under their charge. Any decrease in the present salaries would mean the loss of some of these who have proven themselves most successful. The hours of work are excessively long, the work in many ways is unattractive, and it is difficult, even with the present conditions, to secure the right class of women. If these institutions are to be maintained as reformatories and not as prisons, there can be little decrease in the expenditures for teachers, for the expenses of the industrial and common schools, and for the salaries of the women who have direct relations with the inmates in the cottages. A third reason for the high per capita cost is found in the original plan of the institution, namely, the cottage system. There is no question that this is in many respects the best system for work of this character. It makes possible a better classification, separation of the worst from the comparatively innocent, but it makes impossible certain economies that would easily be secured were there central kitchens, dining rooms and steam laundries. For the above reasons mainly the per capita cost is high, and with the decreasing population will continue to increase. As we have indicated above, we have made certain important savings in the board of children, and when the prices of provisions become normal, in the cost of food. We see very little opportunity for further saving provided the institution is to continue to do the work for which it was planned. If it is thought desirable to change it into a prison, a great saving can be made. The only other method of securing a reduction in the per capita cost would be by increasing the population, either by consolidating some of the present institutions or by having committed to the institution more of those who are now sent to the jails and penitentiaries, or more of that increasing number who are sent to private reformatories, but at public expense.

Complete control over every cent of our expenditures is, by law, vested in the Comptroller. The conscientiousness and, as we have felt at times, the severity with which this control is exercised are a guarantee that no extravagance and waste of money exist. Both the quantity and price of every purchase must be approved in advance. In deciding whether approval shall be granted to any proposed expenditure the Comptroller is guided by the regular reports of the quantities on hand and by the customary consumption of the article. The regular and unannounced visits of the inspector of his department, who examines with most minute care the need for each doubtful expenditure, are a further guarantee of economical administration.

So far, also, as the staff of officers and their compensation are concerned, the Board of Managers and the Superintendent have no control. Chapter 383 of the Laws of 1899 established a commission for the grading and classification of salaries of employees in the charitable institutions. The report of this commission, which went into effect January 1, 1901, was based upon a thorough investigation of the conditions at each institution. The Board of Managers and the Superintendent now have absolutely no power to raise a salary or to appoint an additional officer without the approval of the Commission, of which the Comptroller is a member. These general regulations make it quite certain that little or no unnecessary expenditure occurs, and should there be such, the responsibility would fall equally upon the Comptroller's department.

A considerable part of the appropriations asked for are necessary to keep in ordinary repair the buildings which were originally very poorly constructed. The hospital is an old and entirely unsuitable wooden building. The appropriation of a small sum will provide quite satisfactory accommodations for the gymnastic classes. In the opinion of the State Architect, it is very desirable that an additional appropriation be made for a sewage disposal plant, in order that proper disposal of the sewage be made instead of pouring it unpurified into the Hudson river.

We ask for the following appropriations for the coming year:

1. For maintenance.....	$66,000 00
2. For hospital.....	20,000 00
3. Reappropriation of $993.80, unexpended balance of appropriation of $1,000 provided in chapter 294 of the Laws of 1900, "for arrangement of upper room in the industrial building for physical exercise and for necessary apparatus and additional stairs, $1,000".....	993 80
And a new appropriation for the arrange- ment of gymnastic facilities in the industrial building	1,000 00

And for plastering in cottages 5, 6 and 7..	2,000 00
5. For an additional appropriation for the deaden- ing of the walls of the guard-house.....	1,500 00
6. For a coal shed and retaining wall for the pro- tection of the same.....	1,500 00

INCREASE IN 1901 ASSESSMENTS OVER 1900.

As disclosed by the rolls, the assessed value of the property in this State in 1901, compared with the year previous, is shown thus:

Real Property.		Personal Property.
1901	$5,168,645,983	1901	$702,257,115
1900	5,093,025,771	1900	672,715,708
<hr/>		<hr/>
Increase	$75,620,217	Increase	29,541,412

Total increase during one year in assessed wealth of the State, $105,161,629.

COUNTY VISITATIONS AND STATE EQUALIZATION.

In 1901 one-half the counties of the State were officially visited, as made mandatory by the law of 1896. In the report to the State Board of Equalization, upon pages following, are enumerated the counties visited, comparison of the assessment-roll totals of 1900 with those of 1899, explanation of the variation in those totals, and some comment germane. The visitations, fixing of county percentages, and State equalization table have to do with a volume of five billions in values. The special franchises aggregate two hundred and fifty millions. The local assessments, county percentages and equalization are discretionary and arbitrary.

The direct levy upon the counties for State purposes was slight in 1901. It is anticipated, at this date, that the constitutional requirement of a small exaction for canal bonded indebtedness may be satisfactorily provided for without any direct levy whatsoever in 1902, thus obviating necessity for a State equalization table. The character of the visitations may this year be varied to more urgency for fair equalization as between tax districts by supervisors, and instruction of assessors in the General Tax Law, as varied by recent enactments, along lines of local bearing.

APPEALS FROM COUNTY EQUALIZATION; AND LEGAL RESIDENCE.

The legal representatives of parties to appeals in Suffolk and Westchester counties have been notified to appear at the office of this Board upon the 28th instant for submission of arguments.

At joint request of opposing counsel, this Board adjourned without date a sitting fixed at Newburgh, for November 21st last, to take testimony in the appeals of the city of Middletown against the board of supervisors of Orange county and the equalizations of 1899 and 1900. The request was granted upon representation that the differences would probably be composed amicably by the December, 1901, session of the supervisors of that county. This Board is unofficially advised that such desirable termination did not ensue, and that hearing and decision will now be asked.

Notice of an appeal by the town of Preble from an equalization made by the board of supervisors of Cortland county was filed December 23d last.

The Board has, by correspondence, determined the legal place of residence, for taxation purposes, of several owners of personalty, where conflict with assessors has arisen, as made obligatory by section 8 of the Tax Law.

PURPOSES TO WHICH TAXES PAID IN 1900 WERE APPLIED.

Appended is a tabulation, by counties, exhibiting taxes levied upon all assessed property for State, county, town, city, village and school purposes for the year 1900. This statement is compiled from the figures reported by local tax authorities, upon requests therefor from this Board. It is the first table of its kind to appear in the annual reports of this Department, and presents statistics of interest. It discloses that the total of $121,336,090.80 paid in taxes in 1900 was for the purposes named in the sums following, viz.:

City	$68,258,888 79
Local schools.....	24,142,724 16
State	11,819,713 24
County	10,424,590 12
Town	3,808,346 98
Village	2,881,827 51

The per capita column, based upon population, is worthy some study. While a few of the villages have not yet reported, the figures as given are believed to be substantially correct.

SUGGESTED CHANGES IN GENERAL TAX LAW.

It is to the General Tax Law of 1896 that the following relate:

Section 53 provides for the correction of errors by boards of supervisors, in any county, of property erroneously assessed or omitted. It is submitted that authority should be given either to the board of supervisors, to this Board, or to some board, to promptly correct errors in assessments; and it is equally important that power should be given, upon presentation of proofs, to increase as well as decrease assessments, in order that property neither escape nor be unjustly burdened by reason of errors or omissions that may occur in the vast labor incident to the making and copying of assessment rolls. In this connection quotation is made from the Governor's latest annual message:

"The desire to exceed the debt limit leads to overvaluation, particularly in large municipalities, which the unfortunate property owner is powerless to correct, except through the tedious delays of law. Fairness should be the basis for the imposition of all taxes, and the State Board of Tax Commissioners should enforce the provision against excessive, as well as low, assessments. The Legislature should amend by general law the powers of the State Board, so as to make it a reviewing court to investigate and correct inequalities in the matter of assessments, and thus become not only a mediator, as between counties of the State, but also serve to protect the rights of individuals in each locality. I recommend such action."

POLE-BRANDING.

The Board recommends a legislative requirement, under sufficient penalty to insure compliance, directing the owner company to burn into every electric light, trolley, telegraph and telephone pole bearing two or more wires, in characters distinctly legible and not less than one inch long the name or initials of the company owner of such pole, together with the name of the owner of the wires strung upon such poles, and the number of such wires owned by each user of each pole; each impression to be burned into the wood to a depth of not less than one sixty-fourth of an inch. To any legislator who has endeavored to establish the ownership of poles or wires, for any purpose, nothing beyond suggestion will be required to enlist his advocacy of this proposition. Assessors are wholly unable to do their duty in connection with this rapidly increasing form of property.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TOWN LINE HARDSHIP.

Section 10 provides that a farm or lot divided by a town line shall be assessed to the owner in the district in which he resides; or to the occupant if the owner is a non-resident. Many objections have been made to this Board and much correspondence has occurred relating to the injustice permitted by the terms of this section. Frequently a farm lying in two townships is assessed in the town having the smaller portion. Again, by purchase, or foreclosure of mortgage, adjoining land in neighboring towns is withdrawn from the assessment roll of one town and added to that of another, thereby placing an additional burden upon the remaining property of the one town. It would appear that justice requires all lands in a town to be liable for all taxes in such town; and it is recommended that some corrective action be taken, although it is recognized that inconvenience, if no other disadvantage, might flow to the assessed from such correction.

WHOLESALE CHANGES OF ASSESSORS UNDESIRABLE.

The terms of local assessors should not expire simultaneously. A plan whereby not more than one rural assessor may enter a board annually would be advantageous. Not infrequently boards are encountered all three members of which are absolutely innocent of their duties; and without comprehension of plain requirements of the Tax Law. Any roll emanating from such a board is likely to be invalid; and liable to disjoint the financial calculations of a tax district, if questioned in court.

INSUFFICIENT PER DIEM OF RURAL ASSESSORS.

The pay of the town assessor is $2 per diem, as the rule. In Monroe county—the only exception recalled—the per diem is $3. In the towns of the county named an exceptionally excellent class of town assessors is prevailed upon to serve. In that county also the assessors meet periodically with experienced Supervisors' Clerk Bastable, for study, discussion and mutual instruction, with gratifying results, as evidenced by every examination of their rolls. Three dollars per day would not be excessive pay to attach to this most important of local offices in the smallest township. Satisfactory assessments are worth fair hire. An invalid roll may involve much litigation and expense. Many rolls fail to comply with the statutory requirements. More adequate compensation must tend to attract the service of the more qualified servants. Ill-paid assessors may not be the invariable equivalent of faulty rolls; but the work cannot be too well done, and is not likely to be overpaid. A uniform per diem of $3 for rural assessors would be, in our opinion, justifiable increase of town expenditure, since the period of assessors' service is limited to a small portion of a year.

GROWTH OF LEGALLY EXEMPT TOTALITY.

Reports from the cities of this State exhibit an aggregate exemption of $723,344,841 in 1900, and of $761,737,483 in 1901; substantially all realty. This gain to the tax immune list, thirty-eight millions in a single year, makes significant the adoption by the people, last fall, of the constitutional amendment proscribing special legislative exemption acts, as recommended to them by your honorable body. Classes of property may be hereafter exempted generally; but no member or members of any class.

A provision expanding requirement of reports of exempt property from all subdivisions of the State would seem desirable, since many large institutions are located outside of city limits.

SPECIAL FRANCHISE TAXATION IN AID OF LOCALITIES.

During 1901 this Board made 3,591 special franchise valuations, aggregating $256,150,765; a decrease in number of 1,156, and in amount of $10,051,994 from the figures of 1900 reported last year. This decrease is principally due to the effect of chapter 490 of the Laws of 1901, eliminating street and highway crossings of less than 250 feet in length from special franchise assessment. It is a decrease which has been substantially covered by the local assessors, so that slight loss to assessment rolls in the aggregate should result therefrom.

The labor of examining reports by the Board began in January, 1901, and continued, with hearings upon tentative valuations, and with the fixing of final valuations, as other official work permitted, to October 1st, the time specified by statute for the certification of final special franchise valuations to the clerks of the cities of Albany, Rensselaer, Yonkers, Mount Vernon and New Rochelle—the latest certifications for the year—the newly erected cities of Cortland and Oneida being, as yet, unsupplied by the Legislature with dates for certification.

In addition to the making of tentative or provisional valuations and hearing oral complaints, proofs and arguments thereon, the Board made examination, investigation and comparison of more than 1,200 proofs and objections filed in affidavit form, before the fixing and certifying of final valuations.

A statement appears upon pages following disclosing, by counties, cities and townships, the valuations fixed by this Board in 1901 upon the utilities enjoying use of public thoroughfares as rights of way. Such valuations are the product of the second year's operation of the locally beneficent law of 1899. Those second year valuations attest ampler information concerning properties treated than prevailed the initial year.

The making has now begun of tentative special franchise valuations for the grievance hearings and final valuations for the local assessment rolls of 1902. The reports of the corporations, as the basis for this work, have been made more promptly and fully, with few exceptions, for this third year than they were in either of the two prior years.

LITIGATIONS.

Upon the special franchise valuations for 1900, 278 writs of certiorari were issued against this Board. Upon the valuations made for 1901, 221 writs were procured and served upon this Board, and by it transmitted to the Attorney-General. Returns to 200 of these writs have been made by the Attorney-General upon information supplied to him by this Board. Other returns are being prepared as expeditiously as possible. These 500 litigations involve much clerical and other labor.

Forty-seven of these cases have been tried and argued before Referee Robert Earl, former chief judge of the Court of Appeals, and await his report to Justice Herrick, who appointed him. Ex-Chief Judge Charles Andrews of the Court of Appeals has been appointed referee to review the valuations of the Manhattan Elevated Company's property made by this Board. As yet no evidence has been adduced before this referee.

SETTLEMENTS MADE.

Appended is a list of settlements of cases, which were in litigation, made by the Attorney-General with the concurrence of this Board. The valuations thus adjusted amount to $26,786,692.68 and the taxes thereon, calculated at the average tax rate of 2½ per cent., paid into local treasuries, $602,700.57. The settlements agreed upon and ordered by the court, not yet consummated, and agreements upon settlements awaiting fulfillment by the parties and court confirmation will increase these figures.

It may be fairly assumed, from the small number of appellants or plaintiffs actually in court, compared with the large number of writs issued, that the bulk of the writs have been issued to secure possible contingent benefit accruing from any adverse judicial construction.

It will be noted that the total number of writs is but a small percentage of the total number of valuations. The bulk of the writs against the second year's valuations were secured by the parties to the first year's writs.

PAYMENT OF SPECIAL FRANCHISE TAXES.

As will be seen, from a list by counties herewith, payment of special franchise taxes, without protest or legal resort, has been general in the State at large. It has involved much effort to obtain the information set forth in this annexed schedule; which schedule, and the other schedules and tabulations appending, we ask be considered as part of this report. They present data of reference value not easily obtained.

Approximately, in 1900, $1,021,997.23 in State, county, town, city and village taxes were paid into local treasuries upon the valuations found by this Board for that year upon special franchises. This sum does not include school and improvement (sewer, pavement, etc.) taxes or any specially voted taxes upon the same valuations collected in cities and villages, it being the case that special franchise assessments are not fruitful for State, county and general local taxation alone; but are likewise contributory to every special local purpose as well. From such information from local authorities as we have been able to glean and assemble it is estimated conservatively that, outside of New York city, taxes have been paid upon fully 80 per cent. of the special franchise valuations made in 1900. In the rural counties, where taxpaying has become a patriotic practice, payment has been made upon these assessments, almost without exception, without quibble or protest. There is no reason why payment of these taxes should not be enforced everywhere since writs do not operate to stay collection.

At this date collection of taxes by most city receivers and town collectors is yet in progress, for the second time, upon special franchise assessments.

Pending judicial determination of the validity of this law, recommendation of any amendment thereto is not herein made.

WORKING OF NEW PROVISIONS.

We report that, in attainment of uniformity of assessment and denial of deduction for individual indebtedness to shareholders, the bank taxing amendment of last winter gains two commendable ends. It is believed, owing to these two advantages, that the flat rate of 1 per cent. will secure benefits to communities throughout the State comparable with the yield of the previous larger local rate under the two former handicaps.

The small house-owner is gratified by the beginning made in permission to savings bank surpluses to share with his home in contribution to the common purse. The trust companies, by deduction of exempt securities and 10 per cent. under the law of manufacturing corporations, had shrunk to factors scarcely missed from the rolls of smaller communities. Their present aid in reducing direct State tax perhaps nearly, if not quite, compensates for their previous local relation.

The smallness of the direct State tax in 1901 now being collected in the State at large comes as a great relief, "the shadow of a great rock in a weary land," to taxpayers, whose local loads are overheavy. Disappearance of a direct State tax in 1902 will cause rejoicing throughout the commonwealth. The mass of taxpayers gratefully approve maintenance of State government from indirect revenue.

DEPARTMENT WORK AND FINANCES.

This Department is now efficiently organized and systematized. Its force has become experienced and capable. Owing to the tax legislation of last winter, the correspondence of 1901 has been extensive, and the issuance of blank forms and of circular letters of instruction considerable.

Of the appropriation made by the Legislature for its maintenance for the fiscal year ending October 1, 1901, this Board reports an unexpended surplus, in the hands of the Comptroller, of $19,231.36. The apprehended cost of expert testimony in the special franchise litigations, contemplated in the estimate made, was not experienced.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE E. PRIEST,

J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT,

LESTER F. STEARNS,

State Board of Tax Commissioners.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Minutes of the State Board of Equalization, at its meeting held at the office of the Secretary of State, in the city of Albany, on the 3d day of September, 1901.

Present: S. Fred Nixon, Speaker of the Assembly; John T. McDonough, Secretary of State; John C. Davies, Attorney-General; John P. Jaeckel, State Treasurer; George E. Priest, Tax Commissioner; J. Edgar Leaycraft, Tax Commissioner; Lester F. Stearns, Tax Commissioner.

Absent: Timothy L. Woodruff, Lieutenant-Governor; Erastus C. Knight, Comptroller; Edward A. Bond, State Engineer and Surveyor.

On motion of Mr. Priest, Speaker Nixon was made chairman.

On motion of Mr. Priest, Herbert L. Austin was made secretary.

For the State Tax Commissioners, Mr. Priest read and presented the following report:

To the State Board of Equalization:

The State Board of Tax Commissioners submit herewith the table of equalization prepared by it of real valuations for the counties for 1901.

The entire assessed value borne upon the assessment rolls of 1900, of this State, as reported to this Board, is:

REPORT OF THE STATE BOARD OF TAX COMMISSIONERS. 19

Realty	$5,093,025.771
Personalty subject to State taxation.....	593,895.907
	<hr/>
Total	$5,686,921,678

An increased total of $225,618,926 over last year.

The above increase in realty assessment results largely from the special franchise valuations certified to the local rolls of 1900 by the State Board of Tax Cmmmissioners. The sum of these special franchise valuations was $170,140,857 in increase of former local assessment of the same properties in use in the streets and public places. This $170,140,857, deducted from the $281,432,712 reported increase in realty assessment leaves $111,291,855 as the increase made by the local assessors, mostly upon new buildings and betterments. The increase of assessment in this State in 1900 over 1899 was made wholly upon realty. The increase upon property in this form was $281,432,712; but is diminished to an apparent gain of $225,618,926 by the loss of $55,813,786 in personal assessments. These figures are eloquent in explanation of the existing status of real estate in the Commonwealth:

	Total assessment of realty.		Total assess- ment of per- sonalty subject to State taxa- tion.
1900	$5,093,025,771	1900	$593,895,907
1899	4,811,593,059	1899	649,709,693
	<hr/>		<hr/>
Increase	$281,432,712	Decrease	$55,813,786
	<hr/>		<hr/>
From Increase on real.....			$281,432,712
Deduct decrease on personal.....			55,813,786
Apparent increase on both in 1900 over 1899.....			$225,618,926

The enlarged total assessment and the decreased sum required to be raised by direct taxation for State purposes will reduce the taxation upon the table now before you to the smallest sums exacted from the counties in recent times.

The disproportion between the assessment of realty and personalty, as above shown, has advanced from $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 to $8\frac{1}{2}$ to 1. Retention upon their rolls by local assessors of personal assessments is annually becoming a task more and more difficult of achievement. Neglect or laxity of local assessors is not to be inferred as accounting, to large extent, for this condition. Non-residence, deduction for alleged indebtedness, share-holdings in properties supposedly assessed at distant "home offices," savings bank sanctuary, and legally exempt securities are the main avenues through which fugitive personalty makes flight.

During 1901 official visitations, mandatory by statute, have been made by this Board to the following counties:

Cattaraugus,	Oneida,
Chenango,	Otsego,
Clinton,	Queens,
Delaware,	Rensselaer,
Dutchess,	Richmond,
Essex,	Rockland,
Franklin,	Schenectady,
Fulton,	Schoharie,
Greene,	Schuyler,
Hamilton,	Steuben,
Kings,	Suffolk,
Lewis,	Sullivan,
Livingston,	Ulster,
Monroe,	Warren,
Nassau,	Washington.
New York,

These visitations have been more than perfunctory compliance with the law's mandate. Earnest and faithful effort has been made in each instance to fulfil the spirit as well as the letter of this requirement.

Assessors and supervisors are coming to attach more significance each year to these annual conferences with them, and they now respond in practically full representations, from each tax district, at the meeting places.

Owing to some complexity in the assessment laws, and varying court interpretations of the same, county associations of assessors, which are virtually assessors' schools of training, modeled upon the one now in operation in Monroe county, would, if general, prove of value.

We have examined into the manner of assessment in the counties of this State, questioned the assessors and supervisors under oath, investigated sales, their nature and effect upon assessment, interrogated other than officials in various localities, and in all ways fairly open to us endeavored to glean information enabling us to judicially accord to each county its just rating or percentage, which rating is the basis of the table now before you for disposition.

Representatives, legal and lay, individual and in delegations, from several counties, have appeared before us at our office in quest of advantageous ratings. All these have been patiently heard, and all that they have urged has been fairly weighed.

We commend the equalization table herewith presented to your consideration and adoption.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE E. PRIEST,

J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT,

LESTER F. STEARNS,

Dated Albany, September 3, 1901.

On motion of the Attorney-General, the report of the Tax Commissioners was accepted; and the equalization table hereto attached, as prepared by that Commission, was unanimously adopted.

On motion of Mr. Priest, the Board adjourned sine die.

H. L. AUSTIN,

Secretary.

STATE OF NEW YORK.

No. 19.

IN SENATE,

January 20, 1902.

Report of the State Racing Commission for 1901.

To the Legislature of the State of New York:

The State Racing Commission, in accordance with law, herewith presents its annual report for 1901.

It has to report that the favorable outlook to which it called attention one year ago was realized beyond expectations. Public patronage exceeded what had been anticipated; the racing associations more than fulfilled the suggestion for improvement which they then made, and the breeding industry enjoyed more profitable returns than ever before in its history. The widespread general interest in the sport of the racing of thoroughbreds enabled the associations to offer not only premiums of greater value than obtained in other years, but justified them in planning great stakes for the future—a movement of vastly more possibilities for good, so far as the breeding interests are concerned, than would be the mere increase in value of premiums for races which are designed from day to day.

Such stakes are the mainstay of the breeding industry. They are framed so that their running or the decision of them is two, three and four years in advance, and, in the accumulations of entries and obligations, their value becomes greater than it would be possible for any racing association to offer for any single race, the nominations to which would be made within one season. The undertaking of these stakes becomes possible, as a business proposition, only after the stability of the sport has been attested by years of experience, and after it has been demonstrated that public patronage will justify it. The years 1895 and 1896 were, to a large extent, experimental. The law under which racing in this State now is governed and regulated had not been tried sufficiently to make the establishment of such stakes in those years, except to a limited extent, a matter of business prudence. And this was so from the standpoint of the breeders equally as it was from that of the racing associations. They were not in a position to obligate themselves by nominations so far in advance.

But your Commission, at all times, was steadfast in its advocacy of such stakes, and, as the opportunity for their establishment developed, encouraged and advised their creation by racing associations. And, if the progress and success of last season is more gratifying in one aspect than in almost all others, it is that it has furnished the means which will justify the associations in enlarging stakes already in existence and in creating others.

Your Commission would emphasize its position that, in its judgment, the duty of regulation is paramount to all others, if the end and aim of racing, namely, the improvement of the breed of horses and the upbuilding and continued maintenance of the industry of breeding is to be kept in sight at all times. Public sentiment aids in government; public patronage, under normal conditions, is indicative of whether that government is efficient, but in matters of regulation the industry, which is the basis on which racing has been built, must, at all times, be primarily considered. And that which best conserves and most fully sustains the interest of that industry is, of right, of the first importance.

The stability of any industry in which so much capital is invested as there now is in that of breeding thoroughbred horses is the first essential, and this stability may be best maintained by the recognition not so much of many racing plants as of those about whose permanency as racing organizations, and of whose purpose in offering generous premiums and in establishing and maintaining important stakes there can be no reasonable doubt. Not merely should the programmes of such associations be, in themselves, a guarantee of permanency, but, so far as possible, these very racing plants should be situated where they would be least liable to be crowded out by the trend of population in large centers, or where, because of the rising value of their properties, there would be the inducement to dispose of these properties for other uses.

Your Commission would view with disapproval the establishment of racing plants so close to large cities as to suggest land ventures, making the properties earn dividends as racing plants until they would become valuable for other purposes, and then have them disappear. Any such suggestion of necessity would have a disquieting effect on the industry, and therefore it is that the Commission considers stability of site, equally as stability of purpose, of the utmost importance, and at no time so great as now when our large cities are spreading over such vast areas. Any racing plant that from its very situation suggests its absorption or its change of use within a few years, or any association which does not carry with its plans a reasonable assurance of an appreciation of the relation of racing to breeding, is not desirable.

It would be practically impossible for any association operating such a plant to plan a series of stakes covering an indefinite period of time, and such stakes are necessary, not merely for the building up of the sport to the standard which public judgment demands and public patronage merits, but for the breeders, that they may have set for them a guide by which they may measure the value of the blood lines of their stock, and that, by reason of these stakes which grow to be our classics, the industry of breeding horses for them may be profitable.

Overnight races we must have, but no racing association should be permitted to confine itself to these overnight races. It cannot do so and fill any needed or desirable place in the racing system in this State. Advancement and stability is what should be aimed at rather than indiscriminate expansion. Your Commission would emphasize its position of opposition to any racing which is entered into exclusively as a speculation, and which has no purpose, as expressed in its programme, to aid in the general scheme of bettering the breeding industry, but of merely holding contests of speed without reference to anything other than the decision of these contests, and the profits that may come to the promoter. Racing to be successful must be conducted on business principles, but racing, as a business, and without reference to its effect upon breeding or upon the standard demanded, is not to be encouraged.

Therefore it is that the Commission will not look with favor upon applications from associations that merely possess racing plants or properties upon which racing may be conducted. There must be something other than that to entitle them to a license. There must be, from the site selected, some fair guarantee of the continued existence of the property as a racing property, and there must be, from the programme designed, evidence of the intention of the associations to conduct racing so that not only will it be a recreation for the public, but that it will inure to the benefit of the breeding industry. To grant licenses to every association which might design a racing venture without reference to other than financial competency, would be not only subversive of the ideas underlying racing in this State, but would interfere seriously with the present plans which are doing so much to raise the thoroughbred in value as well as in esteem. ✦

There is in this State a well defined path of progress along which racing associations at present holding licenses from your Commission are working and must continue to work. All other associations which may apply for license must attest a willingness and ability to do likewise under all conditions, and the Commission will primarily consider all such applications with reference to the industry of breeding. There now is a continuous chain of large and carefully thought out stakes that are designed to be classics of our turf — every one of which not only induces the breeder to strive for it, and the owners to prize it, but which distinctly appeals to the public from a sentimental as well as a sporting view point. These stakes more than anything else attract patronage and determine the prices of the thoroughbred stock that comes to our market. Just in proportion as these stakes grow in value and in numbers, and as they become more alluring by reason of memories associating famous horses with their former winnings, just in that ratio progresses the desire of sportsmen to win them, and in like measure progresses the prices which the breeder receives for horses eligible to contest in them. It is these stakes which fix values for the breeders. It is the stability of racing associations which justifies investments by the breeders. It is careful regulation of all racing associations, and a continued direction of them and their purposes forward that brings to them that public patronage which makes these stakes a possibility.

It is the fact that it is racing in this State which makes the market and fixes the price for the entire horse-raising industry of the country. It is here that the greatest prizes and most desirable horses are to be won, and here that are shipped the best products of all the great breeding establishments.

In this State race courses are being constructed or their existence perpetuated at a time when there does not seem any good reason for their establishment other than a pure desire to make money.

Your Commission feels that the State should, under the circumstances, put some restraint upon the indiscriminate establishment of race courses, especially when their only excuse for existence is the obtaining of money.

Your Commission therefore recommends that it be given such power of passing upon the advisability of the incorporation of associations designed for the holding of running race meetings and steeplechase meetings, as has the State Railroad Commission within its jurisdiction over the construction of railroads. In other words, that the incorporation of an association for the purpose of holding running race meetings and steeplechase meetings shall not exist as a general privilege. Your Commission will respectfully present a bill for the correction of evils, which it believes will be created if such indiscriminate incorporation of such racing associations, as a general privilege, shall not be regulated.

It is a bill which your Commission suggests is necessary for the proper government and regulation of the sport, is essential to the best interest of the breeder, and a safeguard against the investment in such enterprises of money by persons who have no knowledge of the situation, and who may enter upon such speculations without any appreciation whatever of the reasons why racing is encouraged by statute, or of the absolute necessity existing for its regulations, if it is to attain the aim for which it is intended. This is essentially and particularly true of associations designed for the holding of running races and steeplechases, and it is with reference to them exclusively that your Commission presents its bill, and respectfully requests the attention of the legislature.

Your Commission is pleased to report that the gross receipts of the associations which conducted running race meetings and steeplechase meetings under the license of the Commission, enabled them to turn into the State Comptroller for the benefit of the agricultural societies, under the five per cent. tax provided for in the Racing Law, $128,581.50, the largest sum in any one year during the history of racing in this State. This sum makes a total of $538,389.07 paid in for this purpose since the enactment of the law in 1895, which provided for the establishment of a State Racing Commission. It also is gratifying to your Commission to report that, exclusive of the value of plate which accompanied some stakes, there was paid out to the owners of winning horses the sum of $1,434,406, also the largest sum by more than $120,000, competed for since 1895.

In the past five years there has been paid out as premiums to the owners of winning horses in this State, a sum, in excess of $5,875,000, and the success of the past season assures for 1902, not only premiums in advance of 1901 but, as pointed out, a justification for the framing of great stakes that could not otherwise have been undertaken with any assurance of their being carried to a successful completion.

The State tax of five per cent. on gross receipts paid by the racing associations holding licenses from the Commission during 1901, was as follows :

The Westchester Racing Association	$21,609 39
The Coney Island Jockey Club	32,016 39
The Brooklyn Jockey Club	29,673 64

The Brighton Beach Racing Association	$20,380 59
The Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses	13,630 61
The Queens County Jockey Club	11,270 88
Total	$128,581 50

Every one of these associations had increased receipts in 1901 over 1900, as the following comparison of the amounts paid in under the five per cent. obligation shows :

	1900.	1901.
The Westchester Racing Association..	$16,152 06	$21,609 39
The Coney Island Jockey Club	24,744 75	32,016 39
The Brooklyn Jockey Club.....	23,747 39	29,673 64
The Brighton Beach Racing Associa- tion	15,365 57	20,380 59
The Saratoga Association for the Im- provement of the Breed of Horses..	6,862 41	13,630 61
The Queens County Jockey Club.....	8,227 76	11,270 88
Total.....	$98,671 53	$128,581 50

In the last previous report which your Commission had the honor to present, it called attention to the fact that there was such a rearrangement of racing dates that, while the actual number of days assigned to Saratoga were fewer than they had been in other years, they had been so disposed that there was no clash between them and dates assigned to other racing associations. The programme prepared by the Saratoga association was one of great merit, and the figures quoted in the preceding paragraph is a justification, it is suggested, not only for the course pursued, but also for the enterprise of the association. Its gross receipts in 1900 were $137,248.20 and in 1901 they were $272,612.20.

In this connection your Commission would express its satisfaction with the result of the dates allotted in 1901, and would point to the general prosperity of the sport and of the breeding industry and of the gratifying increase in revenue which has come to the agricultural societies of this State by reason of the prosperous condition of the turf. The season consisted of 177 days, in which in all 1,011 races were run, and the sum of $1,434,000 competed for was divided among the owners of 344 different stables. In 1900, the $1,310,000 raced for was divided among 274 stables. In view of these facts your Commission can see no valid reason why there should be material change in the schedule or plans.

Each year the racing associations are adding to their plants and devising better appointments for the comfort of their patrons. One association is building practically an entire new course at a large outlay, and others are adding substantial improvements to their grounds and buildings. All these are in keeping with the spirit of the ideas which underlie the law. They do not necessarily add to the revenues of the associations, but they are a substantial contribution to pleasant environment—something which adds greatly to the enjoyment of the recreation which racing affords, and which is an undoubted attraction to the public. These material improvements mean the expenditure of large sums of money, and indicate a willingness on the part of the associations to respond in generous measure to the patronage of which they are the beneficiaries.

Last year your Commission commended the planning of stakes exclusively for fillies and also the division of produce stakes, so that the colts might compete in one division for a certain percentage of the stake and the fillies in another. The ideas were a success practically with the almost immediate result that breeders obtained more for their fillies in the public sales ring than they had for many years before. The exclusion of colts from certain races and the creation of special stakes for fillies, not only enlarged the earning capacity of the fillies, thus giving them a greater market value, but it also enhanced their reputation for breeding purposes and pointed out with greater certainty to the breeder the relative value of the individual among her sex. The first of these great filly stakes were run last year, and there is every reason to believe that all the racing associations will pay larger and more intelligent attention to this important end of racing. It is important not merely in that it increases the value of the filly for market purposes, but as well in that it aids the breeder in intelligent selection. Except in instances, which are rare, wherein a filly is of such superior class as to stamp her great among all of her year, whether colts or fillies, it really is the only practical test through which her relative value may be demonstrated and her future place in the thoroughbred world be indicated with any reasonable assurance.

Long distance racing, too, which was commended by your Commission, proved successful and popular. There were more than the usual number of casualties which interfered to some extent with its thorough trial, but enough was shown to indicate not only popular favor with the general public, but with horsemen as a class. Such races, with horses carrying weight for age, must develop into championship events and through them will come contests that will be conclusive as to supremacy. They will be the crucial tests, too, as to whether the racing of thoroughbreds, such as now is in this State, unfits them later for contests in which stamina plays a large part. It has not been proven that the system pursued in the programmes of the racing associations leads to the early retirement of our horses or conduces to any incapacity unfitting them for the rigors of long distance racing. Rather, your Commission suggests, the fact seems to be that the reason why horses were not fitted for long distance racing in the past dozen of years was because there was no concerted or systematic effort made by racing associations to encourage it. The fewness in number of long distance races offered in these years did not justify owners and trainers in specially preparing their horses for them. Now, with all the associations offering such events and adding to them substantial premiums, there is an inducement for men to enter and race their horses, and there may be reasonable assurance that such races will be most successful.

Last year the sales of thoroughbreds at public auction in this State amounted to $1,631,788—a sum far in excess of any ever before realized in any single year. Of this amount, $861,642 was paid for yearlings; $320,076 for brood mares; $315,070 for horses in training; $67,000 for stallions, and $58,000 for weanlings. There were 1,077 yearlings sold, and, as they realized $861,642, the average was a fraction in excess of $800 a head—an exceedingly good showing when it is taken into account that these 1,077 sold represented the total of all consignments, including some that had been injured in travel, and others about whose training there was question from physical indications of unsoundness. The prices obtained for these, and they necessarily constitute a percentage of all consignments, cut down the average, but they have been included as representing the product of the farms shipping to this State as a market.

It also will be borne in mind that these figures aggregating a total of $1,631,788, invested last year, do not come by any means up to the total of the value of the thoroughbred interest or investment in this State. They do not include either the products of private breeding establishments or purchases made elsewhere in this country and brought here for development and racing. Neither does the $315,070 paid for horses two years old and upwards represent all that was invested in that line. It includes only horses that were put up at public auction, and takes no account of large private transactions between individuals. It is within a reasonable estimate that the public sales alone of the past year in this State and the produce of the private breeding establishments have increased the actual investment in thoroughbreds by more than $2,000,000.

The money paid for stallions and brood mares may legitimately be considered as just that sum of money, $387,076, actually added to former investments by breeders in the enlargement of the industry. The value of these animals henceforth must be dependent entirely upon the continuance of racing. It would be fair, as well, to add the large part of the sum paid for the weanlings, which were fillies, and the inducing consideration for the purchase of which was their desirability as prospective matrons.

Very respectfully submitted,

AUGUST BELMONT,

E. D. MORGAN,

JOHN SANFORD,

Commissioners.

Location, Buildings and Grounds.

The New York Juvenile Asylum consists of the Asylum proper and its two branches—the House of Reception and the Western Agency.

The Asylum, which has accommodation for one thousand children, is situated at 176th street and Amsterdam (10th) avenue, near the upper end of Manhattan Island, on Washington Heights, and not far from High Bridge. The location is one of the finest on the Island, commanding a view of the Hudson River and Palisades for many miles, Harlem River and Long Island Sound, and the whole country for miles around.

The Asylum grounds contain somewhat less than twelve acres, extending from Amsterdam avenue to Broadway, and are enclosed by a substantial stone wall and picket fence. On the part adjoining Amsterdam avenue is a fine Oak Grove of four acres and a double cottage for the use of employees. The buildings and yards occupy four acres which form an eminence near the central part of the grounds. A cut of the buildings, and a plan, showing their extent and the uses to which they are severally devoted, are given on the preceding pages. The Asylum is easily reached by the Third or Sixth avenue electric cars.

The House of Reception is at 176th street and Amsterdam avenue where all the children are received and discharged.

The office of the Western Agency is at 645 West Sixty-first street, Chicago, Illinois.

CIRCULAR.

WHAT CHILDREN ARE ADMITTED INTO THE NEW YORK JUVENILE ASYLUM —HOW IT IS DONE, AND OTHER INFORMATION.

- I.—Truant and disobedient children, and such as require discipline for any cause, between the ages of seven and fourteen years, belonging to Greater New York are admitted into the Asylum on an order from a city magistrate.
- II.—The courts commit children to the Asylum between the ages of six and sixteen.
- III.—Children having no friends to care for them, or whose friends choose to give them up wholly to the care of the Asylum, are provided with homes in the country.
- IV.—Children are kept but a few weeks at the House of Reception, and are then transferred to the Asylum, where they remain until finally discharged. While in the Asylum they attend school daily.
- V.—Children are discharged by the Directors of the Asylum.
- VI.—The terms for which children are detained in the Asylum depends on their improvement and reformation. No uniform time can be fixed for the attainment of these ends, but observation and experience have taught that, in a majority of cases, it should be from one and a half to two years.
- VII.—Applications for discharge should be made at the office of the House of Reception.
- VIII.—In case of the serious illness of a child, its friends are informed of the fact and allowed to visit it.
- IX.—Address letters for the Asylum "Station M," New York.

STATE OF NEW YORK.

No. 20.

IN SENATE,

FEBRUARY 4, 1902.

FIFTIETH ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York, and the Board of Aldermen of the City of New York:

The Directors of the New York Juvenile Asylum, in compliance with the Act under which they have for fifty years been a body corporate, submit their report for the year 1901, being their fiftieth annual report.

The Legislature, on the 30th of June, 1851, passed an Act incorporating the New York Juvenile Asylum. Among the names of the original incorporators are those of Robert B. Minturn, Solomon Jenner, Stewart Brown, Benjamin F. Butler, Luther Bradish, Charles O'Connor, John Duer, Peter Cooper, Apollos B. Wetmore, Rensselaer N. Havens and John W. Edmonds. These men were representative of what was best in the business and professional life of New York half a century ago. They were men of character and benevolence who recognized generally the obligation of public service, and particularly the importance of doing something to save street boys from careers of vice and crime, and making useful citizens out of them.

There was, at the time of its incorporation, as there is to-day, an especial need of such an institution. The swelling tide of emigration from western Europe had for some years been beating upon our shores. Thousands of the immigrants settled in New York. It was inevitable that among them many should, for one reason or another, be reduced to the lowest degree of poverty and helplessness. They could not, under the circumstances, provide suitable homes for themselves and their children. The boys, many of them, took to the streets. They became waifs, beggars, scamps, rowdies, loafers, roughs and toughs, and not a few became criminals. Here was a state of affairs that required attention. The men who founded the Juvenile Asylum determined to provide an institution where such boys (and girls also), having been removed from the streets and their wretched habitations, could be subjected to helpful influences, instructed in the elementary branches of learning which constitute a common school education, in the fundamental truths of ethics and religion, and put in the way of becoming self-supporting and valuable citizens.

Their purpose was wise, humane and benevolent. The institution which they founded has been taking children during all these years, caring for them, teaching them and trying to make them over into good men and women. Thirty-six thousand children have been its wards during the half century that has closed. We feel confident that the preponderating majority of that number have been permanently benefited by the institution, and that many who might have been led into careers of vice and crime have been rescued and set in the right direction.

The Directors organized and elected officers on November 14, 1851. January 1, 1853, they took possession of a house at 109 Bank street, their first habitation. They shortly removed to a building at the foot of Fifty-fifth street and the East River, April 2, 1856, they began actually to occupy the property at Washington Heights, and there they have ever since been carrying on the work of child saving and juvenile reformation. The Washington Heights property was admirably adapted in 1856 for the work of the institution. It is an attractive spot even to-day. But the growth of the city has been reducing its advantages for institutional work. The opening of avenues and streets has diminished our acreage. During the past twelvemonth Audubon avenue has been extended through our grounds in close proximity to the main building, thus narrowing the playground of the larger boys and injuring the property as far as institutional work is concerned.

. In 1897 the Board came to the conclusion that the best interests of the institution demanded the purchase of a larger area and the removal of the asylum thither within a few years, and outlined their plans for such a purchase in a report of the executive committee, which is reprinted as an appendix to this report. It was no easy matter to find a site suitable in all respects for the requirements of the institution, the more especially as the cottage home system is to be substituted for the present congregate or barrack system. But the Directors think that they have at last secured the property that will afford them opportunities for the development of their work in accordance with the plan they had adopted and the views of those best qualified to pronounce upon different methods of conducting juvenile reformatories.

The property which they have purchased consists of about 277 acres, situated on the highest ground within the village of Dobbs Ferry, in Westchester county. It is irregular in shape, and comprises meadow land and wooded land, hillsides and rocky bluffs. At its highest point it is 430 feet above the tide-water of the Hudson, and commands an extensive view of that river and of the surrounding country. It is easily accessible from the Hudson River railroad station at Dobbs Ferry and by the Putnam division of the same railroad, the station of which at Chauncey is within the boundaries of the property itself. It is but thirteen miles from the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street station of the Manhattan Elevated Railway, thus affording convenient transit from the city. There are natural lakes on the grounds, and water in sufficient quantities can be obtained from springs or artesian wells. The soil is gravelly and the drainage satisfactory.

To this site the Directors propose to remove the institution as soon as practicable, and to carry on their work in the most approved way. They intend to secure the services of competent architects and to erect all buildings deemed necessary for a juvenile reformatory of the most advanced type. In this undertaking, which is by no means a simple or easy one, they invite the co-operation and sympathy of charitably disposed persons. Opportunities are here afforded for the erection of cottages and other structures by private citizens as memorials to the deceased. And in what better way can benevolent individuals expend money than in providing homes for homeless children, thus enabling them to make a fresh start in life, with physical health established, good habits formed and right principles inculcated?

The aim of an institution for the care and training of dependent and delinquent children should be to provide, as far as possible, the helpful influences and safeguards of a good home. The institutional life should be very much the same as that of average boys and girls in homes where character and affection dominate. There must be a closer adherence to rules, greater regularity of life in an institution; and there necessarily will be less of that joyous, yet restrained, freedom and spontaneity that are so noticeable and so attractive in many homes. An institution conducted upon the old congregate plan is quite incapable of reproducing the atmosphere of even an average home. While it has its advantages, especially for obstreperous and recalcitrant boys, yet it cannot be commended as well adapted for the great majority of children. The model institution, if such there be or can be, must be one conducted on the cottage home plan. Not more than twenty should be domiciled in a cottage, and each cottage should be managed by a prudent woman of approved qualifications, or, in particular cases, perhaps by a man and his wife. It can readily be seen that the daily life of a boy or girl so situated would approach much nearer normality than in the congregate institution. This domestic training and experience, supplemented by the education of the schoolrooms, the labor and instruction of the shops, the exercises of the chapel, the evening entertainments, the sports and rivalries of the athletic field, the study of nature, the daily influences, admonitory and stimulating, that should come from teachers and officers, ought to be productive of the best and most permanent results in the lives of the children.

It must be admitted that the work of a juvenile reformatory demands constant thought. Methods and systems have their day, but in the study of child-life, carried on as it has been through so many years by competent persons, it cannot be said that finality has been attained. Open mindedness, a hospitality to new ideas, is as important, or almost as important, as enthusiasm and devotion. That which has general approval to-day may be discredited and ridiculed by the men of a later generation; and the managers of a juvenile reformatory should always be responsive to suggestions coming from an approved source.

It cannot be too often repeated, however, that the indispensable thing in institutional work is a deep and sympathetic interest on the part of those engaged in it, the real devotion of fine and earnest natures to the children themselves—children who have been brought into the world under circumstances in varying degrees of folly or transgression, of sadness or misfortune. Not to be susceptible to the pathos of the lives of the children is surely a disqualification for usefulness in a reformatory.

The work of the year at the asylum has been marked by no extraordinary developments. The new rule of the State Board of Charities which inhibits the reception of children by surrender has not operated to reduce the number of inmates. This rule was adopted in spite of the opposition of the Directors. By the Act of its incorporation the New York Juvenile Asylum has the right to "receive and take under its care and management children between seven and fourteen years of age, who, by the consent in writing of their parents and guardians, shall be voluntarily surrendered and entrusted to it." The contention of the Directors was that, while the State Board of Charities has the undoubted right to make rules for the reception and retention of children in institutions supported by the State or a subdivision of it, the Constitution did not confer upon the State Board the power to repeal statutes and amend or nullify the charter rights of institutions. Such a delegation of the authority of the sovereign did not seem to be in the contemplation of the framers of the Constitution of 1894, or of the people who adopted it. To make rules respecting the formalities of reception and regulating the time of detention is one thing; to annul a right conferred by the Legislature is quite another. The Directors decided to test the validity of the new rule by a case in the Supreme Court, and have taken steps to that end.

No doubt the city has been imposed upon from time to time by parents who, though poor, were not actually in such a condition as to be unable to provide some sort of care and maintenance for their children. But, as in recent years, no child could be accepted by the institution, or made a public charge, upon surrender, without first having been accepted by the Department of Charities, it was difficult to see the necessity of adopting the new rule in order to prevent imposition upon the city. We are in entire agreement with those who assert that the number of dependent and delinquent children at present supported by the city is much too large. The amounts annually appropriated for the support of children in institutions are enormous, much larger, we believe, than those appropriated by any other city in the world. It is true, conditions here differ from those in other cities. It is to the port of New York that the great steamships laden with immigrants are headed. Here to-day, as fifty years ago, thousands find themselves unable to support their children, and so are obliged to resort to institutions. Even with these admissions, it nevertheless seems as if the city were being called upon to pay for the care and maintenance of more children than might reasonably be expected of it.

It is to be hoped that a stricter enforcement of the immigration laws and the beneficent working of the new tenement house law will operate to reduce the number of children supported by the city in institutions. Immigrants who, from physical or other reasons, are unlikely to be able to support themselves and their children should not be permitted to become domiciled here.

If the number of children's institutions maintained by allowances from the city treasury is at present unnecessarily large, surely any increase or multiplication of them ought vigorously to be opposed; and from some, now in existence, largesses from the treasury might properly be withdrawn or reduced. Unworthy parents should not be supported and encouraged in their shiftlessness and irresponsibility by the comfortable reflection that their hapless and helpless offspring can easily be provided for at the public expense.

The Directors of the Juvenile Asylum do not desire to receive any children who are not proper charges upon the municipality. An obligation to the city rests upon them, and they would not be unmindful of it. They have no wish to secure any advantage from the city without rendering an adequate service for it.

As the city has provided generously for the children of its unfortunate citizens in the past, it is likely to continue to do so; but some consideration is due to the taxpayers who in recent years have found the burden of taxation exceedingly onerous, and even oppressive.

Corporal punishment having been abolished, it is important that the daily lives of children should be so ordered as to make infractions of rules difficult and infrequent. There should be such alternations of work and play, of study and recreation, of domestic labor and out-of-door games, as almost wholly to remove temptations to mischievous and rebellious outburst, or sullen defiance of authority. If the minds of the children are constantly interested and their energies normally directed, disobedience and disorder will be minimized. Managers, officials and teachers, through defects of temper or sympathy, or for some other reason, are oftentimes themselves responsible for the discontent and insubordination of which they complain as being so irritating and exhausting.

To instruct the children in the duties and obligations of citizenship, or practical patriotism, is one of the functions of the Juvenile Asylum. A neglect in this particular would rightly subject this or any other institution to unfavorable criticism. The national holidays are appropriately observed, and the children are reminded of the advantages and blessings of American citizenship.

It is worthy of note that, at the time of the sufferings and death of President McKinley, there was evidence of genuine feeling among the children. They were not unaffected by the great national bereavement, and manifested in their own way their participation in the national sorrow. The memorial service in the Chapel on September 19th was very impressive. The children sang the favorite hymns of the beloved President and listened to a commemorative address by the president of the Board.

The work of the Western Agency has progressed as during the previous year, under the direction of Mr. J. W. Shields, the successor of the late Ebenezer Wright. One hundred and six children have been placed in Western homes during the year. The Directors are still of the opinion that the importance of this placing-out work is very great. Home life, as has been said, is what the children of the institution especially need. If there are no suitable homes for them in the great city, if their parents are dead or unfit to have the care and custody of them, surely it is desirable to place them with respectable and prosperous people in the West who seek the assistance of boys and girls in farm and house work and are willing to provide them with schooling, the necessaries of life, and a satisfactory compensation at the termination of their apprenticeship.

The hardships attending the separation of children from their relatives is sometimes more apparent than real. But when the parents or other relatives are convinced by the clearest and best testimony that the children are favorably situated, and are happy and contented in Western rural homes, they generally soon became reconciled to the new circumstances.

In the autumn Miss Louise A. Husted, M. D., resigned her position as visitor which she filled for three years with intelligent fidelity and to the entire satisfaction of the Board. Her successor is Miss Helen M. Hall.

The committee on books has kept the teachers and children supplied with an abundance of periodical literature, and has replenished the children's library with suitable books.

The health of children, as usual, has been remarkably good during the year. There were only two deaths. Since 1853 the number of deaths has been 146, and the number of children in the institution 36,667.

During the year Messrs. Theron G. Strong, Alexander Hadden and Franklin W. Moulton resigned from the directorate of the institution. They were useful members of the Board and their resignations were accepted with regret. Mr. Wm. E. Verplanck was chosen a director in January to succeed Mr. Garth. Mr. Leonard E. Opdycke was elected in November to succeed Mr. Strong, and Mr. J. G. Phelps Stokes in December to succeed Mr. Moulton. Two vacancies remain unfilled.

On the morning of December 30th a fire was discovered in the basement of the west wing of the main building in a room where a quantity of clothing belonging to the girls was kept. By prompt action on the part of the Superintendent, other officials and larger boys, and the ready assistance of the Fire Department, the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. Most of the children were in the class rooms when the alarm was given, and without confusion or panic, under the direction of officers and teachers, were led down into the yards. The promptitude and orderliness with which this was accomplished must be regarded as due to the coolness and self-possession of the officers and teachers and to the fire drill, in which the children from time to time have been exercised in order to meet just such an emergency.

To the President and Directors of the New York Catholic Protectory and to the Superintendent of the Colored Orphan Asylum the Directors are grateful for their expressions of sympathy and their offers to take and provide temporarily for the children, had the necessity arisen.

This occurrence is an illustration of the danger that attends the housing of more than eight hundred children under one roof. While every reasonable precaution is taken to prevent an outbreak of fire, no large institution can be exempt from the possibility of a conflagration. The consequences of such a catastrophe in the building are appalling to contemplate. The responsibility resting upon the management is exceedingly heavy, and while the Directors are grateful to the officers and teachers for the promptness and efficiency displayed by them on this occasion, they must acknowledge that their deepest gratitude is due to that Divine Providence to whom, as during the entire career of this institution, all the praise belongs for whatever success has attended their efforts to care for, train and reform so many thousands of little children.

The general conduct of the children compares favorably with that of other Institutions. It is the aim as far as possible to do away with the term Institution and denominate the work here as that of a domiciliary school and the children as pupils rather than inmates. The children are beginning to speak of the school rather than of the Asylum.

As will be seen by the physician's report, the health of the children has been excellent. We have suffered no severe epidemic and sustained a loss of only two by death, one from inflammation of the kidneys and the other peritonitis, which makes a death rate of less than three per thousand.

The school work and industrial efforts have been carried out on the same lines as formerly. I may be pardoned if I quote from the report of the associate superintendents of public schools, Messrs. Edward D. Farrell, Edgar Dubs Shimer and Clarence E. Meleney, who visited the school on the 15th of December. Mr. Meleney examined the industrial work.

"The bake-shop, the laundry, the sewing room, the mending room, the shoe-shop, the kitchen and the garden are all under responsible and competent heads, who supervise the manual training of the pupils most effectively at some time during the regular school hours, from 7.30 to 11.30 a. m. and from 1.30 to 4. p. m. The larger and older pupils attend the regular school one session. The distinct claim is made that the manual work done by the pupils is highly educative in the truest pedagogic sense. The school is not a prison: the pupils are constantly led to believe that it is not an Institution but a school. For example, in the sewing class it is usual to find one of the pupils reading aloud to the others engaged in manual work.

“Singing is taught two nights in the week to the boys and two nights to the girls. General assembly is held every Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. The libraries are open during the evening so that every pupil has the opportunity of either reading or attending choir practice after the evening meal.

“It is to be observed that each one received pay in money amounting to from five to ten cents a month. This is not given as a reward but simply as an allowance. The reports are that there is no mutilation of books since this practice has been begun, and each pupil has been fined a portion of his allowance for carelessness in the use of any material.

“An effort has been made during the past year to treat backward pupils by gathering them together in one class. This class, however, is not distinct by name from the others, though in reality it is peculiar.

“There are all told fifteen classes in the school and one kindergarten. The kindergarten is in charge of two teachers. The principal is aided by a general assistant, who has charge of the music.”

The grading of the school was marked excellent. All the examiners expressed themselves as more satisfied with their visit in December than at any previous time.

The classes in telegraphy and printing are worthy of the kindest consideration. Under the careful management of their instructors the boys have progressed very rapidly. From these two branches we are able to place boys in the position to obtain immediate employment upon their discharge from the school.

The telegraph companies and district messenger service are always glad to get our boys by reason of the thorough instruction and drill received. Concerning the work of the printing class I feel it is only necessary to call attention to this Year Book. A boy can obtain employment almost anywhere in a printing shop by simply showing his ability. He is employed on what he can do.

The work of the other industrial departments has progressed as in former years. The clothing has been made by the boys in the tailor shop, our shoes have been furnished by the class in shoe making, the bake-shop, laundries, engine room, paint shop and carpenter shop are all worthy of honorable mention. The band is composed of boys in the shoe shop. Their progress in music has been very gratifying, and the efforts of the leader and the interest of the boys deserves high commendation.

The work of the House of Reception was moved from 106 West Twenty-seventh street to the Asylum in February, 1901. While it has not lost its identity as a quarantine station, the management has coalesced with the Asylum. A portion of the east wing known as the primary building was fitted up under the direction and supervision of the Health Department for the reception of children. In this portion of the building are detained those committed to the school for a short period, namely, ten days or under. Fortunately the number of such sentences are not so numerous as formally, though in several instances since the opening of the House of Reception there were boys who have been committed two and even three times within a few months for petty offences. If such sentences are administered in a reformatory sense the effort is absolutely futile. The child takes upon himself the "don't care" attitude and unfortunately passes on to a worse condition. If segregation is necessary for corrective work and a domiciliary school is considered the place for such administration, nothing short of an indeterminate sentence whose limit is within the control of the Board of Directors, can meet with success. Many children are committed for truancy, whose terms under the law must end with the school year, namely, July 31st, whether the commitment be obtained one week or six months before this date. Under this class we have repeated commitments. Such children are not kept long enough in the Institution to gain that precision of body and mind which is necessary to overcome these moral defects. Often these children are perniciously willful; moral restraint to them is apparently an unknown quantity. They are not in the habit of yielding themselves to any of the virtues of childhood. Often their straightened circumstances and the social decrepitude from which their families suffer compels them to find their homes in the street. Hundreds of such children might be rescued from uncharitableness, from falsehood, intemperance, fraud and crime and reared to the performance of the duties and to the practice of the kindnesses and courtesies of domestic and social life if they could be surrounded with a proper environment.

The Board of Directors of the New York Juvenile Asylum, in their wisdom and foresight have seen fit to buy a sufficiently large tract of land, properly located, with adequate natural resources, upon which to erect a domiciliary school, upon the cottage system or family plan, wherein the inmates are divided into groups and the classification can be made according to character, where there is a separate house for each group presided over by its own house-father and house-mother, where the discipline and training more closely akin to that of the family is possible than where all are housed in the same building. This effort can not be considered a theory. There has been sufficient work along this newer line to show that it is worthy of the highest consideration, the deepest thought and the most intense executive ability. There are schools in this country of sufficient age to prove the wisdom of this undertaking.

During the year, from time to time the larger boys have been favored with invitations to places of amusement, athletic sports and the like, by Mr. Wendell. These invitations are always most heartily accepted by a number only limited by the ability to be cared for by the attendants.

Mr. Joseph Fettretch has given the school a number of entertainments during the year, for which we are deeply grateful.

Mr. J. W. Vrooman interested a number of his friends to provide certain entertainment for the children through a little association called "The Happy Hour Society," to whom we were indebted for lemonade on the Saturdays of August, a treat of mince pie and cheese and apples on Thanksgiving and 850 boxes of candy for Christmas.

The school has been greatly indebted to Mr. D. F. McNab of the Chicago Great Western Railway, and Mr. Millor of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and Mr. G. S. Morse of the Iowa Central Railway for the generous courtesies that have been extended to our western wards, thereby enabling a much more extensive visitation than would have been possible without these concessions.

The interest shown by former pupils in the welfare of the schools seems to be increasing. Hardly a day passes that several do not call and display their good feeling. One day this week the school was visited by five western wards who came east to visit their people and called at the asylum to renew their acquaintance. Many pleasant conversations convey the lasting impression for good made upon the hearts of these boys. Many encouraging letters are received expressing thanks that the opportunity was afforded so many to be placed in good western homes, and the wish that many other girls and boys may have a like opportunity.

On December 30th a fire was discovered in the girls' clothing room in the basement of the west wing, which for a short while was thought to be of such magnitude as to threaten the building. However, by the prompt action of the officers and employees and large boys of the Institution it was kept in check until the arrival of the fire department. During this scene of excitement the steadiness of the children was remarkable. The girls and smaller children in that wing of the building, one floor above the fire, conducted themselves in quiet and order worthy of the highest praise. Too great credit can not be given to the teachers, matrons, officers and employees for their coolness, precision and good judgment.

To the President and Board of Directors:

GENTLEMEN.—The statistics of the school for the past year are as follows:

The number of teachers in the boys' department is twelve, in the girls' department three, in the kindergarten two, a teacher of vocal music for the entire school and a teacher for the school of the House of Reception, making a total of nineteen teachers.

The school in the House of Reception was opened on the 29th day of April last. As this branch of the institution is for quarantine purposes only, the stay of the children in this school is for only a few days, when they are transferred to the asylum proper.

This school is graded according to the scheme of the public schools of this city. The boys' department contains twelve classes and the grades are from 1 A to 6 B. The girls' department contains three classes and is graded as well as circumstances permit; but the long experience of the teachers in this department enable them to master these conditions quite successfully.

During the year less than one hundred of the children received in our school entered the grammar grade, and when the cause that brought these children under the care of the Asylum is known this result is not unexpected.

The kindergarten contains smaller children of both sexes who are of suitable age. Occasionally a backward child is placed in this class, notwithstanding its age is beyond the limit. Often this has proved much good to the child and quickly enabled it to take up work suited to its age but beyond its capacity when entering.

The monthly reports of the daily attendance of the school have been regularly made to the board of education, as required by law. The average daily attendance for the school year of 1900-1901 was 729 pupils.

Messrs. Farrell, Meleney and Shimer, assistant superintendents of public instruction of this city visited the school officially on the 15th day of December last.

The school closed for the annual vacation on the 31st day of July and reopened on the 3d day of September with 850 pupils on the register.

A few years ago we introduced into the school the plan of keeping a daily record of the conduct and quality of the recitation of each pupil, the teachers marking on a scale of 1 to 10. At the end of the month a copy of this record is written on a card and sent to the parent, guardian or friends of the pupil. While some things might be said in opposition to this scheme, yet it has a beneficial and stimulating effect in the case of many in that it furnishes to all interested a tangible record, and when kept in an impartial manner furnishes the pupil a fair judgment upon his conduct and progress in his studies.

In our last Annual Report I set forth a plan that has been adopted and put in operation, the purpose of which is to encourage and assist the children of the Asylum to save any portion of the money they might earn. This scheme has been continued during the year and many of the children have availed themselves of the opportunity.

The children have received the usual amount of instruction in vocal music, and the boys in the shoeshop form the Asylum Cornet Band, and have received the usual amount of instruction.

The older children as hitherto have been engaged at various kinds of employment in or about the Asylum—in the shops, on the farm and elsewhere. The doing of this work has had an educational effect upon them and at the same time been of some value to the institution.

The printing class, although recently equipped and established, has supplied the school with a considerable amount of reading matter in addition to their other work. The boys in this class take hold of their work enthusiastically and feel their time is well spent in learning a trade that has its educational advantages. And that they are making rapid progress is evidenced by the work coming from this class.

Many of the children who enter our school have to regain the knowledge they have partially lost through absence from school; others begin their education and endeavor to gain what circumstances have hitherto withheld from them. We make the studies practical and simple, lest the child becomes discouraged and loses interest, at the same time never forgetting that the principles of a wholesome morality must be taught and encouragement given to bring out their better self.

Thus briefly have I set forth the salient points of our school work. The boys and girls who have come and gone have made the record which we feel as a whole is a credible one. Peace and good will have marked out school life during the past year, and we enter another with the belief that we shall be able to again make a record of good work.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

AARON P. GARRABRANT, A. M.,

Principal.

By far the greater number of admissions for delinquency are from the lower East Side, showing clearly the evil results arising from living in so congested a district. The ubiquitous push cart and numerous corner stands are great temptations for pilfering, and the excitement of the streets alluring to the boy who does not care for school, or where there may be no room for him.

Two or three dark rooms in an ill-kept unsanitary house with an overworked, discouraged mother, who would not prefer the streets, and yet how can we expect the mother to do better? Oftentimes she is the only wage earner. One woman, with a family of four children and a sickly husband, has to stand outside the hat stores on Division street from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., in heat or cold, begging the passers-by to come into the stores and buy the hats. Another woman cleans at a department store from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. She needs the day for sleep and so her house and family are neglected.

A number of destitution cases have been admitted on account of the desertion of the father. One little girl, aged twelve, was taking care of a five months old baby when visitor called. The mother was out at work and every day but Saturday and Sunday the child was acting as nurse, housekeeper and mother. And not only was she taking care of her own baby brother but she had a three year old boy of a neighbor who was also compelled to work and from whom she would not take even a few pennies, "for she is a poor woman," she said. Now and then a woman rents a push cart from a friend for ten cents per day and so tries to make a little living for the family.

Another boy with only a drunken stepfather was only too glad of a chance to get into what seemed to him a new world. One girl, whose father was anxious to have her go West, as his boy had been sent out from the Asylum, and had been doing so well.

It has been a hard matter after but two months' experience at the Juvenile Asylum to judge whether the homes into which the children are returning are really improved. In many cases they surely are. One father who had deserted family promises to pay towards children's support and so enables mother to have her little ones with her again. A man and wife who have been separated by Jewish law have come together again that they may have the children; and older children have gotten positions and are now helping out the income of the family.

Again this year calls have been made on families of children discharged to their homes two years after at least a year's residence in the Asylum. The following are the statistics:

Much interest has been shown by parents in the work of the Asylum and the monthly reports of the children are carefully hoarded and exhibited at every opportunity.

This year four companies, averaging twenty-seven and three fourths in each, after an average detention of sixteen and six elevenths months in the asylum, have been received by the Western Agency. Forty-seven of these children were committed to the Asylum at the instance of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children; twenty-two were committed for being ungovernable; two for attempted petit larceny; three for destitution; one for assault; twenty-four were surrendered for a home and twelve were surrendered for truancy and disobedience.

With a few exceptions these children were placed in homes in the State of Iowa and eighty-three per cent of them remain in the first home. The ones removed usually belong to the undesirable class for which it is difficult to find a suitable home. As a rule applicants for children will not keep one that is not worthy of a place in the family circle. An effort is usually made to have the child improve its opportunity and failing in this the removal is asked for.

The number of wards sent to this agency each year is shown in the following table:

REMARKS.

The nationality of the parents of the children received this year was as follows:

American	41
German	30
Hebrew	12
Italian	11
English	8
Irish	5
Hungarian	2
Dutch	1

Placing children as we do, on farms, naturally from their parentage and earlier training the Hebrew children are least successful and farmers are as a rule prejudiced against them.

The year has brought a larger experience and a more expanded view of the responsibilities of this position. One of the remarkable phases of this work is the ever present safety with which the children are surrounded by the unseen hand of the Divine Guardian of all. I believe that no one could be engaged in this work long and not feel that a hand stronger than any of earth was guiding the destinies of these homeless children.

REMOVALS.

The removal of children from one home to another has not been as frequent as formerly and in most cases is discouraged; but it does not follow that there should be none. One boy who was removed did so well in his second home that the guardian could not understand why the removal was requested. A girl who has been in a number of different homes is liked so well in her last home that the guardian writes: "You must be an excellent judge of human nature to bring us a girl that harmonizes so well with us. She had not been in our home four days before I knew she was just the girl we wanted."

When the demand for a removal is due to a restless nature and a craving for new scenes, an effort is made to induce the children to understand that homes and places are much alike, and that it is better to remain in one place and establish themselves than to be unfavorably known in many places. There has been one removal this year on account of improper treatment by the guardian, and the child is doing well in the new home. In another case cruelty was charged by the neighbors and partly sustained, but on promises made by the guardian and a better understanding of the relations of himself to the child, no removal was made.

PLACING OUT.

During the year a number of children have been placed in homes where they already had one or even two of our wards, and several in homes where former wards had grown up. Such events are the strongest testimony to the right training of our wards in the Asylum and the real merit of our placing-out system.

It has been a graceful tribute as well when the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society have placed children in the same homes where our wards are or have been. This year one of the Directors of the Iowa Children's Aid Society took one of our children because he liked our plan of placing-out the best and he felt there would be less opportunity for interference on the part of officious or undesirable relatives of the child.

TRAINING.

To my mind the greatest single help in saving a child is to awaken within him a desire and ambition to be an honest and respected man, and to do this it is necessary so to train and discipline him that he may acquire the self-reliance that is so essential to individual achievement. When the child understands this one thing it is easy to place him in a good home where he will be helped onward.

CONCLUSION.

Your attention is respectfully called to the appendix where the letters received from wards tell their own story. These are very similar to those of former years, yet I think we hardly appreciate during the year as we labor to help those who need it most, how many are going steadily along without our further assistance toward a noble and successful manhood.

Respectfully submitted,

J. W. SHIELDS,

Western Agent.

Appendix A.

LETTERS FROM WARDS.

FROM FREDa SCHLIEPHAKE, AGED 17, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

“It is almost three weeks since I came West. I like my home, get lonesome sometimes, but that does not matter, for I will soon get over that. School opened a week ago; I have a mile to walk, but I shall go as regularly as the weather will permit. Mr. Jones, who was formerly a teacher, helps me with my lessons in the evening. I am as far advanced as the highest class in everything except arithmetic, and I will soon catch them if I keep on trying, for I often work until nine o'clock or later. I have not seen any of the girls who came with me, but expect to see them when we go to Vinton. My guardians are very kind to me and have already bought me several things. They have a nice little boy not quite two years old. Iowa is quite a different place from New York city. I miss seeing the buildings, for the largest structure in Mt. Auburn is no higher than a small dwelling in New York. I am not at all dissatisfied for we live in the country and I do not see the town except when we go to church. We usually attend the Methodist church, but on Thanksgiving we went to the Christian church.”

Mr. J. W. Jones, guardian, writes: “When Freda first came here she had several little annoyances which did not help her in getting used to her new life, so that she became quite irritable, so that when I was helping her in her school work and she did not understand quickly she would lose her temper and grow sulky. After I had told her that she would have to control her temper and put forth her best efforts and left her alone for a day or two she has been getting along quite nicely and has gained very good control of herself. She is finishing decimal fractions and will soon begin weights and measures. Freda is quick to learn both at books and housework, and if she continues to do well we would not part with her for anything. She seems satisfied with her home and we will do our best for her if she will only try."

MT. AUBURN, IOWA.

FROM ANGELINA CIACCI, AGED 11, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

"I thank you for the annual report which you sent me. I am glad to have a good home, and like it very much, and want to stay in it until I am of age. I go to church on Sunday and to school every day. I am in the fourth reader. I hope all the boys and girls in the Asylum will have as good a home as I have. I wash the dishes and sometimes scrub the floor, but I like to do it. When I first saw the pigs and calves I called them bears. I did not know calves from cows; did not know where milk came from. One of the boys who came West when I did goes to the same school. Now I will close for I have nothing more to say."

WATERLOO, IOWA.

FROM CHARLES ROESSEL, AGED 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

"I like my home very much, I go to school, I like my teacher and the boys too; I have gone to church several times. I like farming, can milk, feed hogs and do lots of other chores. I can come home every day for my dinner for the school house is right near to us. I can do all my chores before school time. I do not have to work hard. I have to help take care of the children, but I like them, they are not mean. The boys and I go down on the pond in the winter when it is frozen hard and have lots of fun. I am getting acquainted with the boys and we have a nice little boy and girl for neighbors. Please answer my letter; tell all the boys it is a nice place out West."

Mr. Dewitt Copeland, guardian, writes: "Charley is a very good boy and we think everything of him. He goes to school and has not missed a day of winter term, though he went only a part of the fall term. He is trustworthy, kind to everything and very obedient; we would not ask for a better boy. He goes to church sometimes, but next summer he will go every Sunday that is convenient. I think as much of him as of my own boy and will take the same interest in his welfare. He has never been discontented or sick a day, and is growing very fast. He is a great help to my wife in taking care of our two children."

INDEPENDENCE, IOWA.

FROM CARLO GRAMCKO, AGED 11, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

"I received your letter just the other day and was glad to hear from you. May and I go to school and May is learning quite fast; we like our teacher. The goats did not butt me yet, but one day May was playing with them and one of them got up on its hind feet and ran at her and threw her down. I have a new overcoat, a cap and a pair of overshoes. I have seven studies at school. Thank you ever so much for the papers and books which I have read many times."

Mr. C. Holman, guardian, writes: "Carl is just the same boy he was when he came to us, happy, light-hearted, good-natured and obedient. He goes to school and his teacher says that he makes no trouble whatever. He made 100 on examination in most of his studies. We think we have the best boy to be found."

AURORA, IOWA.

FROM FRANK DEWEES, AGED 17, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

"I received the book containing the pictures of the Asylum and find it very interesting reading. I went down to see my brothers, Willie and Gilbert, at Christmas time and found them looking well. We all received several presents. I sent a postal to Will's guardian that I would be down, but Will was at school and as he had been worrying for fear I would not get down, they did not show the card to him or say anything about my coming. They came down in the evening to meet me, and as we were going out to his home we saw Will strutting down the road with his hands in the pockets of his long pants going to church. When we called him and he came up to the buggy he did not know me because I had on a big coat and a different hat, but when I got out of the buggy he was a very surprised boy. We had great sport with him the next morning when he opened a box which contained a small gift and the best wishes of a young lady friend. I have started to school and find it much better than working in the field when the thermometer stands twenty-seven degrees below."

Mr. M. S. Schneider, guardian, writes: "In answer to your inquiry in regard to Frank Dewees, I can say that we like him very much; he is industrious, of good disposition and quick to learn, has been in school the last month and does well. He is an uncommonly good boy and we will give him all the privileges we can as we would our own child."

OELWEIN, IOWA.

FROM LENA WEINGART, AGED 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

"I have pleasure in writing a letter as you requested in the book you sent me. I was going to write a long time ago, but I went to school and did not have much time. School is out today and I will not go again until spring. I have been to school about six months since I came here. My brother Charley likes his home very well and would not like to leave it. Mamie likes her home too, and we are well pleased with ours."

Mr. J. J. Cline, guardian, writes: "I should have written to you before about our girls, Lena and Lizzie. They are pretty good girls, especially Lena, and Lizzie is as good as could be expected for a child of her age. They are at church and they go to Sunday school every Sunday."

FRASER, IOWA.

FROM ERNEST RATHKE, AGED 10, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

"I am getting along all right and hope you are the same. I like my homet first rate. I milk three cows night and morning. I have two black calves, a red pig and a colt which I call Jim and am breaking to ride. Two of our horses died of distemper and we will have to buy a team before spring. We are fattening five steers; we had sixty little pigs but forty of them died. My papa and mamma have two children, a boy and a girl. We live in a nice large, warm house. I ride to school every morning with my teacher. I am teaching my papa German, and he has learned to count up to one hundred."

P. W. Garvey, guardian, writes: "Ernest's conduct and disposition are good; he attends school regularly and church when he can. He seems to take an interest in farming and in his school work. With the exception of a little trouble with his ear, he has been well ever since he came; has not missed a meal and is growing fast."

BOONE, IOWA.

FROM ISIDORE VORGETTZ, AGED 9, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

"I am writing you a letter to let you know that I am well and growing very fast. I have been here now over a year, I like my home very much and love my papa and mamma very dearly. I am going to school every day and this is my third term; I am in the third reader and arithmetic. My brother Peter was here a short time ago and stayed all night. Give my love to the children at the Asylum."

Mrs. Chris Halverson, guardian, writes: "We received the Annual Report and the Youth's Companions which come regularly, thanking you for the same. Isidore is a good, honest, upright little boy, willing and obedient. Of course he has little faults common to children, but we think of him as our own son. He is a smart boy, goes to school and carries his work all the time. The teacher and the children think a great deal of him. He kneels down by his bed every night and says his prayers. We are seven miles from church and do not go often, but Isidore studies his Bible at home. I will close by saying that Isidore is in every way a good boy."

ROLAND, IOWA.

FROM JOHN SCHERMAN, AGED 16, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

"I was very glad you wrote to me some time ago; but I was always busy during the day and too tired and sleepy at night for writing letters. I like my home and my guardians very much and we have very nice neighbors. I have started in for the winter term of school. We have lots of fun here; on Sundays in warm weather we would lie under the apple trees and eat until we were full when we could find something else with which to amuse ourselves. I enjoyed the hay time very much too if it was very warm. It is great fun to go squirrel hunting; we take a pole, tie to it a strong string which has a loop at the end; we put the loop over the hole and when master squirrel puts up his head—a quick jerk of the pole and he is a prisoner. Rabbit-hunting is fun too when there is plenty of snow on the ground so that they can be tracked. We are feeding two car loads of cattle which we expect to ship in February."

Mr. J. L. Kelderhouse, guardian, writes: "John is getting along all right, is very healthy and growing so fast you would not know him. He started to school when the winter term began and is learning fast and becoming a good writer. John is a very good boy and seems to take an interest in farming."

COLLINS, IOWA.

FROM WILLIAM DOBLER, AGED 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

"I am glad to tell you that I have a good home. For Christmas I got a muffler some candy and an apple; Mr. Larrowe gave them to me. I am going to school now and have been for six weeks. We have thirty-five pupils in our school. I wrote a letter to Dr. Bruce to let him know that I am well. My guardian has 113 acres of land, 11 horses 65 head of cattle and one hundred hogs. I can plow, cultivate and rake hay and helped unload 44 loads of hay in the fall."

FROM FRANCIS ROY, AGED 15, WHO CAME WEST IN 1900.

"In answer to your request in the letter, I thought I would write and tell you that I am getting along fine and so are my guardians. We are all well and doing finely; I have gained twelve pounds since I came here. I am satisfied with my home and my guardians seem well pleased with me. Mr. Heedwell cannot understand why my former guardian did not want me for he says that there is only one thing against me and that is my high temper, but he thinks he can help me overcome that. He says he was the same when a boy and his father had a time getting him to control his temper. He had given me a fine spring pig, and says he will give me one every year I am here, and if I stand by him he will let me work long enough to earn a team. Mr. Heedwell gives me spending money, but I have saved it until I now have $5.14. Do not forget to write me a long letter and tell me how the Doctor and all the boys are getting along."

Mr. Gothard Heedwell, guardian, writes: "In regard to Francis Roy, I can frankly state that he is a credit to both you and your Asylum. The only fault I can find in him is his hot temper, but he is trying hard to control it. We have started him to school and Sunday school; he has attended church ever since he came here. He has no trouble in learning his lessons. I bought a new set of books, all the highest, so when he gets through those he will have to leave the country school and go into town. The long and short of it is, he is a smart boy. His health is good and he grows rapidly."

OGDEN, IOWA.

FROM VICTOR DEWEY, AGED 16, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

"A year ago when I came to Iowa I was small for my age and in very poor health; now I am in the best of health and am fully a foot taller. I have a rifle and have great sport shooting rabbits and other game. A creek runs through the pasture and abounds in mink; I shot one and kept his hide. Mr. Harris bought me a broncho pony and a cowboy saddle. When I got the pony she had never been ridden, and I broke her to the saddle myself. When I first got on her she ran about eighty rods with her head between her knees and bucking all the time, but she did not succeed in getting me off, nor has she done so since. To see me on her you would think me a regular cow puncher. I thank you very much for the Youth's Companions and the Annual Report, which I enjoyed very much."

Mr. H. O. Harris, guardian, writes: "Victor Dewey is a good boy, and doing very well. Last year we sent him to the home school, but the first of last September we started him to the High School in Manchester, where he will go until next June. He attended church and Sunday school very regularly until he started to school, but as he has to ride six miles to school every day I thought it would be too much for him to be on the road six days in the week. He seems very contented, likes the farm and wants to stay."

MANCHESTER, IOWA.

FROM JOSEPHINE FREN, AGED 11, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1899.

"I have a very nice home. Mr. Crider gave me a colt and a calf, mamma gave me a black hen and some chicks. I had a kitty but it ran away; I had a dog too, but I gave it away. I can milk and gather eggs too. My colt is very cute and I call him Dandy. I have about a mile to go to school, I have a good teacher, am in the Third Grade and study arithmetic, physiology, language and spelling. I like the country much better than the city and I like my guardians best of all, for they are very kind to me."

Mr. M. H. Crider, guardian, writes: "Josephine's conduct is very good, her disposition pleasant and cheerful. She attends church and school regularly with great cheer and enthusiasm; is a leader among her classmates, at play as well as in her classes. She is good company at all times and is hailed with pleasure and smiles by all acquaintances and even by strangers. She is modest about her person and uses no improper language. She is fearless about stock but quick to comprehend danger. She loves horses and is fond of riding and driving them. She works for approbation, gifts and money; is progressing in every way, is quick, witty and amusing. Indeed we are much interested in her and shall for the future study her best interests."

FROM FLORENCE SMITH, AGED 11, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I was very glad to get the Annual Report. I like my home very well and would not like to give it up. I go to school every day and to church and Sunday school whenever the weather is nice. I am getting along quite well at school and am doing some extra studying at home besides my music. Mamma gave me a gold ring for my birthday and my teacher gave me a memory book when school closed. The last day of school I spoke a piece and had a part in a dialogue. When I came here my hair was two inches long and now it is sixteen; I weighed sixty pounds and now I weigh one hundred and ten."

Mrs. M. D. Vinton, guardian, writes: "We are well pleased with Florence for she is a bright little girl and has learned to do a great many things. She can make beds, set the table and straighten up the parlor and is very fond of sewing and fancy work. She has a good memory and once telling is all that is necessary. She is very much interested in her Sunday school and attends church and Epworth League nearly every Sunday. Florence is a good reader and has a very good understanding of what she reads. Our home would be lost without her for she never goes to bed at night without kissing us and we never think of leaving her at home alone. My neighbors laugh at me, but I remember that I was a girl once and had to take all kinds of abuse and I resolved then that nothing of the kind should ever occur in my home. She is singing now as she does her evening work. Two girls whom we raised until of age and our own daughter, all married, were home a few days ago, and seemed a little jealous of Florence, but I told them that I would not live without a girl in my home if they did go off and leave me."

WHITTEN, IOWA.

FROM GRACE REAL, AGED 11, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I like to get the Annual Report because the letters from the boys and girls are so interesting. I also enjoy reading the Youth's Companion. I take the children's page first and afterward the stories. I have a nice teacher this winter and go to school every day even if it is pretty cold sometimes. I have six studies and am in the fifth reader. I like my home and would rather live on the farm than in the city. My brother John and John Allen live about half a mile from me. We have forty books in our school library and we take great pleasure in reading them. Our teacher is reading one to us now called 'Little Women' and the author is Louisa M. Alcott. I have three playmates who go to school with me every day. The last month I was star scholar and got a perfect attendance certificate. We had goose for Thanksgiving and another one for Christmas."

Mr. William Blain, guardian, writes: "Grace goes to school every day and is extra smart in learning, is in the fifth reader. As for Sunday school I am sorry to say that she does not go as often as I would like for she has a long way to go, but she goes as often as weather will permit. Grace is willing to do anything that is asked of her and we like her very much. She is growing fast and has not been sick a day since she came to us."

MARENGO, IOWA.

FROM ALVIN OLSEN, AGED 18, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1899.

"I go to the minister's every Tuesday and Saturday and am going to be confirmed in the spring if I can pass the examination. I have been busy breaking a pony which Mr. Hansen gave but he is not well broken yet. He does very well to ride, but he does not drive well. I have a small road cart and pony harness for him. I have a shotgun and like to go rabbit hunting; I shot one yesterday. Thank you for the Annual Report and the Youth's Companions."

Mr. Jacob C. Hansen, guardian, writes: "Alvin is getting along all right, is healthy and strong and growing like a weed. I think a great deal of him and so do all the family for he is kind and true. I would like to get another good boy who will appreciate a good home; Alvin would like to have a companion. Drop in and visit us when you are around again."

DWIGHT, ILLINOIS.

TO IOWA IN 1899.

"In answer to your request for a letter from each one of us I will try to write you a letter. I am attending the country school now, but expect to be in High School next year, for we have rented the farm for five years and will move to Norway, Benton county, Iowa, on March 1st. I was confirmed in the Lutheran church this fall and am preparing to take part in the Christmas exercises. Mr. Nerison gave me a gold watch when I was confirmed and when we move to town I will get an organ. I am well pleased with my home."

John writes: "I had not time to write before. I am twelve years old. I have a very nice home. I go to school and study arithmetic, physiology, history, grammar, geography and spelling. I go to church, and have a piece to speak for Christmas."

Mr. Alex. Nerison, guardian, writes: "Mary and John behave pretty fair, their disposition is good, they attend school four months in the winter and go to church regularly. We always take them with us when we go visiting and sometimes they go alone. They can both speak Norwegian and Mary can read it quite well. They are both very good in arithmetic."

FROM CHRISTOPHER SPELLMAN, AGED 14, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I thought I would let you know that I am well and hope you are the same. I have a nice home and am well pleased to go where the folks go. I call my guardians mamma and papa. I had a horse to practice on when I was learning to ride and now I have a nice horse. There are a lot of bad boys around here who would rather play ball than go to Sunday school, but I cannot agree with them. Papa sold his farm and is going to Blackhawk county, two miles east of Waterloo. I have two suits of clothes, a saddle, a gold watch and chain and a nice pig. We would like to have you come out and eat Thanksgiving dinner with us. John Heiselbetz came to our house and stayed two days, until he got work. All he had was 85 cents and some clothes."

FROM JOHN C. COWPER, AGE 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I thank you very much for the Youth's Companions and the Annual Report. I liked to read the letter and look at the pictures to see if I know any of the boys. I go to church and Sunday school every Sunday. I do the chores morning and evenings when I go to school and often go out for a drive with Mr. Samson, as I can now handle a team. I shall work in the field next summer. The Botnia river is near us and there are plenty of fish in it."

Mr. W. M. Samson, guardian, writes: "John is in school and at the head of all his classes. He received a Bible for his regular attendance at Sunday school for a year and a nice book for repeating the commandments and the books of the Bible; his teacher is very proud of him. John is a good boy to work, smart and intelligent, but very high tempered and set in his way. It is a hard matter to convince him when he is in the wrong. We get along very nicely most of the time, and he has learned to handle a team and help with all the chores."

LEWIS, IOWA.

FROM OTTO GREENBERGER, AGE 13, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1899.

"I am going to write you a letter and tell you how I am getting along. I go to school all the time, get along well in my studies and have a good home. We do not go to church very often, but I read in my Bible every Sunday. We have had a little snow, but our farm work is all done for this fall. I thank you for the Annual Report you sent me and the Asylum for what it has done for me. I have had my picture taken and I will send you one. Please tell the boys in the Asylum that if they will come out west they will learn a great many things and have an opportunity to become useful men. I cannot think of anything else to write, so I will close."

WALSHVILLE, ILLINOIS.

FROM ANDREW RYAN, AGED 16, WHO CAME WEST IN 1899.

"I am having a good time and like to live here. In the summer time I help with the fruit and I like that kind of work. We have all kinds, cherries, strawberries, raspberries, grapes, gooseberries and apples and peaches; these are the kinds I like to eat, too. I go to school every day and like my teacher. I also go to church and Sunday school regularly. My guardians are very kind to me and treat me as they would their own child; I like them and always will."

Mr. A. J. Montgomery, guardian, writes: "Andrew's conduct and disposition are very good and his report card from school gives his deportment as the best. During the time he has been with us we have always found him to be truthful and industrious. I do not know of a better boy than Andrew and we think a great deal of him."

PRINCETON, MISSOURI.

FROM LIZZIE PAFFRATH, AGED 17, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1899.

"To-day I received a beautiful present of which I think very much. It is a little booklet entitled "Nearer My God to Thee." I think very much of that song because it was the favorite of one of our martyred Presidents. Dr. Bruce sent it to me, and I thank him very much. This Christmas has been a very pleasant one; my guardians gave me a nice book and I received several other presents. The little boy and girl were very happy when they awakened in the morning and found their stockings full of goodies, besides books and toys. I was very pleased to receive the Annual Report and think it ever so much nicer to have the house of reception at the Juvenile Asylum. I like the Youth's Companion very much and have kept every number. I am very grateful to the Asylum for placing me in a good comfortable home. We get along all right now, but I used to get very angry when I first came here. I have tried very hard to control my temper, and they all think I have improved—grandma says I have grown older and learned better. We are looking forward to the time when we will move to Iowa for we are going to be among Americans."

STEWART, ILLINOIS.

FROM HARRY LICKEY, AGED 12, AND CLARA LIOKEY, AGED 11, WHO
WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I was very glad to get the Annual Report and thank you very much for your good advice. I have a good home, have learned to do all kinds of farm work, which is just what I like. We had 80 acres of corn this year and most of it will yield 50 bushels to the acre. The corn will be out this week and then I will start in for the winter term of school. We are feeding 28 head of cattle and 90 hogs. Some of the steers are awful fat. I like to stall feed cattle and I think if I get to be a man that is what I will do. I got a nice pair of felts and overs and I tell you they are warm. We had a fine big turkey for Thanksgiving, and we will have another for Christmas, and all the candy we can eat for a week, last year we had seven pounds."

Clara writes: "I was glad to get the Report and learn that you are finding homes in the west for so many unfortunate children. I have a good home, a very kind father and mother and I hope that I shall live long enough to pay them for all their kindness. I think that I will never want to leave them, but they say that when I grow up I will. We have lots of turkeys and chickens and big fat cattle and hogs. Tell all the boys and girls to come west and eat turkey."

Mr. J. W. Terhune, guardian, writes: "Clara's health has improved and she is getting stout and growing fast. She is very smart and quick to learn anything, while Harry is slow but steady and truthful. Neither of them have any faults, and I hardly think that two better children are living."

WOODBURN, IOWA.

FROM BERNARD NOWACK, AGED 12, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I like my home, go to school most of the time and am getting along finely. If every boy liked the country as well as I do and knew it they would all want to come out west. I am very thankful for your trouble in bringing me out here for I have very kind guardians and like them very much. We have 100 head of cattle, 15 horses, 55 hogs and 29 sheep. We have no place to keep the sheep and they make us lots of trouble. I do not like them. We had a good dog which could drive as many cattle and sheep as six men but he was killed. I felt very bad about it and I can hardly get along without him. I thank you for the Annual Report and the Companions which I enjoy reading. I go to Sunday school in the summer, but in the winter we have none. I milk five cows before breakfast and before I go to school I help turn the cattle into the stalls, and in the evening I bring them in. Last spring I staid at home and helped put in the crops. Next year we will farm only our own land and we will not have to keep any hired men. I shall like it better."

GRINNELL, IOWA.

FROM HERMAN SANDERS, AGED 16, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1898.

"I was glad to get the Annual Report and thank you for your kind letter. I am thankful to the Asylum for finding me such a good home and kind guardians, and I am very well satisfied out here. I have been in the State of Illinois three years and have learned more than I ever would in the city. I enjoy reading the Youth's Companions. I have very good health, and am able to do all kinds of farm work. I like to take care of stock and farm, but we do not have very much land to farm. I send my regards to the Asylum and wish you much success."

Mr. William Guthrie, guardian, writes: We are well pleased with Herman; his conduct and disposition are good; he is a good, generous, kind-hearted boy and I am not afraid to trust him with anything. He is perfectly well and has grown a great deal since he came here. I can send him off with my team and he will do as well as I could myself. We do not have much land to farm, but Herman does most of it. He goes to school and makes good progress in his studies. He acts as though he liked his home and tries hard to please us. We will give him the best chance we can."

COMPTON, ILLINOIS.

FROM LOUIS LEROY, AGED 14, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1897.

"I am getting along very well and so is Charles. We go to the same school. I like farming and I hope that the other boys who came west when I did are getting along all right. This spring we are going to farm 100 acres, part of it in corn and the rest in oats. I like to plow, and can drive a team first rate. I can pick 50 bushels of corn in a day and they tell me that is doing pretty well. I am trapping now and have $5.55 this fall. We have a nice flock of sheep and I like to feed them. I thank you for the Annual Report and the Companions."

GREEN RIVER, ILLINOIS.

FROM WILLIAM HUGUENIN, AGED 14, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1896.

"I do not know much news to write only that we have moved to a warmer climate, Safford, Graham County, Arizona, where we do not have to wear overshoes or overcoats. This is a fine country; we have had pretty days ever since we came, the grass is fresh and green and the stock is in fine shape. I tell you, Mr. Shields, you prosper by being a good boy. My father and mother would not let me go out nights and I thought I was the worst abused boy, but now I see that it was for the best and I hope other boys will prosper by being obedient. I had a jolly Christmas and was pleased with everything I got. Well, I will send you one of my pictures and let you see what an ugly chap I am. I hope you will answer soon."

SAFFORD, ARIZONA.

FROM LILLIE HERMAN, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1896. AGED 16.

"I thank you for the Report and Companions which I have enjoyed very much. I have been in my home nearly seven years and expect to stay until I am of age. I have a good home and wish all the poor children in New York could find a home like mine. Of course I must obey my guardians, but I am glad that I do for when I do as I am told I know that I am doing right. I go to school four months in a year and will finish my country school this term. I do not go church as much as I would like because it is too far. My brother has a good home in Mendota; I saw him last fall when we went there for my sister's wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Hoberg would like to get a little boy about four or five and I wish you would get them one for I know he would have a fine home."

Mrs. Wm. Hoberg, Guardian, writes: "Lillie is well and has grown to perfect womanhood. She has outgrown her worst faults and we are proud of her. We love her as our own, and our home is hers as long as she wishes to remain. She does well at school and we are willing to give her a college education but she does not care for it. She is skilled in all kinds of housework except cooking, but she will learn that next summer, for I wish her to be perfect in all. We would like to take a boy as small as we can get: We love children and our home is open to them."

ODELL, ILLINOIS.

FROM ANNIE LAUFFER, AGED 16, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1896.

"I started to school last Monday and get along pretty well; I have six studies. We go to church once in a while but not very often. I help with the milking morning and evening and can do lots of other work. I am strong and healthy and have not been sick this fall. Christmas will soon be here; but I do not know what Santa Claus will bring me this time."

Mrs. John White, Guardian, writes: "Annie is getting along very nicely and we think a great deal of her. As she is the youngest, I think she is a little spoiled. She is quite a help to me and is a good obedient child. I believe that she and her brother are as happy as you could wish them to be. The country agrees with them for they are both hearty."

FROM HERMAN O. MAKEY, AGED 16, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1895.

"This is Thanksgiving Day and among the many things for which I am thankful are the Annual Report and the Youth's Companion which I enjoy very much. I am in the eighth grade and on the first examination I made 94 and on the second 95.

I have not missed a day this fall. I am very fond of books and last summer I bought me a Webster's International Dictionary. Upon making a list of the books I have read I find that I have read forty-two. I go to Sunday school and church."

Miss Mollie Summerville, Guardian, writes: Herman is strictly honest and truthful; he likes money but always puts it to some good use. We have always given him some spending money, thinking it would teach him how to use it. He has always been obedient and contented. He is growing very fast and we will not have a little boy very long."

EDGAR, ILLINOIS.

FROM BERNARD GAFFNEY, AGED 20, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1895.

"I always take great pleasure in the Annual Report as they come each year and in the last I find there have been some improvements at the Asylum especially in the business course. I have been in my present home almost eight years and have never regretted coming out here. I had two cousins who came out when I did; but they went back after they had been here only a short time. I had a chance to go back; but I knew that New York City was no place to make a success in life. The west is the place, where one has the better opportunity to become a Christian and in time to have a farm of his own. If it had not been for this great Institution no doubt there are thousands of children who would have taken the road to ruin, and yet there are parents who have children placed among farmers that think they are sold as slaves; but that is a great mistake. I lived in Illinois seven years before my guardian moved to Iowa, and I believe that I like it better there. The soil is better and there are not so many rocks. Mr. Dickey has promised to give me seventy-five dollars more than my contract requires, and I expect to leave $200 of it with him. I have an offer of twenty dollars per month for this summer and I am going to save my money so that in time I can buy a farm for myself."

Mr. A. D. Dickey, guardian, writes: Bernard Gaffney is all right—a good boy, or rather a man for he is twenty-one years old the 10th of next March. As I will not need him he has decided to work for one of the neighbors. Bernard is just a first class boy and has more friends than anybody. He is a boy that will be all right in any place. He saves his money and some day he will be the owner of property. I don't know what to say of him except that he is all right, healthy and hearty, mind and body."

LINDEN, IOWA.

FROM ERNEST BAUER, AGED 19, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1893.

"I am writing these lines to let the children know something about country life. It is very nice to live on a farm where you can take care of the cattle and hogs and take a team and go into the field to work. We have our farm work all finished up for this year. I went back to New York this fall to visit relatives and would have gone to the Asylum if I could have done it. I have a brother in Iowa and I am expecting him to visit me before long."

Mrs. M. Bracken, guardian, writes: "Ernest is getting along nicely and is perfectly satisfied with his home. Perhaps he has it a little different from most boys. He has all the spending money he needs, has eighty-five dollars out on interest and enough laid by to buy him a two-year old colt which he has already chosen. Last fall I gave him sixty dollars when he went to New York for a visit. I am very well pleased with my boy and think that he will stay until his time is up if no one coaxes him away and I think there is no one around here who would do it."

HAZELHURST, ILLINOIS.

FROM CLEMENTINA CIPRIANO, AGED 19, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1892.

"I have been in Mt. Carroll since leaving Lena last January. I attended the Francis Shiner Academy until June. I was able to do this by working very hard. My school year ended very successfully and I received an award of honor by getting the first prize in my English class. I have reasons to be gratified as the scholastic work of the F. S. A. is considered very high. I only regret that I cannot continue my studies, but financially I am unable to do so. My father who resides at Nutley, N. J., wishes me to come home but says that if I do I must work. To do this it will mean to give up all thought of an education and go to work as my younger brother and sister have been compelled to do. While I stay here I still have some hope of acquiring an education. I have been working out since school closed in June, but I get so tired of the routine of household drudgery that I become melancholy and despondent, for my aspirations go higher than just a common 'kitchen maid.' I wish you would advise me what to do in regard to returning to my father. I feel comparatively alone in the world."

MT. CARROLL, ILLINOIS.

FROM LOUIS JANN, AGED 23, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1892.

“Thinking that you would like to hear from me, I am writing this to thank you for the report and to tell you how I am getting along. I am well and am still in my old home with Mr. Baker, and they treat me just as if I were one of the family. I can never be thankful enough for the good home which was secured for me. I would advise all the boys and girls in the New York Juvenile Asylum to come West, get a good home and behave themselves. If they will do this they will never regret it. After December first we will be again in Astoria, Illinois, for Mr. Baker expects now to devote his time to preaching. He is district evangelist for the German Baptist Church in Illinois. I thank you for the past kindness and wish you continued success.”

Appendix B.

LETTERS FROM GUARDIANS.

FROM MR. GEO. JOHNSTON, MONTI, IOWA.—REPORT OF HARRY KENNEDY, AGED 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1901.

“Harry Kennedy, our little charge, is getting along quite well, is going to school and seems quite interested in his studies. He went all of the fall term and stood high in both conduct and work. He attends church and instructions every Sunday, has been confirmed and seems religiously inclined, and truthful as far as we can see. His worse faults are his crankiness and forgetfulness. He has to be told several times and urged to get him to do what little work we have for him to do. His health is not good and his eyes are weak but he is growing quite fast. We love Harry dearly and I trust, God helping, that we may rear him in such a way that he will be an honor to all who have been instrumental in his upbringing. The Asylum deserves great credit for the good training given to these little ones.”

FROM MR. BENJAMIN NOWLIN, AMES, IOWA.—REPORT OF EDNA THOMPSON, AGED 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

“Edna is in good health and spirits, a good and obedient child, quick to respond when asked to assist and very kind to our two babies who love her dearly. When she came to us she was quite wild; but her disposition has become much more quiet. She attends school all of the times except in very stormy weather. She has been in school six months, is a good scholar and learns fast. Her teacher says she is quite proud of her. We would give her lessons in music as she learns it quite readily; but we can get no teacher. She can play some now. Edna has attended church and Sunday school very regularly and seems to enjoy it, but will not be able to go much this winter. She seems anxious to do right in all things and has an especial desire to lead a good life. She has learned to do a great deal of housework and does it well. She can help with almost any kind of work that is not too heavy. Her health is very good, she has not been sick since she came here. Every one who knows her, likes her, we treat her just the same as our own and think a great deal of her—in short we could not keep house without her. We received the Annual Report and the Companions for which Edna is very thankful.”

FROM MRS. NICHOLAS HENTZ, OTTERVILLE, IOWA—REPORT OF ELLA ABRAMS, AGED 9, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

“Ella, whom we call Nellie, is a very kind, affectionate and truthful child. Of course she has some faults; her temper is a little cranky, she tries to be obedient but is very heedless and absent-minded. I believe that with careful and judicious training all these will be outgrown. When all is said, she is not a bad child. She seems to be subject to headaches, but is very plucky and will not give up. I think they are due to catarrh of the head. She is happy and likes her home and would not like to leave it. She has plenty of warm clothes for the winter and will be in school every day that the weather will permit.

She learns well, taking great pride in her work at school. I teach her some every evening, and for recreation she reads books from the school library. Nellie likes her school, her teacher and her playmates. She is always ready for church on Sunday morning and we always take her with us. She would have written you a nice little letter which she had planned, but she came home to-day with a headache and had to give up writing. She wishes me to write a few things for her. She likes to get the Companions, in which she can read quite a few stories, and enjoyed the Annual Report very much. She likes to read the letters from the children and look at the pictures. She says I must be sure to tell you that she likes her home and does not wish to leave it. We like her very much, though she is a child which will require a great deal of tender care for a few years."

FROM MRS. J. J. WILLIAMS, HAZLETON, IOWA—REPORT OF WALTER JAMES, AGED 8, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

"It is with a sad heart that I write you that Mr. Williams departed this life October 20th after short illness. This is a hard blow for me and Walter takes it very hard, as he thought a great deal of him. We were both very much attached to Walter and I would like to keep him just the same, for I do not know what I would do without his childish prattle in my sad and lonely home. I could not love him or do more for him if he were my son. I have kept up the home teachings of the Sunday school lessons, but was unable to attend church on account of sickness, and it is too far to send him alone, and now not being able to drive we cannot go. Walter has a set of new books and will start in for the winter term of school to-morrow.

The school is so near that he comes home for his dinner. He is a very bright boy and learns fast. He enjoys the Companions very much; I read them to him now, but he will soon be able to read them for himself."

FROM ROBERT GINTHER, INDEPENDENCE, IOWA—REPORT OF WILLIAM MARQUARDT, AGED 11, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1900.

"I wish I could give as good a report of William as I know will be given of some others. William seems to be very forgetful or absent-minded. We tell him when and how to do things, and he will do everything all right for a few times and then neglect them altogether. He is good to work and we want him to learn all he can and would like to make something of him beside just a laborer. He had a peculiar disposition, and his conduct at school has not been good. His teacher could do nothing with him until I punished him, and he has been doing better since. He has not lost a day of school, and has been tardy only twice since in June. He progresses slowly in his studies and does not learn to talk plain. One thing about William I cannot understand, and that is his disinclination to talk. He never volunteers a remark, and when asked a question simply says, 'I don't know.' At first I thought him bashful, but he is just the same now. He cares nothing for reading, and sometimes when we try to get him to read he will look through the paper pretending to do so, but when he gets through and we ask him what he had read he can tell us nothing. When he received the Report he looked it through and I asked him how many letters there were from the children and he said none. When he learned that I was writing this letter he began to cry, thinking that he would be taken away. He likes his home and we like him, and would do well by him if he would only put forth a little effort for himself."

FROM MRS. DELIA RAVLIN, LISCOMB, IOWA—REPORT OF MARY MARIANO, AGED 14, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"Mary goes to school regularly and we go to church and Sunday school every Sunday unless something prevents. She is progressing rapidly in all directions and is as good as could be expected. She wishes to do well and has never been spoken to in school for misconduct. She is trying to learn all she can and we think lots of her. She is as good as the children who have always been in good homes and had everything done for them. She is a proud little girl and likes to appear as well as any one. Of course she has faults common to children, but a little good advice helps a great deal. She is learning to do housework and does everything well. She has pieced blocks of three quilts and they are all to be all her own. She is becoming more interested in reading and enjoys the Youth's Companion and the Annual Report. The letters from the children interest her very much. She is lots of company and we would not like to part with her."

FROM MR. J. C. KIRKPATRICK, TIPTON, IOWA—REPORT OF LORETTA PARKS, AGED 10, AND ALEXANDER PARKS, AGED 8, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"Loretta and Alexander are well and contented, have missed but one meal since coming here, are both growing and there is a decided improvement in their looks, so that you would hardly believe them to be the same children you brought here over two years ago. We are sending them to school every day, and they like to go, but are making little progress. Alex is naturally very bright but will not try. He had to stand on the floor every day last term but two to learn his lessons. Loretta tries hard but is very slow. They are reading in the second reader. We gave her a term of music lessons but she is too young to appreciate such an advantage. There are plenty of children who are not as good as these two, but there is room for improvement, but though they try us sometimes we would not wish to give them up and they would not leave us. They are inclined to be stubborn and saucy, but with firmness and careful management they are not hard to control. We always take them with us to church and never leave them at home alone. They enjoy the Companions and the Report but read very little in them. We like to have some of the Asylum people come to visit us."

FROM M. AMOS MILLER, NEW SHARON, IOWA—REPORT OF LIZZIE SMITH, AGED 13, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1899.

"I am glad to say that Lizzie is doing quite well, much better than when I wrote to you last. She is not nearly so forgetful and is as obedient as is common among children. She has been in school eight months and will enclose her report card which shows very good work. Our church privileges are not as good as we would like as we do not have regular services. Lizzie attended Sunday school during the summer months. She is slow about her work and in her studies but we get along without any difficulty. Her health has been very good.

Lizzie writes: "I like my home very much and have plenty of good clothes. I like to go to school but cannot go now on account of the smallpox. I can bake bread and pie and get you a good dinner."

FROM MR. J. V. HANBY, SUMMERSET, IOWA—REPORT OF WILLIAM HAIGHT, AGED 10, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1898.

“Willie is going to school and has been in school about seven months each year since he came to us. He learns very fast and his classmates are all two or three years older than he. He grows rapidly, and when we got him his new overcoat we had to get it large enough for a fifteen year old. He is a good boy to work and care for the stock and I think his disposition is improving. He goes to church and Sunday school every sunday, and his teacher say he is the most attentive one in the class. He is a great reader and is always glad to get the Companions, the Annual Report and the letter. Other boys tell him he could get wages and I fear sometimes that he will leave me, but I hope as he gets older that he will appreciate his home more and more. We think so much of him that we are anxious to keep him with us. His mother and brother write him very nice letters and always tell him to be a good boy.”

FROM OTTO E. DREEKE, ROCHELLE, ILLINOIS—REPORT OF FRED BAUMANN, AGED 10, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1898.

“Fred is doing very well and was christened last spring in the German Lutheran church. He goes to the public school every day and German school on Saturday. He enjoys good health and I think if he keeps on the way he is doing now that I can make a smart man out of him. It is my aim to give him a good education in both English and German so that he can do business as well in one as the other. If he stays with me and does his part I shall give him a good education and a good start, but he must learn English and German equally well. If you are ever down in this neighborhood, please come and see us.”

FROM C. F. OBERMAN, MEDIAPOLIS, IOWA—REPORT OF LOUIS THOMAS, AGED 12, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1898.

“In reply to your request I will say that our boy Louis is doing fairly well. He attends Sunday school regularly and conducts himself as an average country boy. He goes to school and is very bright, being above the average in his studies. He is very regular in his work and is always in good shape for sleep and meals. He has never been in the least out of fix since he came here and is a good one to look out for number one, so I think he will take care of himself. We have no fault to find and we never hear any complaint from him, so take it all in all I think we get along better than nine out of ten get along with their own children.”

FROM C. W. GILBERT, KILBOURNE, IOWA—REPORT OF WILLIAM LYONS, AGED 15, WHO CAME TO IOWA IN 1898.

“William is doing as well as any boy could. He is a good boy to work, takes a great interest in the stock, and in fact has charge of the barnyard, and the stock looks well. He is small for his age, but is stout and hearty and never has to take any medicine. He has plenty of warm clothes and goes to school when there is any to go to, is well pleased with his home and says that his name is no longer Lyon, but Gilbert. We have sold our home and bought seventy acres one half mile from town which I think is better for William as it will take him away from town boys who never have anything to do but get into mischief. He gets letters from his brother Joe and they visit back and forth. Joe is about twenty-eight miles away and is in a good home. If he continues to be a good boy he will be a rich man some day, for Mr. Rogers is greatly taken with him and is able to push him along as soon as he is ready to go into business for himself. Well, Mr. Shields, I will close by assuring you that Bill is all right, and any time you wish to hear from us drop us a card and we will respond."

FROM C. B. ELLIS, MILAN, ILLINOIS—REPORT OF ALFRED WERNER, AGED 19, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1897.

"Alfred Werner, my ward, is obedient, faithful, studious, economical and well-behaved, in short all that I could require. His spare time is devoted to reading, and his chief amusement aside from that is hunting wild game. He has not attended church as regularly of late on account of his work this season being much harder, his full time being taken except on holiday and a few picnics which he attended and a visit to Buffalo Bill's Wild West. His growth in both mind and body has been in a healthy direction. Alfred is not in school this winter, having passed the required mark and securing excellent grades in all his studies. I could dispose of ten boys right in this neighborhood to-morrow if they were all Alfreds. We are thinking about selling or trading our farm and moving to Missouri, but if we cannot do so to good advantage, we will stay here and I would like another boy in the spring about 10 to 14 years old."

FROM MR. J. J. BAILEY, CANTRALL, ILLINOIS—REPORT OF FRED GUNTER, AGED 16, WHO CAME TO ILLINOIS IN 1896.

"Fred has done much better this last year than ever before, can do all kinds of farm work and helped this year to tend one hundred sixty acres of corn and fifty acres of small grain. Besides this we hauled one hundred cords of wood to the soldiers at Camp Lincoln. All this had to be done in June and July, right in the busy season, and Fred did as much as either one of the other hands. He is liked by everybody, and people say he is an exception of a boy. He does not care to go to school any more, but has a gun and prefers to go hunting when there is snow on the ground so that he can track the rabbits. He attends church when we have services near enough, but we are eight miles from town and only have preaching at the school-house once in a long time. Fred has discovered that there is no place like home and seems very well contented. He corresponds with his sisters in New York. Last summer the team ran away with him and he had a narrow escape with his life. He was dragged over the brick pavement for about two blocks, his clothing was badly torn and he was very badly bruised all over and had to be in the hospital for some time, and it was quite a while after he came home before he could do any work. He is all right now and can do as much work as any one. He was very glad to get the Report from the Asylum."

Report of Executive Committee.

To the Board of Directors of the New York Juvenile Asylum:

Some time since the committee appointed by you on plan and scope of asylum work presented their report to the Board, including in their recommendations the following as the second recommendation:

“That the future development of the Asylum's work should be along the lines of what is known as the ‘Cottage System.’ For the accomplishment of this purpose, the Asylum should, at an early date, acquire a new site better adapted for this work than its present one; and to enable the carrying out of these plans, the committee recommend that all the New York real estate of the Asylum should be sold as soon as possible, the sales to begin with the unused portion of the real estate and to be continued at intervals until the whole real estate has been sold, unless it should be ascertained that a better financial result can be obtained by selling all the property at one time.”

This recommendation was, after considerable discussion in the Board, referred to the Executive Committee, which was requested to consider the recommendation and present a further and detailed report thereon. In pursuance of this requirement the Executive Committee would respectfully present the following report:

There are two main lines along which the work of an institution such as that of the New York Juvenile Asylum can be considered:

1. The financial basis of the work, and,
2. The distinctly philanthropic work.

Without a due consideration of the financial basis on which the work is to be carried on it is, of course, impossible to do any work successfully, and it is for the direct purpose of insuring a proper consideration of the financial basis, that boards of directors are entrusted by law with the powers possessed by them. This aspect, therefore, of our work may properly be first discussed.

It is scarcely necessary to remind the members of this Board that this Institution originally appealed, not only to the State and county for support, but received very considerable sums by way of endowment from charitably disposed persons; that in the early days of the Institution's history land was purchased and buildings erected from the funds partially derived from the State and partially from contributions of benevolent persons. To-day the Institution has, as its basis of financial operations, an endowment in the shape of land and buildings received from a past generation, and a fund for the meeting of current expenses almost entirely derived from the public moneys. Apart from the endowment of land and buildings, the Institution has succeeded in acquiring a small amount of invested property. On the first day of January, 1897, the invested funds of the Institution which could properly be described as capital, consisted of $106,656.19. This was including a certificate of deposit in the Central Trust Company. It is also, perhaps, scarcely necessary to point out that while the sums last named produced a revenue—being invested—the land and building endowments of the Asylum produce no revenue and are only useful for current needs so far as they serve the purpose of a shelter and abiding place for the inmates of the Institution, and it is also a matter of common knowledge that a large portion of the property of the Institution on the upper end of the island, namely, all of the property west of Eleventh avenue, is not used to-day by the Institution for the purpose of training or shelter for the inmates, nor is it revenue producing; that is to say, the Asylum is at present holding some 84 lots which are not used by it in its work, nor are they present sources of revenue. The financial justification, therefore, for holding so much, at least, of its property, must be found, if it be found at all, in the supposed increase of these vacant lands in value, an increase which must be sufficient to counterbalance the present value of the land at a fair rate of interest, if it is to be considered a proper investment of property on the part of the directors.

But not only must the loss of interest be calculated in the holding of this unused land, but the entrenchment on capital through carrying it. Within this year, 1897, the Juvenile Asylum has paid out assessments, interest on assessments and legal expenses in adjusting assessments for its land on the northern part of the island, thirty-six thousand, eight hundred and seventy-eight and 99-100 ($36,878.99) dollars. Of this there has been practically a rebate of $1,170.16 interest on award of land received from the city. On the remainder, $17,000 was paid by land taken by the city for streets at an award value of $17,000, being a deduction from the land endowment of the Institution of at least that amount ($17,000) and the balance out of invested funds. That is to say, $18,708.83 has been paid out of invested funds for the purpose of meeting charges on real estate, and $17,000 worth of real estate itself has been parted with for the sake of holding the remainder.

It is, of course, not to be suggested for a moment that it is the duty of the Asylum to part with even unused land, at a time when a sale cannot be made profitably, but the consideration which we would submit to the Board is whether it is not the pressing duty of the Board to make such arrangements, that at the earliest available time unused land shall be disposed of. In making these arrangements, however, one further consideration must be kept in mind, namely, that the presence of such an institution as that of the New York Juvenile Asylum will tend to depress the price of land adjoining it. All of the property about it will feel the effect of the depressing influence, unless assurance be given in some form that at some time the Asylum itself will remove from its present location. That is to say, unless the plan be so far worked out that a statement can be made that the removal of the entire Asylum is contemplated at some date, no such price could be realized by the Asylum from its unused land as could be realized on a sale if it were known that the Asylum itself would in the future be removed from its present location. Considered, then, from the financial standpoint, it is not to be questioned whether the Asylum is justified in holding unused land as an investment which will not probably repay the loss of interest on it, and especially holding that land when the conditions are such that unless the whole Institution be removed there is no probability of obtaining, at any time, a satisfactory price for the land unused.

So far the question has been considered simply on the basis of finance, but surely this is not, as has been pointed out, the only basis upon which such a problem can be considered by this institution. The institution is incorporated to care for children. In order to care for children it is necessary that its Board should properly care for the property interests with which it is entrusted, but the primary purpose is the care of the children and not the care of the property. Now, what is to be said with regard to our present location as a site for such an institution as ours? It is evidently not the same site which it was when the institution was placed here and the first building erected in 1855. Then, while on Manhattan Island, the location was practically in the open country; there was no settlement about us; there were no car lines or omnibuses adjacent to the property; it was a farm and was surrounded by open fields. True, it was in the limits of a city, and wherever the institution is to be it must be within the limits of the city, but it was as nearly a country location as possible and it had the advantages of isolation from the city proper, of open fields and freedom from the restraints of city life, and also freedom from the increasing burdens of assessment and improvement. If the Asylum is to remain where it is, the work of the institution is to be more and more seriously affected by the advance of the city. Already great crowds of persons pass the Asylum gate every Sunday afternoon and loiter about the grounds both on the 11th avenue side and on the Amsterdam avenue side; already new streets are being opened through the Asylum property, and in the near future other streets are to be opened which will cut through the playgrounds, and, in some instances, the edifices of the institution, and more and more, as the years go on, will the inroad of the city interfere with the conduct of the institution.

But more serious than any of these interferences is the question presented by the problem of the barrack or congregate system of the housing of the children as opposed to the cottage home system alluded to in the resolution of the Committee on

Plan and Scope. At present, as all of the Board are aware, the children, both boys and girls, are brought together in large dormitories. Their life is the life of an institution, well regulated by rules, but the rules are those of an institution, not of a home. From the time that the child rises in the morning until it goes to bed at night, it is governed by rules, which are necessary and admirable from the standpoint of the institution, but which are impossible of enforcement or imitation in the home. Now, the children whom we receive, are received, as we all know, from many different homes and for many different causes, but of all, it may be said, that the basal reason for their being placed in our care is that by misfortune or fault, they have not received the best home environment, and it is to replace this unfortunate lack that they are entrusted to us for a season. When they leave us, at the end of eighteen months or two years, they are to go back, not to other institutions, but to homes, either the homes of parents or of friends, or homes in a new community. In the great bulk of cases they are to be returned to their parents or friends; thus out of the 33,723 children received in the institution up to the 31st day of December, 1896, 22,366—more than two-thirds of the entire number—had been so restored to parents and friends. Now, can it be asserted that the influence of the institution as an institution, has been as effective in rectifying the error and supplying the lack in the lives of these children as would have been the training of the home where the child was placed in conditions much more nearly resembling those of its own home than it can be in an institution conducted as ours is, on the barrack or congregate system? In order to answer this question let us consider first the case of the girls, of whom there are at the present time in our institution some 260. Perhaps no better statement of the matter could be made than that given on this very subject by Miss Ellice Hopkins, the well known English philanthropist, in an article on the Industrial Training of Pauper and Neglected girls in the "Contemporary Review," for July, 1882, from which the following extracts are taken:

"Now the question I want to ask is this: Is this barrack system the right one to adopt for girls? Will it train a girl for her future work in life? Does it give her the best available substitute for a home, the woman's especial sphere? Let us clearly recognize here the initial difference of a man's and a woman's work in life. The working man is largely concerned with mechanical labor, as a sailor, a soldier, a railway porter, in workshops and out-door labor; he works more or less, in a gang, the training of disciplined numbers in no way unfits him for his work in life. The woman's work, on the contrary, as the mother of the family, or even as a household servant, is individual and personal; it draws largely on the moral qualities; it is capable of no mechanical subdivision and to do it in a mechanical spirit is to do it badly. * * *

"Now, then, what training do your huge, loveless barracks give a girl for her future work as the mother of a family on small means, or as a nurse maid or maid-of-all-work in a tradesman's family? Of course, where nearly 2,000 children are warehoused together, everything on so large a scale must be done to a great degree by machinery. * * * All that endless education in capability and contrivance and 'making things to do' that life in a laborer's cottage would have given her, your pauper child is without. She has never known what it is to learn to carry a pail of water upstairs without slopping it; she has never learned to bake a loaf in a small cottage oven without it being 'caught;' she has never hushed a fractious child to sleep, with little pats and songs and cooings. Her clothes grow like a sheep's, upon her back; she has never gone shopping, and learned to lay out the hard-earned coppers to their full four farthings worth. Holidays, that three-fold bursting up of spring and blossoming time in a child's years, are of course impossible in these large schools, except in the form of a bi-weekly half-holiday. The preservation of order requires the same grey grind of lessons all through the year while we overlook the fact that the narrow experience of a workhouse girl's life leaves half the words in her lesson-books without any answering conception. * * *

"But more to be deplored than the mental stagnation is the non-development of the girl's affections. The most capacious matron's heart cannot mother 1,600 children; indeed, I happen to know that any tendency to show fondness for any particular girl on the part of the officers has to be suppressed, as only tending to jealousies and disorders where the number is too great for affection to be extended to all. The district-school girl, therefore, is never individualized. She has never been gathered to a human heart in her childish griefs; the sweet, cheap, old childish remedy for the sore bruises of life, the kiss that makes all hurts well, she has never known. * * *

"But the worst feature of the training of pauper children remains behind, and applies to boys and girls alike, and that is, the absence of all classification. All who have had to do with the training of children, especially children that come of bad stocks, lay paramount stress on the importance of classification. Yet in all pauper schools a foul stream of casual children is allowed to flow continually through the disciplined mass of our permanent children." * * *

Such is the statement of the objections to the barrack system. Now let us consider, in a concrete case, the results of the cottage system as contrasted with our own work.

The Connecticut Industrial School for Girls had, on the first day of October, 1896, 241 girls; our own institution has something like 260. With us these girls are housed in five dormitories; they receive instruction with us in the ordinary school duties, and some of them are assigned to assist in the work of the institution, in the halls, some in the dining-room, some in the kitchen, some in the sewing room, some in the mending room, and so on. In the Connecticut school about twenty-four girls occupy a cottage; each girl has a small room of her own, simply furnished as a hall-bedroom would be likely to be in a city house; each girl is responsible for the care of her room, and the housework of the whole cottage is done by the inmates under the care of a matron and assistant matron, who, with the exception of a teacher who has a room in the cottage, are the only inmates of the cottage. Thus, instead of the work being divided up, some girls doing only work in the halls, others only in the dining-room, etc., as with us, each girl does some portion of the housework and a rotation is kept up, so that each girl has an opportunity to learn the various kind of housework—waiting at table, cooking, etc. In addition to this, all of the girls who are of a suitable age, are placed in dressmaking classes and cooking classes and no girl leaves the institution until she has graduated from these classes. The State pays to this school $3.00 per week for the support of the inmates, making a per capita receipt of $156 per year. Formerly, some of the work done by the inmates was sold, but that feature of support has been abolished.

Now, the difference between the two systems is thoroughly well illustrated in the case of these two institutions, which have nearly the same number of girls. The girl who leaves our institution, except in some specific task, has received no instruction to fit her for life, either in the home or at service, nor has she been trained in the habits of home life. The dining-room of our institution far more nearly resembles that of an inferior hotel than it does that of a home; table manners are not and cannot be taught; the proper service of a table is not and cannot be taught; the care of a room is not and cannot be taught. In short, in all the relations of ordinary domestic life, the barrack system pursued by us does not educate the girls. The cottage system does. But as Miss Hopkins has pointed out, and as the contrast of these two institutions show, the nicer sides of character development are even more neglected in the barrack system than are these homely duties. We cannot expect that the refined influence and privacy of a room which is the girl's own, can be obtained where the girls are all placed together in one large dormitory. The possibility for study, for thought and for character development is eliminated; the possibility for the diffusion of evil habits, improper conversation and idle gossip is infinitely increased. From the standpoint, then, of the educator or of the moralist, can it be questioned that the cottage system is superior to the barrack system?

Now, as to the question of cost. The Committee has endeavored to answer this question by a careful canvass among American institutions, but it is not yet in receipt of the necessary figures to tabulate and arrive at a definite answer; a summary of the answers received is hereto annexed and marked Appendix C. But, if the experience of English institutions is any criterion, the cost of maintaining children on the cottage system is less than that of maintaining them on the barrack or aggregate plan. By this is meant, not only that the cottage system as it obtains in many institutions in England and on the Continent costs less than the barrack system as it obtains in America, but that the institutions maintained on the cottage home system in England compared with the English institutions conducted on the barrack or aggregate system, show less cost per capita for inmates. Moreover, the best of the English homes are now conducted on the cottage home plan as are the best of the European institutions. Dr. Barnado, who is known all over the world for his work for boys and girls has repeatedly stated that he not only found the cottage system greatly preferable to the other system from the standpoint of the benefit done to the inmates, but that it was much more economical and that he should never build another institution on the barrack or congregate plan, and similar testimony was secured by Mr. Ward, one of the members of our own Board, from a number of other men in England who are experts on the care of children. The results of Mr. Ward's investigations he has kindly embodied in a report which is hereto annexed and marked Appendix D.

A further useful result of the cottage home system as opposed to the aggregate system is the possibility of a useful emulation among the children and the development of an esprit de corps. The various houses in a well administered institution on the cottage home plan are graded as, for instance, is the case in the Connecticut institution referred to above, and it is an honor for the girl to be promoted from one house to another. Moreover, between themselves, the houses have a certain friendly rivalry as to appearance, neatness; and in certain cases, contests in games and in drills. All of this is stimulating to the child and is possible only in the cottage home plan, for the reason that in the cottage home system the inmates are divided into groups, and not only can the individual in the group be more readily reached, but the whole group has an individuality of its own as distinguished from other groups, whereas in the barrack system there is a herd rather than a group. The difficulty of touching the individual life is increased and there is no group life whatever.

So much for the advantage of the cottage home system over the aggregate system. Now let us take up the possibility of developing that system in our present location. The cost of construction on our present location is just about the same as the cost of constructing at any point within the territory of the Greater New York. That is to say, if the institution decided to develop on the cottage home plan, it would cost no more to build cottages elsewhere than it would to build them on our present holdings of real estate. But in every other respect another location would be better fitted for the development of the cottage home plan than our present location. Our present buildings could not be remodeled into cottages and would be useless for the development of the institution on that plan. The area that we have unused is not sufficiently large to afford the room for play-ground, school buildings and cottages that would be needed, moreover, it would be divided by streets and avenues which would increase the inconvenience of the administration and would materially interfere with the home life. The object of the cottage home plan is to create a community of homes separated from the great whirl of the city, and as far removed from it as may be possible.

If we are to imitate the wise foresight of our predecessors in the directorate, it would seem that the proper location for this institution would be within the limits of the Greater New York, but at such a point as is not yet developed, where land can be bought for a few hundred dollars an acre and a sufficiently large area purchased to give the needed space for buildings, play-grounds and cultivated fields, and purchased, as far as may be, with such wise choice that while it serves properly the purposes of our institution for years to come as a site, the land itself shall gradually increase in value. This question, however, of gradual increase in value should be kept, in the opinion of your Committee, distinctly subordinate to the question of utility for the purpose of the institution. On a plot of one hundred or one hundred and fifty acres, either in the portion of the Greater City adjoining the Sound or on Long Island, or possibly in Richmond County, a site might be found, healthful and remote from the injurious influences of the city, where, for some fifty years to come at any rate, the work of the institution could be carried on without interference from the encroachments of population and yet quite as accessible as our present location was when it was first secured, and on such a site modern and well planned buildings could be erected for the use of the institution, including a central administration building and schools, surrounded by a number of cottages. If it were not deemed wise to move the whole institution at once, such a plot might be secured and the girls only placed in this new location, though a territory sufficient in extent might be secured ultimately to accommodate the boys as well. In such a move we should have the assurance of the cooperation of the State authorities, the President of the State Board of Charities having assured your President that they would most heartily approve such a course and would place at the service of the Board plans which they have already had prepared for cottage buildings, and that, in his judgment, by taking such step, the Juvenile Asylum would place itself in the very forefront of city institutions for the care of children.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Appendix C.

The Juvenile Asylum caused to be sent out a series of questions to various authorities on charitable institutions in the several States; the questions were as follows:

1. (a) Has your State any institution conducted on the cottage home system?

(b) If so, how many?

2. (a) Has your State any institution conducted on the congregate or barrack system?

(b) If so, how many?

3. Is the expense of the cottage home system greater or less than the congregate or barrack system?

4. Which do you prefer?

A very large number of replies have been received to these inquiries, which are, as far as possible, here condensed.

One reply has been received from the State of Alabama, from which it appears that the State has no institution for juveniles. No statistics are given, but a preference is expressed for the cottage system.

From the State of Arizona one reply was received, from which it appears that the State has no institution conducted on the cottage home plan, but one institution on the congregate plan; that the cottage system is, according to their opinion, less expensive and preferable.

One reply has been received from California, from which it appears that all of the institutions in the State are on the congregate system, but Dr. Osborne, the Superintendent of the State Home for the Feeble-Minded, writes that they "are arranging to break away from the congregate system and extend the institution by the cottage system. The expense of the cottage system is greater for administration, up to a certain proportion. We prefer the system, however, for very many reasons. The point in the case of all these people should be, not how cheaply can they be cared for, but how well."

Three replies have been received from Connecticut, from which it appears that the State has two institutions conducted on the cottage home system and one institution in which both systems have been tried. All the replies from the State indicate a preference for the cottage home system, but no estimate as to the comparative expense is given, for the reason that no data is at hand. Two of the writers, however, are inclined to believe that the cottage home system is the more expensive.

One reply is received from Colorado, from which it appears that one institution is conducted partially on the cottage home plan and six are conducted on the congregate system; that the expense is about the same, but the cottage home plan is preferred, and the Secretary of the State board of Charities and Corrections writes that "it is the wish of the Board that whenever practicable the cottage system be employed in the future."

One reply has been received from the District of Columbia but no information whatever is furnished, no institution being conducted in the District, and a bare statement of a preference for the cottage home system being made.

Two replies have been received from the State of Delaware, from which it appears that no institutions are conducted on the cottage home plan in Delaware, but all on the congregate, the institutions, however, being small institutions, so as to resemble cottage institutions in size. Both writers express a preference for the cottage home system.

One answer has been received from Florida. No statistics whatever are given, nor preference, no institution being conducted in the State.

Three replies have been received from the State of Indiana, which has two institutions conducted on the cottage home plan and two on the congregate. All of the writers are strongly in favor of the cottage home system, but express the judgment that it is slightly more expensive. Mr. Ernest Bicknell, Secretary of the State Board of Charities, writes of his preference for the cottage home system: "Its opportunities for ventilation, light, isolation in time of sickness, classification and training of children, and the maintenance of home-like surroundings and conditions are vastly superior."

Four replies have been received from the State of Iowa, from which it appears that there are two institutions in that state conducted on the cottage home system and that nothing but the penitentiaries and a home for feeble-minded children are conducted on the congregate system; the expense of the cottage home system is stated to be somewhat greater by two of the writers; another states that in his opinion there is very little difference, while the fourth expresses no opinion. The Superintendent of the Reform School gives it as his opinion that "the cottage home system is incomparable better," in which opinion the only other writer expressing an opinion seems to concur.

Three replies have been received from the State of Illinois, from which it appears that no institution supported by state funds is conducted on the cottage home system, but two others are conducted on that plan. There are a number conducted on the congregate system, but the definite number is not known. Two of the writers express the belief that the expense to run on the cottage system is greater, but they prefer that system. The third states that he prefers neither, but rather placing out with institutional care, as preparatory in occasional cases. Of course, he adds, the smaller the institution or cottage home the better.

One reply has been received from the State of Idaho from which it appears that none are conducted on the cottage home system and two on the congregate system, namely; the Insane Asylum and the Penitentiary. The writer regards the expense of the cottage home system as greater and expresses preference for the congregate as being just as efficient and less expensive.

One reply has been received from the State of Kansas from which it appears that one institution is conducted on the cottage home system and two on the congregate. A preference for the cottage home system is expressed, but no statistics, it is stated, are at hand to form a judgment as to expense.

Two replies have been received from the State of Kentucky from which it appears that no institution in that state is conducted on the cottage home plan and the Reform School is conducted on the congregate system; no judgment is expressed as to the relative merits of the system nor as to the expense.

Two replies have been received from the State of Louisiana, showing that it has no institutions on the cottage home system and two conducted on the congregate, one for the blind, the other for deaf and dumb. A decided preference is expressed for the cottage home system, but no statistics as to the expenses are furnished.

One reply has been received from the State of Montana from which it appears that no institution in that state is conducted on the cottage home plan and three on the congregate system. No judgment is expressed as to which system is preferred nor as to the comparative expense.

Three replies have been received from the State of Maryland from which it appears that no institutions in that state are conducted on the cottage home plan, several—number not specified—are conducted on the congregate plan. Mr. Joshua Levering, the only one of those writing stating a preference, states his preference for the cottage home system and his belief that the expense is greater.

Two replies have been received from the State of Missouri from one of which it appears that there are in the state four institutions on the cottage home plan, but none on the congregate. Mr. L. D. Drake, Superintendent of the State Reform School for Boys, at Boonville, states it as his belief that there is no material difference in expense and he emphatically prefers the cottage system.

One reply has been received from the State of Minnesota from which it appears that two are conducted on the cottage home plan—none on the congregate plan. The expense of the cottage home system is "probably somewhat greater, but in our judgment, the advantages fully compensate for the extra expense."

One reply has been received from the State of Maine from which it appears that there are two institutions in that state, wholly or partially conducted on the cottage plan, and that the State Reform School has a department conducted on the congregate plan. The assistant superintendent of the school, Mr. E. P. Wentworth, writes of the comparative expense of the cottage home system: "I think it is no greater as compared with congregate system of equal efficiency (I am speaking of institutions for boys)." He expresses a preference for the cottage system.

Three replies have been received from Massachusetts, from which it appears that there are two institutions in that state conducted on the cottage home system and several (number not specified) on the congregate system. The only two writers who express any preference, express it for the cottage system, and one of them, Mr. F. F. Chapin, superintendent of the school at Westboro, states it as his belief that the expense of the cottage system is greater.

One reply has been received from the State of Michigan, from which it appears that there are three institutions conducted on the cottage home plan and none on the congregate plan. No judgment is expressed as to the expense, but in expressing a preference for the cottage home system, Mr. L. C. Storrs, the secretary of the state board of charities and corrections, adds, "Can be little home feeling or training in the congregate system. Children become more institutionalized. Home surroundings, home training and homes outside, as soon as fitted for such, seem the natural order of things."

One reply has been received from the Province of Manitoba, Canada, from which it appears that there is but one institution there, and it is on the congregate plan, but a preference is expressed for the cottage system.

One reply has been received from the State of New Hampshire, from which it would appear that that state has no institution conducted on any plan and no preference is expressed for either and no judgment as to expense.

Two replies have been received from the State of New Jersey, from which it appears that there are two institutions in that state conducted on the cottage home system; and eight institutions on the congregate system; that the expense of the cottage home system is greater but is preferred by both writers.

One reply has been received from the State of North Carolina, but no statistics are given nor preference expressed, and the same is true of the State of North Dakota.

In the State of New York, Mr. Robert D. Hebbard, Secretary of the State Board of Charities, writes as to the expense and direct money outlay, the cottage system is undoubtedly the more expensive, but expresses a preference for that system. The other writer, Mr. E. M. Carpenter, Superintendent of the House of Refuge on Randall's Island, on the question of expense, refers to the forty-second annual report of our own Institution. The New York Juvenile Asylum, at pages 29 and 30, in which report he expresses the view that if the Juvenile Asylum were to be conducted on the cottage plan it would incur much greater expense, and that it was extremely improbable that the necessary men and women could be secured whose personal influence and instruction would be suited to the care of children such as we have.

Two replies from the State of Ohio show that there are two industrial schools conducted on the cottage home plan, a home for the orphans of soldiers and sailors and also a hospital for the insane; that some old asylums are conducted on the congregate system and also the penitentiaries, numbering altogether about seven institutions, and that there are also about forty-five county children's homes, a large per cent of which are on the cottage plan. That the expense is about the same. That the cottage home system is preferred by all means.

Two replies have been received from the Province of Ontario, Canada. One Mr. C. J. Atkinson states that there are in the province two institutions conducted on the cottage home system and two on the congregate, but the expense of the cottage home system is much less as conducted in this province, but that this is due to more economical management. He further expresses a preference for the cottage home system, stating that "there do not seem to be two opinions upon the question. The congregate system has no advocates. The two provincial institutions will undoubtedly be changed to cottage home systems as soon as practicable." The other reply, however, coming from the Rev. S. Cord, chaplain of the Ontario Reformatory at Penetang, while giving no statistics, expresses a preference for the congregate system, and says: "The congregate system as we have it here, with perfect night surveillance, is infinitely to be preferred to the cottage system."

One reply has been received from the State of Oregon, showing that there are no institutions in that state on the cottage home plan, but eight on the congregate plan, two under State control and six receiving aid. The writer, who is the secretary of the board of charities, gives it as his opinion that the expense of the cottage home system is greater, but expresses a preference for it.

Three replies have been received from the State of Rhode Island, from which it appears that there are in that state several institutions conducted on the cottage home system and two private charities on the congregate system. All three writers express decided preference for the cottage system. Two of them also express the judgment that the cottage home system is somewhat more expensive, one adding that the good done is vastly greater, and the third states that he is not able to give any opinion on the question of expense.

One reply has been received from South Dakota with no statistics of any kind, but in answer to the question, "Which system is preferred?" the writer, Mr. W. B. Sherraid, of Sioux Falls, replies: "Neither; we find that the Lord's way of caring for children is the best, and that He will provide for every homeless child in the land if asked to."

Two replies have been received from the State of Virginia, but no statistics or opinions are expressed, and the same is true as to the State of Vermont, from which one reply has been received.

A reply from the State of Utah shows that the Reform School there is conducted on the congregate plan, but while no statistics as to expense are given, a preference is expressed for the cottage system.

One reply from the State of Washington shows that that state has one reform school conducted on the cottage home system. No preference is expressed as to the two systems, but the judgment is given that the expense of the cottage home system should be greater.

Three replies have been received from the State of Wisconsin, from which it appears that there are two institutions in the state conducted on the cottage home system and six on the congregate system. One of the writers expresses the opinion that the expense of the cottage home system is a little greater, the other that it is not any more, certainly, and adds that the question of expense depends largely on other considerations. Both of these writers, one of whom is Mr. Wright, President of the National Conference of Charities, and the other, Mr. J. G. Hart, Superintendent of the Industrial School for Boys at Waukesha, express preference for the cottage system.

One reply from the State of Wyoming states no statistics or expresses any preference whatever.

Thirty-seven states and territories of the United States and two provinces of Canada have thus been canvassed and sixty-four replies received, of which three only are in favor of the congregate plan; a number express no opinion, and forty-one express a preference for the cottage home system. The replies as to the relative expenses of the two systems are indefinite and unsatisfactory.

Appendix D.

I.

THE PHILANTHROPIC SOCIETY'S FARM SCHOOL AT REDHILL, SURREY, ENGLAND.

A Reformatory School on the "Separate House System" for boys between the ages of 12 and 16 who have been previously convicted of a crime; certified by the Government for 300 boys.

The School buildings consist of five separate houses situated on a beautiful farm of about 300 acres. Each house, which accommodates 60 boys, is in charge of a master and his wife or sister and has two dormitories, one large schoolroom, a dining-room, kitchen, etc., as well as a separate playground of its own. There are several other detached buildings such as the warden's house, the chapel, infirmary, theatre, gymnasium, laundry and workshops where the boys are taught tailoring, shoemaking and carpentering.

The "Separate House" or "Redhill System" as it is sometimes called, is a partial remedy for the evils of aggregation, for the school is broken up into sections and classification is thus made not only possible but exceedingly easy.

The Redhill School, it will be observed, is practically composed of five small, separate and distinct schools, so complete is the isolation of each house and here, therefore, can be seen all the advantages without any of the disadvantages of both a small and a large school, for while the boys of the different houses rarely mix with each other, they do come together occasionally in the following ways:

1. Twice a week for battalion drill lasting one hour.
2. In the workshops.
3. In the chapel for daily morning prayer and on Sundays for the usual services.
4. For cricket matches and games on special occasions, the "Houses" playing against each other for medals, etc. A healthy public opinion which is said to be possible only in large schools is thus established.

The "Monitor System" works successfully, and there is also an excellent "Mark System" in force. The boys are fined for misconduct and rewarded for good conduct, a ledger account being opened for each boy. Mr. John Trevarthen, the secretary of the school, explained the system to me as follows:

Three months good conduct entitles a boy to 1d. per week.

Six months, 1d. per week and one badge.

Twelve months, 1½d. per week and one badge.

Eighteen months, 2d. per week and two badges.

Twenty-four months, 2½d. per week and two badges.

Thirty months, 3d. per week and three badges.

"Visits from friends will be permitted," he said, "every three months to boys who maintain their position on the good conduct list, but if not, only one visit is allowed once in six months. Every house which is free from reports for misconduct one month will be entitled to tea and cake on the Sunday evening ensuing. In the event of any absconding from a house, not only are these privileges forfeited, but the desertion expenses for the recovery of the boy fall on the 'House' to which he belongs."

A healthy rivalry is in this way maintained between the "Houses" and the captains, monitors and in fact all hands work hard to keep up the credit of their respective "Houses." A high standard of deportment is thus upheld and escapes very rarely occur, notwithstanding the fact that no watchmen or guards of any kind are employed.

Corporal punishment is resorted to in very few cases.

Elementary subjects are well taught.

The health of the inmates is good.

The boys present a fine, manly appearance and are in no way "institutionalized."

Net cost per head per annum, £23. 12s. 7d. This compares very favorably with the net cost per head per annum at the Feltham Industrial School, a description of which follows this, and with other schools likewise on the Barrack System.

Classification is not carried far enough at Redhill, the only classification being that boys 14 years and under are assigned to the same house, and the trade instruction is poor, but this is the case in all the reformatory and industrial schools in England as well as in the United States, with few exceptions.

The chief criticism, however, to be passed upon this school is that there are too many boys in each house. It would be far better if there were six or seven or even eight houses with only about forty in each house.

II.

FELTHAM INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL, FELTHAM, ENGLAND.

An Industrial School, on the "Barrack" system for boys of any age up to 14, whether previously convicted of crime or not; certified by the Government for 700 boys. "There were in this school March 31, 1897, 647 boys; of these 153 had been convicted of a felony," the remaining had been committed by the magistrates for begging or wandering or for associating with criminals. This institution resembles the New York Juvenile Asylum in that both classes of children, dependents and delinquents, are received.

The school buildings consist of one very large quadrangular building with court inside.

An attempt is made here, but an unsuccessful one, to alleviate the evils of the "Barrack" system by dividing the building into four sections. Each section has school rooms, dormitories and play ground, but one dining-room is made to answer for two sections. In addition to the main building there is a chapel, an infirmary and workshops.

If the division of this school was into 16 sections instead of 4, much more could be said in favor of the plan, that is, provided the sections were in any real sense separated from each other, which they are not. They are connected by long corridors, thus making one large building, and you have aggregation all the same. Very little, in any case, can be accomplished by means of sections when there are as many as 200 boys living in each one, and when there are only two dormitories to a section, which means, of course, that 100 boys are crowded into a single dormitory, and the health and character of every individual one of them put in jeopardy.

Classification under this system is practically impossible, and one can see here plainly enough the chief evils which come from large numbers in one building, namely, "aggregating together children of one type, so as to confirm that type, and the difficulty of giving to the children an adequate amount of individual attention."

The "Monitor System," for some reason or other, works badly, and the "Mark System" has fallen into disuse.

Number of punishments for year ending March 31, 1897, was 1,143; of these 334 were corporal.

Educational standard is good.

The health of the inmates only fair.

The boys did not present a good appearance and no one, I believe, who had the opportunity of viewing them which I had, would have had the slightest difficulty in agreeing with the conclusion of the Committee appointed by Local Government Board to inquire into "the existing system for the maintenance and education" of the Metropolitan Poor Law School Children, that children who are aggregated together in large numbers "have a tendency to become dull, sullen and mechanical."

The net cost per head per annum is £25 14s. 10d., very high indeed, not only when you compare it with Redhill, but also when you compare it with the cost per head per annum in such famous institutions as Dr. Barnardo's "Village Home for Girls," at Ilford, and Mr. Wm. Quarrier's "Orphan Homes of Scotland," both of which institutions are on the "Cottage Home System." "Each inmate of an Ilford cottage," Dr. Barnardo says, "cost only about £14 per head per annum, and she is brought up under circumstances and amidst influences of the most refining, natural and home-like character, whereas, in district schools on the 'barrack' system, maintenance is from £22 to £40 per annum, and the results are not for a moment to be compared with those which are attained on the 'Cottage Home System.'" At Mr. Quarrier's school the cost is even less, for the cost per head per annum there is only £12. Experience has proved that the "Cottage Home System," in very many cases, costs less than the "Barrack" or "Block" system.

There is absolutely no classification of any kind at the Felt-ham school. Boys of all ages and of every kind of character are to be found mixed together indiscriminately in the same section.

III.

DR. BARNARDO'S VILLAGE HOME FOR GIRLS AT ILFORD.

A home for destitute girls on the "Cottage Home System," uncertified.

The school buildings, situated in a beautiful park, consist of about fifty cottages, with accommodation for over 1,000 children, and other detached buildings, such as the school, the chapel, hospital, laundry and administration offices; total number of buildings, 56.

While there is a Governor over the whole Institution, each cottage is especially in charge of a foster-mother, who, with a family of 16 to 25 girls of all ages, constitutes an entirely distinct household, there being no intercourse of any kind with the neighboring cottages. The children of the different households meet only at school and in the chapel.

Every cottage has its own common sitting-room, dining-room, at least three dormitories, each of which is in charge of one of the older girls, bathroom, kitchen, etc., and the entire work of the house is done by the girls themselves, who are carefully trained by the foster-mother in all kinds of domestic work, and who, on account of the few who are under her care, is able also to bring a strong religious influence to bear upon each individual girl. Every girl receives a good elementary education in the school, and at 15 is taught laundry work, sewing, cooking and other useful arts.

The education received is equal to that in any of the public elementary schools of England.

The "Mark System" is about to be introduced.

The health of the girls is excellent.

No uniforms are worn and the girls presented a good and natural appearance. Occasionally slight corporal punishment.

Net cost per head, per annum, £14.

One is not surprised after visiting this school to learn from the Annual Report that the demand for the Ilford girls for service is ten times greater than the supply.

The "Cottage Home System," as here carried out, practically does away with all the evils which usually attend the aggregation of large numbers in one institution. The Home at Ilford, as is the case of other schools on the same system, is simply a collection of separate houses, a village with its school-house and its church, as near an approach to natural conditions as is possible, certainly in the case of an institution, and it is not surprising, therefore, that all the best known English authorities on "Child Saving," with the exception of a few who prefer the boarding-out system, agree in recommending the "Cottage Home System," as the very best for bringing up pauper and delinquent children. This is such a well known fact it would be simply a waste of time to enumerate them all. The committee appointed by the local government board in 1895 to enquire into the existing system of educating Poor Law school children in the Metropolitan district, and the departmental committee appointed by the Home Office to investigate the conditions of the reformatory and industrial schools of England and Scotland, pronounced, without qualification, in favor of this system, and both of these committees were made up of the best informed men and women on this subject in Great Britain.

Rev. W. Douglas Morrison, the greatest English penologist, and author of "Crime and Its Causes" and "Juvenile Offenders," expressed himself to me in a conversation I had the honor of having with him last summer as very strongly in favor of the "Cottage Home System," certainly, he said, for girls. For boys he thought the "Redhill System" might be made to answer, provided too many were not put in the same house.

Almost the only criticism which can be passed upon the school at Ilford is that in some of the cottages there are too many girls—16 is generally considered to be the maximum number which should be allowed.

Before passing to the consideration of the Orphan Homes of Scotland, an institution similar to that at Ilford, except that both boys and girls are admitted, I want to say just a word about Dr. Barnardo's Industrial Home for boys.

IV.

DR. BARNARDO'S INDUSTRIAL HOME FOR BOYS, AT 16 AND 18 STEPHNEY CAUSEWAY, LONDON, E. C.

A home for destitute boys between the ages of 13 and 16 years; uncertified.

That which interests one most here is the industrial training which the boys receive. The workshops are the finest in any school in England; but what is more to the point is, that the boys are in reality taught a trade. The following trades are well taught: Baker, engineer, brushmaker, printer, tinsmith, harnessmaker, matmaker, shoemaker, tailor, wheelwright, carpenter, blacksmith. The boys are regularly apprenticed to Dr. Barnardo, usually at about 13, and in three or four years are sent to Canada, where they most always do well.

The mark system in force is a remarkably successful one. The boys receive a certain per cent. of the market value of the work turned out by them, some earning as much as 18 pence a week—e. g., if mats made by one of the boys bring in open market 10s. he will receive 10d., that is 1d. for every shilling. One-quarter of this is retained until he is placed out.

V.

THE ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND, BRIDGE OF WEIR, NEAR GLASGOW.

A voluntary home on the "Cottage Home System" for orphans and destitute children, boys or girls, from 1 to 14 years of age, accommodates 1,200 in all.

The school buildings consist of 48 cottages and other detached houses, such as the school, infirmary, church, workshops and administration offices, all of which are situated in a park of 40 acres. Total number of buildings, 52.

As at Ilford, each cottage has a family of 30 boys or girls. A foster-mother, who is usually a widow or single woman, is in charge of each girls' cottage, while a married woman and her husband, one of the trade masters, is in charge of each boys' cottage.

The children are detained on an average of three years and then placed out, for the most part in Canada.

Not much importance is placed upon teaching trades.

No mark system in force.

Corporal punishment resorted to in rare cases.

The children receive a good elementary education.

Health of children is excellent.

No uniform is worn and the children look like any other children.

Cost per head per annum, £12.

Original cost of entire institution, concluding 86 acres of land, £150,000.

Mr. Wm. Quarrier, the General Superintendent and founder, is an ardent advocate of the "Cottage Home System." "Institutional life," he says, "is under any circumstances an evil, and if you can bring more home life to bear upon the children, then you will have the greatest results."

VI.

THE HACKNEY UNION POOR LAW SCHOOL AT BRENTWOOD.

A Poor Law School for pauper children, boys and girls, on the "Barrack System," accommodation for 500. I desire to pass over this School as silently as possible to the description of a very different institution at Hornchurch, only mentioning by the way, the highly significant fact that the hospitals or infirmaries, three in number, compare favorably in size with the main building, where the whole 500 children are stored.

HORNCHURCH COTTAGE HOMES, AT HORNCHURCH.

A Poor Law School, on the "Cottage Home System," for boys and girls of any age up to 16.

There are 11 cottages, each with accommodation for 30 children, besides a reception cottage, hospital cottage, convalescent cottage, superintendent's house, the school, workshops, etc. Total number of buildings, about 25.

Foster-Mothers in charge of girls' cottages, and a Foster-Mother and husband, who is usually a trade master, in charge of each boys' cottage. Every cottage has dining-room, sitting-room, kitchen, three dormitories and separate laundry. This idea of separate laundry is a great improvement, for reasons which are apparent, over one large laundry, with its numerous steam appliances, etc., such as exist at Ilford and Bridge of Weir.

The boys are taught trades, and, it is said, well taught. The girls are trained for domestic service.

This is an extremely well managed institution, and the Superintendent was loud in his praises of the "Cottage Home System" for both boys and girls.

I would like very much, indeed, to close this statement with an account of some other English schools, such as the "Stock-wall Orphanages," founded by Mr. Spurgeon, where the division of a school into "Sections" can be seen at its very best; the very interesting Day Industrial Schools, the latest English method of dealing with truants; and the School Board's Industrial School at Brentwood, where an excellent system of manual training has recently been introduced, but I fear I have already written far too much, so will forego that pleasure until another time. The statement has necessarily been more or less superficial, but I will gladly give fuller particulars in regard to each school, if called upon to do so.

JOHN SEELY WARD, JR.

Charter.

AN ACT to incorporate The New York Juvenile Asylum.

Passed June 30, 1851, three-fifths being present.

§ 3. The estate and concerns of said corporation shall be managed and conducted by a board of directors, of which board the mayor and president of the board of aldermen and assistants, and of the board of governors of the almshouse and prison department of the city of New York, for the time being, shall be ex-officio members, in addition to twenty-four other persons hereinafter provided for, which board of directors shall perform the duties required of them by virtue of this act, without any compensation for their services; and the twenty-four persons named in the first section of this act shall constitute a part of the first board of directors, and shall be divided by lot into three classes of eight each; and the first class shall hold their offices respectively until the second Monday in January, which shall be in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and the second class shall hold their offices respectively until the second Monday of January, which shall be in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four; and the third class shall hold their offices respectively until the second Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five.

To supply the vacancies occasioned by the expiration of the term of service of the eight directors, included in the first class, eight directors shall be elected on the second Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, by the members of the said corporation, that is, the directors and other such persons as may have contributed fifty dollars at any one time, or three dollars within the year, to the funds of said corporation. This election shall take place under the direction of three inspectors, to be appointed by the board of directors, and who shall give notice of the time and place of holding such election, by publishing the same in two daily newspapers in the city of New York, for at least two days next preceding said election. The term of office of the eight directors thus elected shall commence on the second Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and the said directors so elected shall hold their offices respectively for three years. Annually thereafter, there shall be elected in the same manner, the same number of eight directors, who shall enter upon and hold their offices for three years, as hereinabove provided in regard to the eight directors elected to fill the vacancies occasioned by the expiration of the term of office of the first class of said directors. The board of directors shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to fill all vacancies that may occur in their own body, from any cause whatever, and the person so elected to fill a vacancy shall hold his office for the unexpired term of his immediate predecessor in office.

§ 5. At all the meetings of the board of directors, eight members shall constitute a quorum, for the transaction of ordinary business; but no purchase or conveyance of real estate, nor removal from or appointment to office shall be made, without a quorum of at least thirteen directors.

§ 6. [Amended by section 1, chap. 547, Laws of 1863, to read as follows:] The corporation hereby created may, so soon as may be practical, procure suitable building sites and lands, and erect and maintain thereon an asylum for such children as, under this act, the regulations to be adopted by the board of directors, and the laws of the state and city of New York, may be entrusted or committed to the care and management of the said corporation; such asylum shall embrace the buildings necessary for the comfortable accommodation of the children therein; for their instruction, moral, intellectual and industrial; and for their general treatment in such manner as may best promote their welfare, and most fully accomplish the beneficent designs and objects of the said corporation; and, until such building sites and lands shall be procured, and the permanent building of the asylum thereon erected and completed for use, the corporation may procure such temporary accommodations as may be necessary for its purpose.

§ 7. [Amended by chap. 387, Laws of 1854, and further amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] The said corporation may receive under its care and management, children between the ages of seven and fourteen years belonging to the classes described in this section, and also, children under the age of seven years, belonging to said classes, who, in the judgment of the directors of said corporation, have special claims on its care. The persons herein intended are:

1. Such children as by the consent, in writing, of their parents and guardians, shall be voluntarily surrendered and entrusted to it.

2. Such children as may be committed to it by order of any magistrate or magistrates of the city and county of New York, under the ninth section of this act.

3. Truant children who may be committed to its charge by the order of any magistrate or magistrates under the thirteenth section of this act.

4. Children deserting their homes or disobedient to their parents or guardians, who may be committed to its charge by the order of any magistrate or magistrates under the fourteenth section of this act.

§ 8. Children entrusted to this corporation by the voluntary act of their parents or guardians, shall be deemed to be in the lawful charge and custody of the said corporation, and such surrender shall be evidenced by a writing, in form substantially as follows, viz.:

“I, A. B. (father, mother, or guardian, as the case may be), of C. D. (a boy or girl), aged years, born in do hereby surrender and entrust to the ‘New York Juvenile Asylum,’ for the period of years, the entire charge, management, and control of the said C. D., and do hereby assign to and invest the said corporation with the same powers and control over the said C. D., as those of which I am possessed.”

In presence of § 9. [Amended by chap. 387, Laws of 1864, to read as follows:] Whenever any child above the age of seven and under the age of fourteen years shall be brought by any policeman of the city of New York before the mayor or recorder, or any alderman or other magistrate of the said city, upon the allegation that such child was found in any way, street, highway, or public place in said city, in the circumstances of want and suffering or abandonment, exposure or neglect, or of beggary, specified or defined in the eighteenth section of the act entitled “An act relative to the powers of the common council of the city of New York and the police and criminal courts of said city,” passed January 23, 1833; and it shall be proved to the satisfaction of such magistrate, by competent testimony, that such child is embraced within the said section, and it shall further appear, to the satisfaction of such magistrate, by competent testimony, or by the examination of the child, that, by reason of the neglect, habitual drunkenness, or other vicious habits of the parents, or other lawful guardian of such child, it is a proper object for the care and instruction of this corporation, such magistrate, instead of committing such child to the almshouse of said city, or such other place, if any, as may have been provided by the common council thereof, in his discretion, by warrant in writing under his hand, may commit such child to this corporation, to be and remain under the guardianship of its directors, until therefrom discharged in manner prescribed by law; such commitment shall be by warrant, in substance as follows:

“To A. B., one of the policemen of the city of New York: You are hereby commanded to take charge of C. D., a child under the age of fourteen and above the age of seven years, who has been proved to me, by competent evidence, to be embraced within the eighteenth section of this act entitled ‘An act relative to the powers of the common council of the city of New York, and to police and criminal courts of said city,’ approved January 23, 1833, and who also appears, to my satisfaction, to be a proper object for the care and instruction of the corporation, created by an act entitled ‘An act to incorporate the New York Juvenile Asylum,’ passed June 30, 1851, and to deliver said child, without delay, to said corporation, at its House of Reception, in this city, and, for so doing, this shall be your sufficient warrant.

The same enactment in substance is contained in the New York City Consolidation Act, Laws of 1882, chap. 410, § 1608.

§ 10. Any order so made by any such magistrate, shall be executed by any policeman to whom it shall be delivered by the magistrate, by conveying the child therein named to the House of Reception to be established by this corporation, and such child shall be detained in such House of Reception until discharged or removed therefrom in the manner hereinafter provided.

§ 11. [Amended by chap. 387, Laws of 1854, and further amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] Immediately upon the making of any such order, the magistrate making the same shall deliver to a policeman of the city, especially detailed for that service, a notice in writing, addressed to the father of such child, if its father is still living, and resident within the city, and if not, then to its mother if she be living, and so resident, and if there be no father or mother of such child resident within the city, then addressed to the lawful guardian of such child, if any, or the persons with whom according to the examination of the child and the testimony, if any, received by such magistrate, such child shall reside, in which notice the party to whom the same is addressed shall be informed of the commitment of such child to the House of Reception of this corporation, and shall be notified that unless taken therefrom in the manner prescribed by law, within twenty days after the service of such notice, the child therein named will be and become the ward of this corporation.

Same section. [Further amended by chap. 57, Laws of 1856, sec. 2, by adding a provision which reads as follows:] Whenever after careful and diligent search and inquiry, the policeman, whose duty it was to serve the notice described in the eleventh section of the act hereby amended, shall not have found either the father, mother, legal guardian, or person with whom, according to the examination of the child, and the testimony, if any, received by such magistrate, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the House of Reception to cause the following notice, with the proper blanks inserted, to be posted up in a conspicuous place in the police station house nearest the alleged residence of the child, viz.:

Notice.—This is to certify that _____, a child of about the age of _____ years, _____ hair, eyes, _____ complexion, _____ in height, and said to be of _____ descent, was on the _____ day of _____, 18 _____, committed by _____ to the House of Reception of the New York Juvenile Asylum, No. _____ street, and that after careful search and inquiry made by _____, neither the parents, legal guardians, nor persons with whom said _____ is alleged to have resided, can be found.

SUPERINTENDENT.

New York, 18 _____.

And the posting of said notice, as above required, shall be deemed as equivalent to having duly served it on the parent, or guardian, or person with whom the child was alleged to have resided, in cases where they or either of them could be found.

§ 12. [Amended by chap. 387, Laws of 1854, and further amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] Such notice shall be served by the policeman detailed for that service, by delivering the same to the party to whom it shall have been addressed, personally, or by leaving it with some person of sufficient age at the place of residence or business of such party, and it shall be the duty of such policeman immediately to report the fact and the time and manner of such service to the magistrate, and enter, in a book to be provided for that purpose and kept at the House of Reception of the New York Juvenile Asylum, the fact of having served such notice, the time and manner of such service, and the fact thus recorded shall in all cases be presumptive evidence of the proper service of such notice. If the party to whom such notice shall have been addressed, or any other person, shall within the time herein specified, prove to the satisfaction of the magistrate issuing the same, that the circumstances of want or suffering, or other circumstances described in the eighteenth section of the aforesaid act, passed January 23, 1833, under which such child shall have been found, have not been occasioned by the habitual neglect or misconduct of the parents or lawful guardians of such child, then it shall be the duty of such magistrate, by order in writing, addressed to the superintendent of the House of Reception of this corporation, to direct such superintendent to deliver such child to the custody of the party named in such order, who shall thereupon be entitled to take such child from the said House of Reception. But if such proof shall not be produced within the time above described, such child shall be removed from the House of Reception to the Asylum; and whether such removal to the Asylum has taken place or not, the order of commitment by such magistrate shall be final, and he shall thereafter have no power to discharge such child from the House of Reception or from the Asylum, or in any manner from the care and custody of said corporation.

§ 13. [As amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] If any child, under the age of fourteen years, having sufficient bodily health and mental capacity to attend the public schools, shall be found wandering in the streets or lanes, or in any public place in the city of New York, idle, truant, or without any lawful occupation, any police magistrate or justice of the district courts in said city, on complaint thereof by any citizen on oath, shall cause such child to be brought before him for examination, and shall also cause the parent or guardian or master of such child, if she or he have any, to be notified to attend such examination. If, on such examination, the complaint shall be satisfactorily established, such magistrate or justice shall require the parent, guardian, or master to enter into an engagement in writing to the corporate authorities of said city, that he will restrain such child from so wandering about, will keep him or her on his own premises, or in some lawful occupation, and will cause such child to be sent to some school at least four months in each year, until he or she becomes fourteen years old. Such magistrate or justice as aforesaid may, in his discretion, require security for the faithful performance of such engagement. If such child has no parent, guardian, or master, or none can be found, or if such parent, guardian, or master refuse or neglect for twenty days to enter into such an engagement, and to give such security, if required, such magistrate or justice shall, by warrant under his hand, commit such child exclusively to this corporation. If the engagement provided for in this act shall be habitually or intentionally violated, such magistrate or justice shall, on complaint thereof, in the manner already described in this section, cause such child to be again brought before him for examination, with notice to the person by whom the engagement was made, or if such person cannot be found, or no longer has the custody of such child, then with notice to the person having the guardianship or control of such child, if any such person there be, to attend such examination, and if the complaint shall be satisfactorily established, the magistrate or justice as aforesaid shall, by warrant, commit such child exclusively to said corporation.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve the person who has so violated his engagement from the penalty prescribed by section second of chapter one hundred and eighty-five of the Laws of 1853, and the provisions of that section are extended to this act, as far as the same are applicable. It shall be the duty of every policeman of the police force in said city, who shall find any child in the condition herein described, to arrest and to bring such child before such magistrate or justice, to be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of this section. The Board of Metropolitan Police Commissioners are hereby authorized and required to make necessary and suitable regulations for carrying into effect the duty hereby imposed upon said policemen.

§ 14. [As amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] If any child in the city of New York, between the ages of seven and fourteen years, shall desert his home without sufficient cause, or shall keep company with dissolute or vicious persons, against the lawful command of his or her father, mother, guardian, or other person standing in the place of a parent, then, upon complaint upon oath by such parent, or other person standing in the relation of parent, any police magistrate or district justice of said city shall cause such child to be brought before himself, or any other magistrate or justice for examination. If such justice or magistrate be satisfied by competent testimony that such child is one of the class of persons described in the first clause of this section, he shall by warrant under his hand, commit such child, in his discretion, to the charge of this corporation. Nothing herein contained shall prevent proceedings from being taken under other statutory provisions applicable to the class of children described in this section. Persons committed under this and the preceding section shall be subjected to the same general treatment as other children committed to the charge of this corporation, or voluntarily entrusted to it.

§ 15. If any child, who has been previously arrested and delivered to the parent or guardian, as hereinbefore provided, shall again be found in either of the conditions described in the eighteenth section of the act aforesaid, the magistrate before whom such child is brought, upon proof thereof, may forthwith make a final order for committing such child to the care and instruction of this corporation, without giving the notice provided for in section eleventh of this act.

§ 16. If, at any time after a child shall have been committed to the said New York Juvenile Asylum, as above provided for in this act, it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the board of directors of the said Asylum that such child was, on insufficient cause, false or deficient testimony, or otherwise wrongfully or improvidently so committed, the said board of directors shall, on the application of the parents, guardian or other protector of such child, discharge the child from the said Asylum, and restore it to such parents, guardian, or protector; and also if after a child shall have been properly committed to the said New York Juvenile Asylum, by virtue and in pursuance of the provisions of this act, any circumstances should occur that, in the judgment of the board of directors of the said Asylum, would render expedient and proper a discharge of such child from the said Asylum, having a due regard to the welfare of the child, and the purposes of the Asylum, the said board of directors, on the application of the parents, guardian, or protector of such child, may, in their discretion, discharge the child from the said Asylum, and restore it to its parents, guardian, or protector, on such reasonable conditions as the said board of directors may deem right and proper.

§ 17. [As amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] The said corporation shall have power to return to the committing magistrate, or other proper authorities, to be disposed of in due course of law, any child whatsoever, who for any reason, in the judgment of the directors of said corporation, shall not be a proper subject for its care. It shall also have power to transfer such child to the custody of the Commissioners of Public Charities and Correction of the City and County of New York, or to any other incorporated public institution for the care of vagrant, homeless, orphan, or criminal children, and to make with such institution suitable and needful arrangements for the care, support, and education of such child. Said commissioners of such institution shall have power on their part to receive such child from the New York Juvenile Asylum, and to enter into the arrangements for the care, support, and education thereof heretofore specified in this section, anything in its Charter or the laws governing it to the contrary notwithstanding.

§ 18. [As amended by chap. 245, Laws of 1866, to read as follows:] The said corporation shall have power, in its discretion, to bind out or indenture as clerks or apprentices in this State, and also in any State of the United States which shall by its laws recognize the validity of such indentures, to some profession, trade, or employment, the children entrusted or committed to its charge, and for a shorter or longer period, not exceeding the age of twenty-one years for males, and eighteen years for females. It shall be the duty of all courts and magistrates, by whom any child shall be committed to the charge of this corporation, to ascertain the age of such child by such proof as may be in their power, and to insert such age in the order of commitment, and the age thus ascertained shall be deemed and taken to be the true age of such child. In case where the age of the child so committed is not so ascertained and inserted in the order of commitment, or where the child is voluntarily surrendered under the provisions of this act, the said corporation, or its Committee on Admissions, Indentures, and Discharges, shall, as soon as may be after such child is received by them, ascertain the age of such child by such proof as may be in their power, and cause the same to be entered in a book to be designated and kept by them for that purpose, and the age thus ascertained shall be deemed and taken to be the true age of the child. The Board of Directors of said corporation, or its Committee on Admissions, Indentures, and Discharges shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to such person or persons as may appear before such Board or Committee to give information touching the age of such child, or concerning the indenturing, discharge or transfer of children under this act.

§ 19. No person receiving an apprentice under the provisions of this act shall be at liberty to assign or transfer the indenture of apprenticeship, or to let out or hire for any period the services of such apprentice, without the consent in writing, of the directors of this corporation. In case the master of such apprentice shall be dissatisfied with his or her conduct or behavior, or for any other cause may desire to be relieved from said contract, upon application, the said directors may, in their discretion, cancel the said indenture of apprenticeship and resume the charge and management of the child so apprenticed, and shall have the same power and authority in regard to it as before the said indenture was made.

§ 20. If any master shall be guilty of any cruelty, misuseage, refusal or neglect to furnish necessary provisions or clothing, or any other violation of the terms of indenture or contract, toward any such child so bound to service, such child may make complaint thereof to the Board of Directors of this corporation, or to two justices of the peace of the county in which such child is so bound to service, or to the Mayor, Recorder, or Alderman in any city in which such child is bound to service, or to any two of them, who shall summon the parties before them, and examine into, hear and determine the said complaint; and, if upon such examination the said complaint shall appear well founded, they shall, by certificate under their hands, discharge such child from his obligation of service, and restore him or her to the charge and management of this corporation in the same manner and with like powers as before the indenture of such child.

§ 21. No person shall accept from any journeyman or apprentice, indentured as aforesaid, any contract or agreement, nor cause him or her to be bound by oath or otherwise during his or her term of service, that such journeyman or apprentice shall not set up his or her trade, profession or employment in any particular place, shop, or cellar; nor shall any person exact from any journeyman or apprentice, after his or her term of service is expired, any money or other thing for using or exercising his or her trade, profession or employment in any place.

§ 22. Every security given, contrary to the provisions contained in the last preceding section of this act, shall be void, and any money paid or valuable thing delivered for the consideration, in part or in whole, of any such agreement, or exaction, may be recovered back with interest, by the person paying the same; and every person accepting such agreement, causing such obligations to be entered into, or exacting money or other thing as aforesaid, shall forfeit one hundred dollars to the apprentice or journeyman from whom the same shall have been received.

§ 23. Upon the death of any master to whom any child may have been bound to service, under the provisions of this act, the executors or administrators of such master may, with the consent of the child so bound in service, signified in writing, acknowledged and approved by the Board of Directors of this corporation, assign the indenture or contract of such service to some other person, which assignment shall transfer to and vest in such assignee all the rights of the original master, and also make him subject to all his obligations.

§ 24. The Board of Directors of this corporation shall be the guardians of every child, bound or held for service, by virtue and in pursuance of the provisions of this act. They shall take care that the terms of the contract be faithfully fulfilled, and that such person be properly treated; and it is hereby made their special duty to inquire into the treatment of every such child, and redress any grievance in manner prescribed by law. And it shall be the duty of the master or his assignee, to whom any such child shall be bound to service, and he shall, by the terms of the indenture, be required, as often as once in every six months, to report to the said Board of Directors the conduct and behavior of the said apprentice or child so bound to service, and whether such apprentice is still living under the care of the person to whom he was originally bound, and, if not, where else he may be.

§ 25. [Amended by chap. 387, Laws of 1854, to read as follows:] The Board of Directors of the said corporation shall, on or before the fourth Monday in January, in each and every year, make a detailed report to the Legislature of the State and to the Common Council of the City of New York, of the whole number of children received into the Asylum during the year, specifying their sex, place of nativity, age, residence, health at the time of admission, state of education, religious instruction, whether their parents are living or dead, temperate or intemperate, the time devoted to instruction, the nature and amount of punishment, the cases of disease, the number apprenticed or who shall have escaped, died, or been restored to parents or guardians, or returned to the committing magistrate during the year, and also such information as they may have received of those who have been bound out or apprenticed, as well as the facts generally in relation to the performance of their duties, also their industrial occupations, with their results, the receipts and expenditures and financial condition of the corporation and its general operations, with their results.

old, or if a female, shall be eighteen years old; which binding shall be as effectual as if such child had bound himself with the consent of his father.

§ 6. The overseers of the poor of any town or city may, in like manner, bind out any such child who, or whose parent or parents shall become chargeable to such town or city, or who shall have been sent to any poorhouse other than a county poorhouse, with the consent in writing of any two justices of the peace of the town, or of the mayor, recorder and alderman of any city, or any two of them.

§ 7. write, and if a male, will cause him to be instructed in the general rules of arithmetic; and every such indenture shall also contain an agreement that the master will give such apprentice, at the expiration of his or her service, a new Bible.

§ 11. The counterpart of any indentures executed by the county superintendents of the poor shall be by them deposited in the office of the clerk of the county; and the counterpart of such indentures executed by any overseers of the poor, shall be by them deposited in the office of the clerk of their city or town.

§ 13. No contract made under the last section shall bind the servant, unless it be acknowledged by him before some mayor, recorder, or alderman of a city, or before some justice of the peace; nor unless a certificate of such acknowledgment, and that the same was made freely, on a private examination, be endorsed upon such contract.

CHAPTER 438, LAWS OF 1884.

AN ACT to revise and consolidate the statutes of the state relating to the custody and care of indigent and pauper children by orphan asylums and other charitable institutions.

§ 1. The guardianship of the person and the custody of any indigent child may be committed to any incorporated orphan asylum or other institution incorporated for the care of orphan, friendless, or destitute children, by an instrument in writing signed by the parents of such child, if both such parents shall then be living, or by the surviving parent, if either parent of such child be dead, or if either one of such parents shall have, for the period of six months then next preceding, abandoned such child, by the other of such parents, or if the father of such child shall have neglected to provide for his family during the six months next preceding, or if such child be a bastard, by the mother of such child; or if both parents of such child shall then be dead, by the guardian of the person of such child, legally appointed, with the approval of the court or officer which appointed such guardian to be entered of record; or if both parents of such child shall then be dead and no legal guardian of the person of such child shall have been appointed, and no guardian of such child shall have been appointed by a last will and testament, or by a deed by either parent thereof, or if the parent of such child shall have abandoned such child for the period of six months then next preceding, by the mayor of the city or by the county judge of the county in which such asylum or such other institution shall be located, upon such terms, for such time, and subject to such conditions as may be agreed upon by the parties to such written instrument. And such written instrument may provide for the absolute surrender of such child to such corporation. But no such corporation shall draw or receive money from public funds for the support of any such child committed under the provisions of this section, unless it shall have been determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that such child had no relative, parent, or guardian living, or that such relative, parent, or guardian, if living, is destitute and actually unable to contribute to the support of such child.

§ 2. It shall not be lawful for any county superintendent or overseer of the poor, board of charity or other officer, to send any child between the ages of two and sixteen years, as a pauper, to any county poor house or almshouse for support and care, or to detain any child between the ages of two and sixteen years in such poorhouse or almshouse; but such county superintendent, overseers of the poor, boards of charities, or other officers shall provide for such child or children in families, orphan asylums, hospitals, or other appropriate institutions, as provided by law. The boards of supervisors of the several counties of the State are hereby directed to take such action in the matter as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section. When any such child shall be so provided for or placed in any orphan asylum or such other institution, such child shall, when practicable, be so provided for or placed in such asylum or other institution as shall then be controlled by persons of the same religious faith as the parents of such child.

§ 3. All institutions, public or private, incorporated or not incorporated, for the reception of minors, whether as orphan, or as pauper, indigent, destitute, vagrant, disorderly, or delinquent persons, are hereby required to provide and keep a record in which shall be entered the date of reception, and the names and places of birth and residence, as nearly as the same can reasonably be ascertained, of all children admitted in such institutions, and how and by whom and for what cause such children shall be placed therein, and the names, residence, birthplace and religious denomination of the parents of such children so admitted, as nearly as the same can be reasonably ascertained; and whenever any such child shall leave such institution, the proper entry shall be made in such record, showing in what manner such child shall have been disposed of, and if apprenticed to or adopted by any person or family, or otherwise placed out at service or on trial, the name and place of residence of the person or head of the family to or with whom such child shall have been so apprenticed, adopted or otherwise placed out; and extracts from such record relating to such child which shall have been so admitted shall, within twenty-four hours after request thereof by any parent, relative or legal guardian of such child, of the secretary or other officer of such asylum or other institution, and an order of the Supreme Court to that effect, be given by such officer to such parent, relative or legal guardian. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent visitation by relatives and friends in accordance with the established rules of such institutions.

§ 4. While any child which shall have been placed in such asylum, or other institution, as a pauper, in pursuance of the second section of this act, shall remain therein at the expense of the county or town to which such pauper child is chargeable, the superintendents of the poor of such county, or the overseer of the poor of such town, may, in their discretion, remove such child from such asylum or other institution and place such child in some other such institution, or make such other disposition of such child as shall then be provided by law. The name of no such child shall be changed while in such institution as in this section aforesaid. But no parent of such pauper child, so in such asylum or other institution as in this section aforesaid, shall be entitled to the custody thereof except in pursuance of a judgment or order of a court or judicial officer of competent jurisdiction, adjudging or determining that the interests of such child will be promoted thereby and that such parent is fit, competent, and able to duly maintain, support and educate such child.

§ 5. Any corporation specified in the first section of this act may bind out any indigent or pauper child, if a male, for a period which shall not be beyond his twenty-first year, and if a female, for a period which shall not be beyond her eighteenth year, which shall have been absolutely surrendered to the care and custody of such corporation in pursuance of the provisions of the first section of this act, or which shall have been placed therein as a pauper in pursuance of the provisions of the second section of this act, or which shall have been left to the care of such corporation with no provision by the parent, relative, or legal guardian of such child, for its support for a period of one year then next preceding, to be a clerk, apprentice, or servant, by an indenture in writing, which shall be executed under seal and signed in the name of such corporation by such officer or officers thereof as shall be authorized by the directors or trustees thereof to sign such corporate name to such indentures, and shall be signed also by the person or persons to whom such child shall be so bound out, who shall, in such indenture, undertake to treat such child kindly, which binding shall be as effectual as if such child had bound himself or herself with the consent of his or her father. The provisions of sections eight, nine and ten of article first of title fourth of chapter eight of part second of the Revised Statutes shall apply to all cases of binding under this act.

§ 6. Should any such master or employer to whom any such child shall have been so bound out fail, at any time during the continuance of such apprenticeship, to provide suitable and proper board, lodging, and medical attendance, or fail to perform any of the provisions of said indenture, on his part, said apprentice individually, or any person on his behalf, may bring an action against said employer to recover damages sustained by reason of such failure; and if proved to the satisfaction of the Court, and the Court shall deem it a proper case, the Court shall direct said indentures to be cancelled, and may render a judgment against such employer not exceeding one thousand dollars, and said judgment shall be collected and paid over to the corporation which was a party to such indenture, to be used for the benefit of such minor as such corporation shall direct.

§ 7. Any child which a corporation specified in the first section of this act is, by the fifth section of this act, authorized to bind out, may be placed by such corporation, by adoption, with some suitable person or persons, by a written instrument of adoption, which shall be executed under seal and signed in the corporate name of such corporation by such officer or officers as shall be authorized by the directors or trustees thereof to sign such corporate name to such instruments, and which shall also be signed by the person or persons with whom such child shall be so placed by adoption, and if either of the persons so taking such child by adoption shall then have a husband or wife from whom such person is not lawfully separated, such instrument of adoption shall also be signed by such husband or wife. When practicable, all such children shall be indentured, bound out, and given for adoption to persons of the same religious faith as the parents of such child.

§ 8. Each person taking a child by adoption, in pursuance of this act, is hereinafter designated as the foster parent of such child, and such foster parent and such child shall, after such adoption sustain toward each other the legal relation of parent and child, and have all the rights and be subject to all the duties of that relation, excepting the right of inheritance, and except that as respects the passing and limiting over of real and personal property under and by deeds, conveyances, wills, devises and trusts, said child so adopted shall not be deemed to sustain the legal relation of child to either of its foster parents; and such instrument of adoption shall contain in substance the foregoing provisions of this section, and the further provisions that the foster parents of such child shall treat such child, in all respects, as their own child should be treated. Such instrument of adoption shall also contain as nearly as can reasonably be ascertained a statement of the age of such child, and the age as so stated shall be taken prima facie to be the true age without further proof thereof.

§ 9. Any child adopted in pursuance of the provision of this act may take the surname of its foster parents.

§ 10. If any child to be adopted or bound out in pursuance of this act shall be over twelve years of age prior to such binding out or adoption, such indenture or the instrument of adoption, as the case may be, may be also signed by said child.

§ 11. The parents of any child which shall have been adopted or bound out in pursuance of this act shall, from the time of such adoption or binding out, as the case may be, be relieved from all parental duties toward, and of all responsibility for, the child so bound out or adopted, and shall thereafter have no rights over or to the custody, services or earnings of such child.

§ 12. Any child which shall have been adopted in pursuance of the provisions of this act, or any corporation which shall have been a party to the agreement by which such child shall have been so adopted, or any person on behalf of such child may make an application to the Surrogate's Court of the county in which the foster parent of such child shall reside at the time of such application, for the cancellation of such agreement of adoption and for the termination of the relation of parent and child between such foster parent and adopted child, upon the ground of cruelty, misuse, refusal of necessary provisions or clothing, or inability to support, maintain, or educate such child, or of any violation of duty on the part of such foster parent toward such child; which application shall be by a petition setting forth the grounds of such application and duly verified by the person or by some officer of the corporation making the same. A citation shall thereupon be issued out of such Surrogate's Court, requiring such foster parent to show cause why such application should not be granted. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the issuing, contents, time and manner of service of citations issued out of Surrogate's Courts, and to the hearing upon the return thereof, and to enforcing the attendance of witnesses, and to all proceedings thereon, and to appeals from decrees of Surrogate's Court not inconsistent with this act, shall apply in cases of citations issued in pursuance of this act and to all proceedings had thereon. And such Surrogate's Court shall have jurisdiction to order and compel the production of the person or such child before such Surrogate's Court. In case such Surrogate's Court shall, upon the proofs adduced before him upon the hearing of such citation, determine that either of the aforesaid grounds for such application exist, and that the interests of such child will be promoted by granting such application, and that such foster parent has justly forfeited his rights to the custody and services of such child a decree shall be made and entered by such Surrogate's Court cancelling such agreement of adoption, and terminating the relation of parent and child between such foster parent and adopted child, which decree shall be valid, and effectual therefor; and thereupon the status of such child shall be the same as if no proceedings with reference thereto had been under this act. But after one such petition against any such foster parent shall have been denied, a citation upon a subsequent petition against the same foster parent may be issued or refused in the discretion of the Surrogate's Court to whom such subsequent petition shall be made.

§ 13. Any foster parent who shall have adopted any child in pursuance of this act may apply to the Surrogate's Court of the county in which such foster parent shall reside at the time of such application for the cancellation of the agreement for such adoption, and for the termination of the relation of parent and child between such foster parent and such adopted child upon the ground of the wilful desertion of such child from such foster parent, or of any misdemeanor, or ill-behavior of such child, which application shall be by petition stating the grounds of such application, and the substance of such agreement of adoption and duly verified by the petitioner, and thereupon a citation shall be issued out of such court directed to the said child and to the corporation which was a party to such agreement of adoption, or to the superintendent of the poor of such county in case such corporation shall not then be in existence, requiring them to show cause why such petition should not be granted. Unless such corporation shall appear upon the return of such citation, before the hearing thereon shall proceed, a special guardian shall be appointed by such court to protect the interests of such child in such proceeding, and such foster parent shall pay to such special guardian such sum as such court shall direct for the purpose of paying the fees of such special guardian and the necessary disbursements of such guardian in preparing for and contesting such application on behalf of such child. In case such surrogate shall determine, upon the proofs adduced before him upon the hearing on such citation, that such child has violated his duty toward such foster parent, and that, due regard being had both to the interests of such child and of such foster parent, the circumstances of the case require that such agreement of adoption be cancelled, and that such relation of parent and child shall be terminated, a decree shall be made and entered, accordingly, which shall be valid and effectual for that purpose; and such court may make any disposition of such child which any court or officer shall then be authorized to make of vagrant, truant, or disorderly children. If such surrogate shall otherwise determine, a decree shall be made and entered by said court denying such petition.

§ 14. The following acts and parts of acts heretofore passed by the legislature of the State are hereby repealed, to wit: chapter one hundred and fifty-nine of the laws of eighteen hundred and fifty-five; chapter sixty-one of the laws of eighteen hundred and fifty-seven; chapter four hundred and eleven of the laws of eighteen hundred and sixty-nine; chapter four hundred and thirty-one of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy; chapter five hundred and twenty-two of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-five; and sections one and two of chapter one hundred and twelve of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-eight. But the repeal of said act shall not affect the validity of any indentures of apprenticeship or other agreements executed before this act shall take effect, nor any action or proceedings which shall have been commenced in any court or before any officer before this act shall take effect.

§ 15. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 633, LAWS OF 1886.

AN ACT for the better preservation of the health of children in institutions.

Section 1. Every institution in this state incorporated for the express purpose of receiving or caring for orphans, vagrant or destitute children, or juvenile delinquents, excepting hospitals, shall have attached thereto a regular physician of its selection, duly licensed to practise under the laws of this state, and in good professional standing.

§ 2. The name of such physician and his address shall be posted and be kept posted conspicuously within such institution, near its main entrance.

§ 3. It shall be the duty of the officers of such institution, upon receiving any child therein, either upon commitment or otherwise, before admitting it to contact with any other of its inmates, to cause such child to be examined by said physician and a certificate in writing to be given by him, stating whether such child is apparently suffering from diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, whooping-cough, or any other contagious or infectious disease, especially of the eyes or skin, which might be communicated to the other inmates thereof. Such physician shall specify in such certificate the physical and mental condition of the child, the presence of any indication of hereditary or other constitutional disease, and also any deformity or abnormal condition which he may find upon examination to exist. Such certificates shall be kept by the officers of the institution filed with the commitment or other papers on record in the case, and no child shall be so admitted until after such certificate shall have been furnished as above provided.

§ 4. On receipt of such certificate the officers of such institution shall, on receiving such child, place it in strict quarantine thereafter from the other inmates of the institution until discharged therefrom by order of such physician, who shall thereupon endorse on such certificate the time such child has remained in quarantine and the date of such discharge therefrom.

§ 5. It shall be the duty of such physician at least once a month to thoroughly examine and inspect the entire institution and to report in writing, in such form as shall be approved by the State Board of Health, to the board of managers or directors of such institution, and also to the board of health within the district or place where the institution is situated, its condition, especially as to the plumbing, sinks, water-closets, urinals, privies, and dormitories, and also as to the physical condition of the children and the existence of any contagious or infectious diseases, especially of the eyes or skin, and as to their food, clothing, and cleanliness, and also whether the officers of such institution have provided proper and sufficient nurses, orderlies, and their attendants of proper capacity to attend to said children, to secure to them due and proper care and attention as to their personal cleanliness and health, together with such recommendations for the improvement thereof as he may deem proper. And it shall be the duty of such boards to immediately investigate any complaint, and if the same shall prove to be well founded, to remedy the evil without delay.

§ 6. No child suffering from any contagious or infectious disease, especially of the eyes or skin, shall be allowed to enter or remain in any such institution in contact with any children not so afflicted, unless it shall immediately be isolated or placed in a proper room or infirmary which shall be provided for that purpose by the officers of the institution under the direction of said physician.

§ 7. The beds in every dormitory in such institution shall be separated by a passage-way of not less than two feet horizontally, and all the beds shall be so arranged that under each of them the air shall freely circulate, and there be adequate ventilation. Every dormitory shall be provided with means of ventilation, as the board of health within the locality may prescribe. In the dormitories of such institutions, six hundred cubic feet of air space shall be provided and allowed for each bed or occupant, and no more beds or occupants shall be permitted than those provided in this way, unless free and adequate means of ventilation exist, approved by the local board of health, and a special permit in writing be granted therefor, specifying the number of beds or the cubic air space which shall, under special circumstances, be allowed.. Such permit shall be conspicuously posted and kept posted in each dormitory. It shall be the duty of the physician attached to any such institution to at once notify in writing the local board of health and the board of managers or directors of such institution, if the provisions of this section are at any time violated.

§ 8. The words "juvenile delinquents" in this act shall include all children whose commitment to an institution is provided for by the provisions of the penal code.

§ 9. Any person who shall wilfully refuse to comply with, or to discharge any duty imposed by this act, or who shall violate any provisions thereof, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 10. This act shall take effect on the first day of October, eighteen hundred and eighty-six.

PENAL CODE, SECTION 291.

Any child actually or apparently under the age of sixteen years who is found:

1. Begging or receiving or soliciting alms, in any manner or under any pretence, or gathering or picking rags, or collecting cigar stumps, bones or refuse from markets; or
2. Not having any home or other place of or proper guardianship; or has been abandoned or improperly exposed or neglected by its parents or other person or persons having it in charge; or being in a state of want or suffering; or

3. Destitute of means of support, being an orphan; or living or having lived with or in custody of a parent or guardian who has been sentenced to imprisonment for crime, or who has been convicted of a crime against the person of such child, or who has been adjudged an habitual criminal; or

4. Frequenting or being in the company of reputed thieves or prostitutes; or in reputed house of prostitution or assignation; or living in such house either with or without its parents or guardian; or being in concert saloons, dance houses, theatres, museums or other places of entertainment, or places where wine, malt or spirituous liquors are sold, without being in charge of its parents or guardian; or playing any game of chance or skill in any place wherein, or adjacent to which, any beer, ale, wine or liquor is sold or given away or being in any such place; or

5. Coming within any of the descriptions of children mentioned in section 292, must be arrested and brought before a proper court or magistrate who may commit the child to any incorporated charitable, reformatory or other institution, and, when practicable, to such as is governed by persons of the same religious faith as the parents of the child; or may make any disposition of the child such as now is or hereafter may be authorized in the cases of vagrants, truants, paupers or disorderly persons; but such commitments shall, so far as is practicable, be made to such charitable or reformatory institutions. Whenever any child shall be committed to an institution under this code, and the warrant of commitment shall so state, and it shall appear therefrom that either parent or any guardian or custodian of such child was present at the examination before such court or magistrate, or had such notice thereof as was by such court or magistrate deemed and adjudged sufficient, no further or other notice required by any local or special statute in regard to the committal of children to such institution, shall be necessary, and such commitment shall in all respects be sufficient to authorize such institution to receive and retain such child in its custody as herein directed.

Whenever any commitment of a child for any reason be adjudged or found defective, a new commitment of the child may be made or directed by the court or magistrate, as the welfare of the child may require. And no commitment of a child which shall recite therein the facts upon which it is based, shall be deemed invalid by reason of any omission of the court or magistrate by whom such commitment is made to file any documents, papers or proceedings relating thereto, or by reason of any limitation as to the age of the child committed, contained in the act or articles of incorporation of the institution to which it may have been committed.

6. Any magistrate having criminal jurisdiction may commit temporarily to an institution authorized by law to receive children on final commitment, and to have compensation therefor from the city or country authorities, any child under the age of sixteen years who is held for trial on criminal charge; and may, in like manner, so commit any such child held as a witness to appear on the trial of any criminal case, which institution shall thereupon receive the same and be entitled to the like compensation, proportionally therefor as on final commitment, but subject to the order of the court as to the time of detention and discharge of the child. Any such child convicted of any misdemeanor shall be finally committed to some such institution, and not to any prison or jail or penitentiary, longer than is necessary for its transfer thereto.

No child under restraint or conviction, actually or apparently under the age of sixteen years, shall be placed in any prison or place of confinement, or in any courtroom, or in any vehicle for transportation, in company with adults charged with or convicted of crime except in the presence of a proper official.

Extract from the Revised Statutes, Part 1, Chapter 18, Title 3 (2 R. S. 5th Ed., 596), as to the General Powers of Corporations.

Section 1. Every corporation, as such, has power—

1. To have succession, by its corporate name, for the period limited in its charter; and, when no period is limited, perpetually.

2. To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in any court of law or equity.

3. To make and use a common seal, and alter the same at pleasure.

4. To hold, purchase and convey such real and personal estate as the purposes of the corporation shall require, not exceeding the amount limited in its charter.

5. To appoint such subordinate officers and agents as the business of the corporation shall require, and to allow them a suitable compensation.

6. To make by-laws, not inconsistent with any existing law, for the management of its property, the regulation of its affairs, and for the transfer of its stock.

§ 2. The powers enumerated in the preceding section shall vest in every corporation that shall hereafter be created, although they may not be specified in its charter or in the act under which it shall be incorporated.

§ 3. In addition to the powers enumerated in the first section of this title and to those expressly given in its charter, or in the act under which it is or shall be incorporated, no corporation shall possess or exercise any corporate powers, except such as shall be necessary to the exercise of the powers so enumerated and given.

LAW OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS.

Confirming the Indentures of Apprentices made by the New York Juvenile Asylum to Citizens of the State of Illinois.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in General Assembly:

Section 1. Indentures for the apprenticeship of any minor, heretofore or hereafter made and executed between the New York Juvenile Asylum, corporation created by act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed June 30, 1851, and any citizen of this State, in substance form as provided by its act of incorporation, are hereby declared to be valid and binding: Provided, that in all such indentures hereafter made the said corporation shall have inserted the covenants for the benefit of the apprentice, which are required to be inserted in indentures of apprentices by the laws of this State.

At the same meeting there shall also be elected by ballot the following standing committees:

1. Finance.

They shall perform their appropriate duties under such rules and regulations as may be suggested by the Board, and make a monthly report of their doings. There shall also be an Executive Committee as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE V.

The President shall preside at all meetings of the corporation and Board of Directors, preserve order, decide questions of order subject to appeal, appoint special committees unless otherwise ordered, call special meetings of the Board of Directors, apply for and receive from the Comptroller all moneys due from the city to this corporation, and cause the same to be paid over to the Treasurer. The President shall be, ex-officio, a member of every standing committee. In case of the absence of the President, or his inability to perform these duties, the Vice-Presidents, in their order, shall assume them; and in case of their absence or inability, a President pro tem. shall be appointed by the Board.

ARTICLE VI.

The Secretary shall have charge of the Charter, Seal and Records, attend all meetings of the Board, and keep accurate minutes of its proceedings, which, when approved, shall be recorded. He shall file and preserve all reports and communications, notify the Directors two days previous to each meeting, and also notify all committees of their appointments, and the objects thereof.

The members of the Board shall have free access at all reasonable times to all the papers, books and records of the corporation.

ARTICLE VII.

The Treasurer shall have charge of and be responsible for all deeds, contracts and securities, and all moneys belonging to the corporation, from whatever source derived, and shall deposit the said moneys, and keep the same on deposit until properly disbursed, in such bank or trust company as may be ordered by the Directors; and the account thereof shall be kept in the name of "The New York Juvenile Asylum." He shall also keep a book, in which all receipts and disbursements shall be entered. No money shall be drawn out of the bank except on the check of the Treasurer countersigned by the President, or, in his absence or inability, by one of the Vice-Presidents, or President pro tem. The Treasurer shall, at each stated meeting, submit a concise exhibit of the funds and securities of the corporation, particularly stating the receipts and disbursements of the preceding month. The Treasurer shall be, ex-officio, a member of the Finance Committee.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Finance Committee.

The Finance Committee shall aid the Treasurer in managing the funds of the corporation. No bill shall be paid without their approval, unless otherwise ordered by the Board.

ARTICLE IX.

The Visiting Committee.

The Visiting Committee shall secure the weekly visitation both of the Asylum and the House of Reception, in all their departments, internally and externally, including the buildings and grounds. It shall especially acquaint itself with the health, education, employments, recreation, discipline, punishments, lodgings, rations, and general treatment of the children; also the manner in which the officers respectively discharge their duties.

ARTICLE X.

The Committee on Supplies.

The Committee on Supplies shall either make or authorize all purchases of provisions, stores and supplies of all kinds required for the Institution, including supplies for the farm and stable. The original and duplicate bills shall be sent with the goods, and be examined by the proper superintendent, and, if correct, he shall retain and file in a book to be kept for that purpose, one of such bills, and place his signature of approval on each bill; and of the first of each month each superintendent shall send the original of said bills, with a schedule thereof, and the pay-roll of wages, to the Committee on Supplies, who shall examine it, and if correct, affix on such original bill their signature of approval; and after entering the name, date, article and amount on their book of purchases, shall send the same to the Finance Committee for their order, to be paid by the Treasurer. When paid, said bills to be filed in such manner that they will be readily accessible for future reference.

ARTICLE XI.

The Committee on Admissions, Indentures and Discharges.

It shall be the duty of this committee to meet as often as once in two weeks, and examine the commitments and admissions of the children, and see that each child has been committed by a proper precept, or surrendered in due form, and is of legal age; and that no child has been discharged without the written authority of a magistrate, or of the Indenturing Committee. It shall cause inquiry to be made into the history, characters, learning and condition of the pupils, and see that such history, and a memorandum of such commitment or surrender, are recorded.

It shall also inquire into the character and fitness of all persons proposing to take an apprentice, decide on such applications, and execute all agreements of indenture, and procure and retain on file duplicates of the same, and also certificates of the filing or recording thereof, in the proper offices, whenever such filing or recording shall be necessary or proper under the laws of the State in which such apprentice relation may be contracted. It shall, moreover, keep itself advised of the state and condition of the pupils who are apprenticed, through a semi-annual correspondence (and oftener if necessary) with both master and apprentice, and with personal interviews when practicable. It shall decide on all applications for discharge, and shall cause a record to be kept of all children discharged or apprenticed, in such manner as to show the age of the child, the time and manner of its commitment or surrender, the time and manner of contracting the apprentice relation or of its discharge, where and with whom it may be indentured, and the condition of the child during each year of its minority while under indenture. And it shall have the power to do all matters and things in relation to the admissions, indentures and discharges of children which are by the Charter conferred upon the Board of Directors.

All transfers of children to other institutions under the provision of section six of the act of eighteen hundred and sixty-six, amending the Charter of this corporation shall be made by this committee, and all such transfers shall be signed by a member thereof duly authorized by the said committee, and also by some person duly authorized by the institution to whom the transfer is made. The said transfer shall be signed in duplicate, one copy hereof shall be in a bound book to be kept at the House of Reception, and the other shall be delivered to the institution receiving the child. Such transfer shall contain a full transcript from the blotter, kept at the House of Reception, of the entry made at the date of the commitment of the child, and also an undertaking on the part of the institution to whom such child may be transferred, to receive, educate, and care for him or her, according to the intent of the act above referred to. It shall be the duty of this committee to supervise and control the Western Agency in all its details.

ARTICLE XII.

The Committee on Buildings and Repairs.

The Committee on Buildings and Repairs shall have charge of the real estate, buildings, boilers and machinery and their connections. All plans and specifications for new work must be submitted to the Board for approval, and when ordered to be done, must be supervised by this committee. It shall have full power to make all ordinary repairs. Bills for work done or materials furnished must be rendered and duly certified before payment, and when paid must be filed in the same manner as directed by Article X. They shall keep, in a book, accounts with all persons with whom they contract or whom they may employ, and of all purchases made and of moneys ordered by them to be paid.

ARTICLE XIII.

The Executive Committee.

There shall be an Executive Committee, to consist of eight members; one of whom, with a substitute, shall be elected by each of the five Standing Committees, and two members to be appointed by the President, who shall be chairman of the committee. Said elections and appointments to be made as soon as possible after each annual meeting. Meetings shall be held whenever called by the chairman, or when requested by any two members in writing. Four members shall constitute a quorum. It shall have all the power and control of the management of the Institution and of the business affairs of the corporation, during the intermission of the meetings of the Board, and not delegated to any other committee; subject, however, to the approval of the Board.

ARTICLE XIV.

These by-laws may be amended or altered at any stated meeting, provided that notice of such proposed amendment or alteration has been given at a previous meeting, and that the Secretary has notified each Director of the nature of the proposed amendment, at least three days previous to said meeting.

No. 21.

IN SENATE,

FEBRUARY 4, 1902.

REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE

OF THE

State Hospital for the Treatment of Incipient Pulmonary Tuberculosis.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York:

Chapter 416 of the Laws of 1900 established a State hospital in some suitable locality in the Adirondacks for the treatment of incipient pulmonary tuberculosis. By paragraph 7 of section 4 of said act the trustees are directed to make to the Legislature in January of each year a detailed report of the results of their visits and inspection, with suitable suggestions and such other matter as may be required of them by the Governor, for the year ending on the 31st of December preceding the date of last report. While this provision of the act is undoubtedly intended to be a report of the hospital in active operation, yet the Board of Trustees of the hospital desire and beg herewith to place before you a report of what has taken place in connection with the institution since its incorporation.

In May, 1900, the following trustees were appointed: Howard Townsend, of New York city, for a term of five years; John H. Pryor, of Buffalo, for a term of four years; Willis G. Macdonald, of Albany, for a term of three years; Walter Jennings, of New York city, for a term of two years, and Frank E. Kendall, of Saranac Lake, for a term of one year.

In April, 1901, Walter Jennings, of New York city, resigned from the Board, and Norman S. Dike, of the Borough of Brooklyn, in the city of New York, was appointed in his place.

The report of last year gave to your honorable body a statement of what had been done in connection with the State Hospital for Tuberculosis up to January 1, 1901.

In April, 1901, by chapter 691 of the Laws of that year the sum of $100,000 was appropriated with the following provisions:

Section 4. No expenditures shall be made from appropriations under this act or from appropriations under chapter 416 of the Laws of 1900 until a determination of the proper location and site for suitable buildings has been made or approved by a commission composed of the Governor, the President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly, and their decision and the reasons therefor in writing filed with the Comptroller.

During the summer the Commission appointed by the above act visited and examined various sites in the Adirondacks, including Lake Clear, Ray Brook, Danpemora and White Lake. The Commission then conferred with your Board and requested it to make a visit to White Lake. At the request of the Commission the Board had previously presented to it in writing the reasons of its individual members for the selection of Ray Brook.

Finally, in December, 1901, the Commission approved as a site for the State Hospital, Ray Brook, already selected by this Board of Trustees, and filed a letter stating its reasons for such approval.

The contracts for the purchase of the property have been prepared, and it is hoped that the land will soon be acquired.

Out of the $50,000 appropriated at the session of 1900, $40,000 will be available for the construction of the hospital after payment of the purchase money for the site and of contingent expenses. The Board respectfully asks that this sum be reappropriated by this Legislature. The sum of $140,000 is therefore applicable to the construction of the hospital. Of this from $10,000 to $20,000 will be necessary for the furnishing and equipment of it. We have, therefore, the sum of $120,000 to $130,000 for all purposes. This is probably not sufficient to enable us to build with brick, but we can build a frame or brick veneer.

It is the earnest hope of the Board of Trustees that the work of the hospital buildings can be begun this spring and pushed through as rapidly as possible to a termination. It is our desire to see the hospital ready for use by January 1, 1903.

All of which is respectfully submitted to your honorable body.

HOWARD TOWNSEND,

President.

THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

New York Catholic Protectory.

NEW YORK, December 2, 1901.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New York, and to the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York:

The Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory have the honor to present their report for the year ending September 30, 1901.

		<hr/> 1,998

Remaining in the institution September 30, 1901... 2,545

We called attention last year to the great number of commitments for short periods. When the offense is committed for the first time, no criticism of the action of the magistrate is proper; but where the child has been a frequent offender, the practice can only work infinite damage. The Children's Court, which goes into operation on the 1st of January next, will, no doubt, do much to remedy this evil. The court having the previous record of the child at hand, would have little excuse for repeated commitments for slight offenses. The number of these commitments for periods less than three months was 556.

CADETS AT DRILL IN PLAYGROUND OF MAIN BUILDING.

On the 27th of October, 1900, we were notified by the Managers of the Brooklyn Disciplinary Training School that the board of health had ordered the removal of about one hundred and sixty boys from that institution because of an epidemic of fever, and the Protectory consented to receive them. Fortunately, we were able to accommodate them without serious inconvenience, and they were immediately transferred, and remained in our care until about the 1st of September last.

As the Managers received no encouragement that the supply of water furnished by the local company would be increased at an early date, they have caused improvements to be made in the artesian well of the male department and installed a powerful pump, so that at present we have an abundant quantity of water in all our buildings. It is, however, important that the Croton mains be extended to our vicinity at the earliest possible moment.

The supervisors of the county of Westchester visited the Protectory on the 14th of January and made a systematic examination of all the departments of the institution, and expressed their pleasure and satisfaction on the condition of their 190 wards in our charge.

The recommendations of His Excellency the Governor of the State in his message to the Legislature in January last regarding certain changes in the various State boards attracted general attention. The Managers of the Protectory, as citizens of New York, cordially approved of many of the suggestions of the Governor, but the proposed change in the composition of the State Board of Charities appeared to us very objectionable from every point of view. A board of 12 prominent and experienced men, selected by the Governor from different parts of the State, could hardly fail to be just and reasonable in their methods of supervision of the charities of the State; whereas, with a small board, constituted as proposed by the Governor, there was great possibility of friction. A committee of our board, consisting of six members, visited Albany and united with other associations in representations before a joint committee of the Legislature. The consideration given by the Governor and Legislature to the arguments adduced on that occasion was highly appreciated by our Managers.

Our attention was called to a bill introduced in the Legislature providing that a small institution in this city be added to those specified in the charter of Greater New York entitled to receive a portion of the School Fund. When the charter was revised in 1900 the provisions of sections 1152 and 1154 were retained. Naturally, the Managers of the Protectory could not understand why their institution and others of a similar character should be discriminated against in those sections; and on presenting our views to members of the Senate and Assembly from our city an amendment was introduced to section 1152 permitting the board of education to do justice in the distribution of the School Fund and to exercise supervision of the schools of the Protectory. What was our surprise to learn later that the Legislature had passed a special bill adding the small institution referred to to those named in sections 1152 and 1154. The amendment including the Protectory and other similar institutions was stricken out. It seems to us only just for the Legislature to revise those sections of the charter and place all institutions supporting private schools on the same basis.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated as usual, with interesting services in the presence of 300 guests, and on the 16th of October, on the occasion of the confirmation of nearly six hundred children by His Grace, Most Rev. Archbishop Corrigan, we had the pleasure of welcoming a large number of friends of the institution.

We were again called to participate in the National Conference of Charities and Correction. Mr. C. V. Fornes and the President attended at Washington the sessions of the conference from the 9th to the 15th of May. The second State conference has also been attended with much interest, and we have been happy to co-operate with its various committees.

The State Board of Charities inspected the male department on the 20th of June and the female department on the 18th of August. The Board has kindly furnished us with copies of the inspectors' reports, and the recommendations contained therein have had our careful attention.

The financial condition of the Protectory is somewhat more favorable than a year ago. However, we have not been the recipients of any considerable amount from friends or benefactors.

The question has been raised as to the propriety of receiving destitute and homeless children in the same institution to which children are committed for slight offenses. If those raising this question could study the dispositions of the children in the New York Catholic Protectory, and consider the classification which is practised, they would perhaps modify their views. Not wishing to draw the line as to where the ordinary destitute child of the city of New York becomes a delinquent, we assert that it is not the commitment of the magistrate which should decide the classification. The proper classification can only be made in the institution. Youthful offenders are not to be treated or defined in the same manner as adult offenders, who have learned by experience and contact with crime the real significance of their acts.

The Protectory is a home for neglected and badly trained children, whether designated as "Destitute" or "Delinquent"; their offenses are generally due to force of evil example and neglect of parents and guardians. It is not a place of punishment, but a home for the formation of character, to conquer by discipline, education and training, their evil dispositions, and to prepare them in every possible way for the duties of American citizenship. It may be noted here that boys committed to us as "Destitute" or "Homeless" under the age of eight years are sent to the female department, which is under the care of the Sisters of Charity. Could there be a more sure guarantee of their safety from evil associations? The boys at the male department are carefully classified according to their dispositions and the circumstances of their commitment. We have so many different classes and playgrounds that this separation is entirely practical and satisfactory.

The establishment of a house in the city where boys of the Protectory who are seeking employment or receiving small wages may temporarily live, which was recommended in our report of 1899, has been decided upon, and we hope to commence this work about the 1st of January next. May we not confidently appeal to the friends of the institution to aid us in extending this help, and in caring for numbers of homeless children who seek our protection?

We continue the placing out of children who have no relatives or friends to receive them, and provide for their supervision in their new homes. As is well known, the Protectory has from the time of its establishment placed out yearly large numbers of children; but in recent years we have endeavored to give more careful attention to their visitation. The Reverend Brother who has charge of this department has shown great zeal and intelligence in the work and deserves our cordial support in his unselfish efforts.

You will notice from the accompanying report of the Reverend Sister Superior, that the female department was visited by an outbreak of scarlet fever in October, 1900, which continued about six months. A total of 169 children were affected. The small number of fatalities bears the strongest testimony to the efficient nursing and care of the Reverend Sisters and the cleanliness and perfect order of the institution.

The Managers testified their regret on the retirement of Hon. Elbridge T. Gerry from the presidency of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children by resolutions duly presented on that occasion. Our relations with that society, with the State Board of Charities, the Commissioner of Charities and other officials, have been most cordial, and we appreciate their assistance so kindly rendered on various occasions.

Scarcely a year passes that we are not called upon to part with dear friends who have been identified with the institution, but the year 1901 has been exceptionally sorrowful in this regard.

Mr. James Rorke, a manager for several years, and previously identified with the charities of Brooklyn, died on the 2d of July. He was of genial and charitable disposition, and was ever ready to assist us with his good counsel.

Rev. Sister M. Anita, Superior of the female department, died on the 14th of August. A Sister of Charity for forty-five years—thirty-five years of her life were given to the service of this institution. Who can recount the deeds of this noble woman? Of gentle and retiring disposition, she was steadfast and affectionate in her treatment of the children. Her companions and friends and the children of the institution manifested their deep sorrow at her loss.

Resolutions of the Board of Managers, adopted on the occasion of the death of Mr. James Rorke and Rev. Sister M. Anita; are appended to this report.

The male department was called to mourn the loss of two noble Christian Brothers. Rev. Brother John, the vice-rector of the institution, died in the month of July, and Rev. Brother Immanuel, formerly sub-rector, died in October. They were able and devoted men and associated for many years with the work of the Protectory.

We submit herewith the statistical reports required by our charter, and the reports of the Reverend Brother Rector, Sister Superior, physicians, etc., which explain more particularly the condition of the institution.

It remains for us to extend to these co-workers, to the committees of the Board, and to all who have been associated in any way with the labors of the New York Catholic Protectory, sincere congratulations and thanks for their devotedness.

GEORGE B. ROBINSON,

President.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE MALE DEPARTMENT OF THE NEW YORK CATHOLIC PROTECTORY.

WESTCHESTER, N. Y., October 1, 1901.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory:

Gentlemen.—The work of the Protectory is a most important one, demanding specialized care, increasing vigilance and the continued application of sound and truthful principles.

Our aim during the past year has been the aim of the Protectory since its inception: To make our boys intelligent and to do all the good we can to those confided to our care. No human work is perfect. The Divine Master alone could say of His work, "All is finished."

The male department has received and discharged more boys during the past year than during any other period of its existence. The discharge of a large number after a very short residence creates considerable additional trouble, and unsettles more or less the progress of the boys in their study and manual training. However, while the boys are with us, we endeavor to do all the good we can in the short period they remain in the Protectory, by eradicating the evil and developing the good.

The basis of the teaching of the Protectory being religious, we are able to employ stronger and more vital methods than those utilized by merely ethical teaching. By the inculcation of religious principles, we show them their duties to their Creator, themselves and society.

From their entrance until their discharge, we endeavor to impress upon them that the object of their being in the Protectory is to become pure, upright, industrious and studious boys.

The various exercises of the time-table are so evenly distributed that they are constantly engaged, but always free from the point of fatigue.

Much recently has been said and written upon the great value of play and useful amusements. It has come to be recognized, that if we would help others to be good, we must try to make them happy.

The Protectory, being conducted by religious who have had experience in many lands, and whose entire lives are devoted to the care and training of the young, realizes the value of healthy play, and how much it adds to their happiness, thus rendering the best service to good discipline and promoting harmonious action throughout the school.

Much of the success which the institution has attained is due to the large place which amusement occupies in the daily life of the boys. The pent-up energy of the average boy must have a healthy outlet, and the most rational and pleasurable is play.

Prior to their coming here many of the boys, owing to their selfishness and ill-will, have brought upon themselves much trouble, and have experienced but little sympathy, and have assumed sometimes a harsh and sullen expression of countenance. One of the best means to renew brightness of disposition and awaken them to better thoughts, is to give ample opportunities for enjoyment. On the playground, the gymnasium or the athletic field, the true nature of the boy displays itself, and thus opportunity is given to study his character. The constant presence of a Brother ensures good order, while it in no wise limits their enjoyment, and enables us to study the disposition.

On the playground, in the rivalry of the games, the boy learns the valuable lesson of self-control. He is obliged to give and to take, and often to curb his temper and subdue his ardor. It is pleasant to see how willingly the boys give up a wheel, a bat, ball, or gloves to a companion.

The boys are extremely grateful to the members of the Board who have encouraged them in their games by offering prizes.

During the year the boys have given several entertainments, some of which were largely attended by the public. We consider these entertainments as being important agencies in training the boys and showing the public the efficiency they have attained in the institution. In each of these entertainments large numbers of boys take part.

The school work has demanded our serious attention. We are most anxious to have the boys acquire all the knowledge possible.

A large number of boys having received no previous training, it is not possible to do much with many of them, on account of the short period they remain in the institution.

The libraries have been liberally patronized and every encouragement is given to cultivate the reading habit.

The band, notwithstanding the continual loss of members, has been kept up to its usual state of efficiency. This demands a great amount of extra attention. The cultivation of music is considered of importance. Our chapel exercises are rendered very interesting and devotional by beautiful singing, accompanied by the magnificent organ.

A writer in "Munsey's" declares that the band of the Protectory stands in a class of itself—almost professional in its character.

It is frequently before the public in concert entertainments, parades and celebrations, and its music is always well received.

The Protectory having one of the largest manual industrial plants connected with any school in the country, is able to give a manual training which is of great value to the boys. We are always trying to perfect its workings, and thus render it of greater educational value.

Various improvements have been made during the year; several of the playgrounds have been newly asphalted.

Owing to your thoughtful consideration, we are able to keep the institution in good sanitary condition.

The erection of a new pump and the laying of several hundred feet of eight-inch water pipe has increased our water supply. Had we to depend entirely on the city for water, the institution would have suffered considerably, as did the people in the neighborhood, during the past year.

The dining-room is being gradually fitted with tables and chairs made in our own carpenter shop.

Death has removed from us Brother Bosonis John and Brother Immanuel, both of whom had been connected with the Protectory for many years, and who had endeavored to render themselves useful by their faithfulness to duty.

It gives me great pleasure to thank Mrs. Collis P. Huntington for the gift of six fine Holstein cows, which have added considerably to our milk supply.

Permit me, in closing this report, to thank you, gentlemen, for your zeal and attention to the needs of the institution, with whose interests you are so deeply identified.

To all who have aided in the work, of which there are many, I extend my grateful acknowledgment.

Respectfully,

BROTHER LEONTINE,

Rector.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTRESS OF THE FEMALE DEPARTMENT OF THE NEW YORK CATHOLIC PROTECTORY.

NEW YORK, October 1, 1901.

Protectory:*

Gentlemen.—The record of the past year is one of mingled joy and sorrow, prosperity and adversity, all working together, however, we trust, for the welfare of the institution in which we are so deeply interested. A benign Providence, we know, arranges all things for the best.

First among our sorrows came an epidemic of scarlet fever, beginning in October and lasting seven months. It included 169 cases, with four of diphtheria. The sufferers were at first transferred to the Willard Parker and Riverside Hospitals. Later, the premises having been examined by the board of health, it was permitted us to quarantine them within the bounds of the institution, ample accommodations and facilities being provided therefor. This was most satisfactory to us, as we much prefer to nurse the sick children ourselves. The deaths that occurred, three in number, were of subjects delicate and otherwise diseased.

We cannot dismiss this subject without adverting with deepest gratitude to the kindness and consideration shown us in our hour of trial by Dr. Talley, of the board of health, noting especially his prompt response to our calls. The constant vigilance and skillful care of our attending physician, Dr. R. A. Joyce, contributed greatly to lighten our labors and anxiety and to hasten the abatement of the epidemic.

Nor can we forget the great charity and attention extended to us by the physicians of the hospitals before mentioned, while our children remained there. Immediate and satisfactory responses to our frequent inquiries never failed to be given, thus allaying the fear and anxiety of many poor people.

Our next great and never-to-be-assuaged grief was the death, on August 14th, of our revered and beloved Superioress, Sister M. Anita. For more than thirty-five years her time and thoughts, her best energies and untiring labors had been given to this institution; and its present prosperous condition is in a great measure due to her quiet and unpretending, but undoubted, ability, experience and devotedness. We may truly say that she wore herself out in the service of the children.

It is pleasing to know that all this devotion on her part was fully reciprocated by those who had received her care. On the day of her funeral the tearful eyes, the reverent leave-taking, the kindly words of her old-time charges, all bespoke the truly filial affection of grateful hearts. Well may we apply to her the words of the inspired writer:

“Her children rose up and called her blessed.”

“The woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised.”

On that sad day we deeply appreciated the sympathy and respect shown by our honored President and the other gentlemen of the Board. In the midst of our sorrow their thoughtful kindness fell like a soothing balm upon our hearts.

And now to turn to other themes. As we close the year we find, in great contrast to its beginning, that the health of the children is all that could be desired. They enjoy plenty of outdoor exercise and are supplied with wholesome diet, including an abundance of fresh fruit and vegetables. Here we may mention also that during the past year we have been enabled to provide spring mattresses for all dormitories, which greatly contributes to health and comfort.

The industries continue to show favorable results. Glove-making has again become a notable feature; and in crocheting on fine underwear the little workers are growing very expert. The cooking school loses nothing in interest, and the girls show an increased desire to excel in domestic duties. This we regard as a very favorable symptom, as it prepares them for greater usefulness in their future life.

The various English classes, also those of kindergarten and stenography, are as satisfactory as could be expected—the education of the greater number of the children having been almost completely neglected before their admission into the institution. Sight-reading in singing continues to form an agreeable and refining subject of study.

With much pleasure we note also a desirable source of improvement in the frequent recourse to the well-filled and well-selected library, especially when the weather precludes outdoor amusement.

Several times during the year visits of inspection have been made by delegates of the State Board of Charities, and, we may happily add, with mutual satisfaction.

The placing out of children in homes is steadily carried on. Constant communication is kept up, by letters and visits on the part of the children and by visits of investigation made by the Sisters whenever practicable.

We have now to renew our thanks to our many friends and helpers, especially to our kind and zealous chaplains, Reverend Fathers D. P. O'Neill and J. J. Wilson; also to Dr. R. A. Joyce, attending physician; to Dr. C. O. Bradley, oculist, and to Dr. T. Carr, dentist, for their unwearied and successful service.

Of the thoughtful kindness and unvarying courtesy of the President and other members of the Board of Managers, especially when during the past year we so much needed their aid, we can never sufficiently express our grateful appreciation; but we pray that all may be returned to them and to our other benefactors in a hundredfold of blessings.

Respectfully yours,

SR. M. ANTONINUS.

The mortality given above is the lowest in some years. Of the four causes of death, but one—dysentery—was acute. This low death-rate is, to a considerable extent, the result of the effort made to prevent the residence of tuberculous children in the Protectory.

Tuberculosis in early life is much more common than is generally supposed. The disease is not always well marked or easily recognized. Many children have suffered from more or less destruction of one or both lungs, and recovering from the acute tubercular process, gain in strength and health, and the disease is held in abeyance. These cases often show no outward sign of consumption, and pass for healthy children, and so long as their surroundings are favorable and their general condition is kept up the disease is held in check and the subjects are virtually healthy. These may, with safety, be received by the institutions so long as they do not occupy dormitories in common with inmates free from tuberculosis. The element of contagion under such conditions is slight, if at all existent. But it is the opposite type of this disease that increases the death-rate of asylums and correctional institutions, and is a source of danger to the other inmates. These are the cases where puny children grow up with more or less advanced pulmonary tuberculosis. Heredity may have something to do with their condition—environment has more. Poor food, and likely but little of it; badly ventilated rooms in crowded tenements, where the former occupant may have died of consumption—this is often the start. The child is committed to an asylum or institution; he has well-developed tuberculosis. If admitted, he may recover, but it is more probable that he will die of the disease, and, through contagion, cause others to share his fate. The health law permits of his reception upon condition of segregation. But this is not always advisable or practicable. In justice to the inmates, he must be sent elsewhere.

There are a few homes and hospitals in New York and vicinity that receive and care for this class of patients, and in so doing perform, perhaps, the greatest charity done for the poor in New York. But their work is more in the way of alleviation than of cure.

There is an opportunity for a grand charity open to the public in the care of the consumptive poor—the most pitiable class in existence. Homes on the principle of the sanatoria of the Adirondacks and Sullivan county, but open to the destitute consumptive, offer the only practical relief in these cases.

The Montefiore Home of this city has established a home of this character in Westchester county. The efforts of public and health congresses are directed toward this end as a hygienic measure, and it is probable that their recommendations will eventually be adopted by the larger cities as a precautionary measure.

Dysentery broke out with greater severity the past summer than in five years. Every effort has been made to prevent the recurrence of this disease; but with the lack of sewers throughout this section—with the exception of the Protectory system and a very few small private sewers—contamination of the water supply has been almost inevitable. The thorough alteration and overhauling, during the past few months, of the reservoir from which water is distributed to the various buildings should, however, do much toward warding off another epidemic of dysentery. Should it appear necessary, filters, at a very moderate cost, may be added to complete the immunity.

The patience, earnestness and intelligent care of the sick upon the part of the infirmarian, Brother William, and his assistants merit the appreciation and gratitude of all associated with them in the work of the institution.

The Board of Managers of this institution deserve the highest praise for the care which they take of the poor little ones entrusted to them. Everything required for their comfort is supplied.

During the year a number of children were received who had a family history of tuberculosis; in some cases both parents being reported to have died of consumption. As those children manifested no physical symptoms of tubercular disease at their primary examination on reception, I did not feel justified in recommending their exclusion, nor did I suggest that they should be isolated.

It is now a well-established fact, recognized by most medical authorities, that pulmonary tuberculosis in its incipient or early stages, readily yields to proper hygienic and medical treatment. With this fact in mind, I have carefully examined throughout the year every child, so that in the event of my finding any pulmonary disease, where there was suspicious family history, ample measures might be taken both for the welfare of the patient and the safety of the inmates.

Passing ailments of trivial character, such as common colds, intestinal or stomach disorders, etc., are not taken cognizance of in the above lists.

Every child was vaccinated on the day of its admission, a separate needle being used in each case, and a report was promptly forwarded to the health department, which body supplied the necessary vaccine virus.

Perhaps at no time was there such an imperative necessity for vaccinating all newly committed children, prior to their being allowed to come in contact with those who were already inmates, as in the winter of 1901. At that time an alarming epidemic of smallpox was raging in the city, and a large proportion of those committed to the care of the Protectory came from the neighborhood where that dangerous disease was most prevalent.

When a child had contagious disease (especially of the eyes) at the time of its reception, notice to that effect was sent to the Superiors in both departments at Westchester, so that measures for isolation could be adopted without delay.

Very respectfully,

M. F. MOLONEY, M. D.,

Attending Physician.

REPORT OF THE OPHTHALMOLOGIST.

Protectory.*

Gentlemen.—The following is the report of the ophthalmological cases treated in the Male and Female Departments of the New York Catholic Protectory from October 1, 1900, to September 30, 1901:

MALE DEPARTMENT.

Blepharitis marginalis.....	3
Chalazion	15
Conjunctivitis (simple).....	86
Conjunctivitis (follicular).....	52
Conjunctivitis (phlyctenular).....	12
Hyphaema	1
Hordeolum	13
Iritis	2
Keratitis (phlyctenular).....	9
Keratitis (trachomatous).....	4
Keratitis (parenchymatous).....	1
Keratitis (traumatic).....	2
Strabismus (operation).....	2
Trachoma	204
Examination for refractive errors.....	41

During the year 215 of the children received from the city showed trachoma on admission. Of these, 53 were sent home within 15 days after admission, owing to the expiration of their short sentences.

For these, but little could be done in such a short space of time, so the parents of each child were notified of the presence of the disease, in order that it might be properly treated.

On October 1, 1900, there were 42 cases of trachoma in the institution; these, with the 162 retained of the new admissions, made a total of 204 treated during the year. Of these, 162 have been discharged cured, 48 having been of sufficient severity to require operations.

Conjunctivitis in its various forms was shown in 112 of the new admissions.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

Blepharitis marginalis.....	2
Conjunctivitis (simple).....	56
Conjunctivitis (follicular).....	15
Conjunctivitis (phlyctenular).....	25
Hordeolum	4
Iritis	1
Keratitis (phlyctenular).....	7
Keratitis (hypopyon).....	1
Purulent ophthalmia.....	1
Strabismus (operation).....	3
Trachoma	22
Examination for refractive errors.....	21

During the year eight of the children received from the city showed trachoma on admission.

On October 1, 1900, there were 14 cases of trachoma in the institution, making a total of 22 treated during the year. Of these, 10 have been discharged cured, 5 having required operations.

Conjunctivitis in its different forms was shown in 25 of the new admissions.

In the Male Department, 14.9 per cent. of the newly admitted children showed trachoma, and 9.1 per cent. some other form of eye disease, making a total of 24 per cent. showing external eye disease on entrance.

In the female department, 2.64 per cent. showed trachoma on entrance and 8.4 per cent. some other form of disease, making a total of 11 per cent. showing eye disease on entrance.

The percentages in the admissions to the male department, as compared with those of last year, are as follows:

1900. Trachoma, 18.5 per cent.; other diseases, 8.5 per cent.; total, 27 per cent.

1901. Trachoma, 14.9 per cent.; other diseases, 9.1 per cent.; total, 24 per cent.

The percentages in the admissions to the female department, as compared with those of last year, are as follows:

1900. Trachoma, 5.9 per cent.; other diseases, 7.1 per cent.; total, 13 per cent.

1901. Trachoma, 2.64 per cent.; other diseases, 8.4 per cent.; total, 11 per cent.

The same careful segregation is practised as formerly, each child having its separate towel and its own spigot of running water, no basins being used in the institution.

The cases after discharge from the eye pavilion are examined tri-weekly in view of a possible relapse.

Inspection of all the inmates is carried on regularly, as prescribed by law.

It is regrettable that an institution cannot be totally purged of contagious eye diseases. This could only be done by preventing the influx, which prevention would necessitate the establishment of a correctional institution maintained solely for the treatment of such diseases.

Taking into consideration the large number of children committed yearly to the many institutions of the city, and knowing that the percentages of eye disease in all of these institutions must be the same as those of the New York Catholic Protectory, such a correctional institution is to be devoutly hoped for. The same careful attention to hygiene and cleanliness is given by the reverend brothers and by the reverend sisters. I cannot too highly commend their painstaking, untiring assistance in the care of the ocular cases.

Respectfully submitted,

C. COLE BRADLEY, M. D.

REPORT OF THE SURGEON DENTIST OF THE MALE DEPARTMENT, NEW YORK CATHOLIC PROTECTORY.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., October 1, 1901.

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory:

Gentlemen—The following is the report of the dental cases occurring in the male department of the New York Catholic Protectory from October 1, 1900, to September 30, 1901:

Teeth extracted.....	1,238
Teeth filled with silver.....	28
Teeth filled with cement.....	18
Teeth regulated.....	121
Teeth treated.....	80
Teeth cleaned.....	20
Teeth examined.....	2,432

Every boy in the institution has had his mouth examined twice in the year, and every tooth that could be saved has been filled with the very best material. No pains have been spared to give them first-class work.

In the past year there has been less teeth requiring filling than in previous years. This may be due to several reasons. Special attention was given to the boys in the house of reception. Many of the boys when they arrive have their teeth in very bad condition, some with teeth decayed so much that it is impossible to extract them without surgical skill; which, by allowing such teeth to remain, would cause life-long trouble.

Parents and guardians evidently do not realize the need there is of having the teeth of children attended to during the years of growth and of the preventing of a great deal of future trouble and pain.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY J. TAFT, PH. LL. D. S.,

Attending Dentist.

REPORT OF THE "PLACING-OUT BUREAU."

To the President and Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory:

Gentlemen—At the close of the year it becomes my pleasant duty to lay before your honorable Board a few facts connected with this department.

I have canvassed several counties in New York State for homes for our young wards, and have found excellent families willing to take them.

Before placing a child in a family I study the particular requirements, and then, as far as possible, select the child to suit the home. When the child is placed an agreement is signed by which its welfare is secured.

The reverend pastors testify to the improvement in the behavior of the boys since they have been regularly visited.

The correspondence is increasing constantly. This is an important feature of the work and has effected much good among the children.

The accompanying statistics will more fully explain the detailed workings of this department.

The visiting list does not include the names of boys who have been discharged to their relatives directly from the Protectory.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED ON THE DEATH OF MR. JAMES RORKE.

At a special meeting of the Board of Managers, held on the 2d day of July, 1901, the President announced to the Board the death of Mr. James Rorke, and thereupon the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

The sudden death of Mr. James Rorke takes away from this Board a valued member who has for many years aided it by his sound judgment and wise advice; and we, his fellow members, appreciate deeply the loss this institution has sustained. We who have been in close association with Mr. Rorke during the time that he has been a manager of the Protectory, and who have recognized his amiable qualities, his genial disposition and his kindness of heart, feel deep sorrow on learning of the death of this cherished friend.

Resolved, That this Board tender to the family of Mr. Rorke sincere sympathy, that it attend the funeral in a body and that a copy of this resolution be engrossed and presented to his family.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED ON THE DEATH OF REV. SISTER M.
ANITA.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectory, held at its office on Thursday, September 5, 1901, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

On Wednesday, August 14, 1901, it pleased God to call to her reward Sister M. Anita, the Superior of the Female Department. It is fitting that a permanent memorial be made of the regret which the Board feels at the loss the institution has sustained.

Sister Anita was connected with the Protectory for thirty-five years, and for the last ten years was its Superior, and during all that period was eminent for her devotion to the religious community of which she was a member, and to the children of the Protectory, whose hearts she won by her kindness and her solicitude for their welfare. Even after they had been removed from her immediate supervision the children turned trustingly to her when met by the dangers and temptations of life, and never failed to meet a response from her motherly heart. Therefore be it

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be engrossed and placed in the Female Department of the Protectory and in the office of the institution, and that a monument be erected in the cemetery of the Protectory, where the remains of Sister Anita repose.

GEORGE B. ROBINSON,
President.

WILLIAM H. HURST,
Secretary.
